On his arrival at Harri s somewhat modified; and in his isst letter, dated at Hagerstown, Md. where h rsburgh, he write had just arrived from Char as follows: .

We met to-day with an intelligent Taylor demo-crat, the very species of a politician that we desired to encounter. Ho considers that Johnston is certain of an election, and that Taylor will get the State Wen. Bigler, the candidate of the anothern radiesi democracy for Governor, wis superseded by Long streth, and that has given great dissulfaction, as well as the Balimore doings, to the democracy of the northern counties. The Whigs will get a so largely in these counties, that—with the 8,000 or 8,000 majority they will get in Philadelphia city and county, they will carry the State. That, said he, in my doided conviction. The agressive policy, besides, of Polit and Cass has put me in the Taylor ranks, and the election will show that I do not stand along. We met to-day with an intelligent Taylor
