Our readers, we have no doubt, will agree with its that the official journal was engaged in a very small bonsiness when it undertook to mislead the public mind on this subject. Gen. Cass had received extra allowances—allowances beyond the growing the context and proper—very well. The official-paper could have shown them to be so—and there was an end. It was hardly necessary to bring Gen. Taylor into the affair, whose accounts with the Covernment have always been acruputously exact, and who has never received any extra allowances for any service whatever—although the country may be of the opinion that he has repeted services as great as those which Gen. Cass has performed "extra," and which have been paid for extra. Gen. Taylor's services will receive their just compensation at the hands of the people.

by two clergymen, twelve witnesses, and the various officials which the law allows. Religious services were held on the scaffold, and Bell himself addressed the spectators in an appropriate manner. At the close of a prayer by one of the attending clergymen, the scaffold dropped and Bell was suspended or about twenty minutes, and when he was taken down, life was extinct.

His body goes to the surgeons for dissection—At Bell's request, the Rev. Mr. Rowland will prach a fineral sermon in the Presbyterian Church on Sabbath evening. I wonder what kind of a sermon it will be. It is rather singular to preach a funeral sermon for one who has been hanged, but I imagine that the preacher knows what he is about, and wril at least have a crowded house. Brovise.

Mr. Corwin has asserted in some of his speeches in Ohio, that he has seen a letter establishing beyond contradiction the determination of General Taylor to sanction the Witmet Provise.

The "Columbus Statesman" of the 28th ult, states that, "In a speech to the Free Soilers, tast evening, Mr. Russell, of Harrison, a leading Whig member of the last Legislature, said that he had the word of Thomas Ewing that Mr. Corwin had assured him (Ewing) that he had the documents in his pocket to prove that Gen. Taylor went the Free Soil doctrine. Mr. Ewing had not seen the letter, but had the word of Corwin that it was in his possession."

Mr. Moore, of Bexley, Bassa County, Liberta Bexley is a small farming settlement on the St. John River, about six miles from its mouth. Several armers at that place have raised coffee, ginger and arrowroot for exportainion. The Hon. S A Bensoo, at Bassa Cove, near the mouth of the St. John, has lately sent over about 1400 lbs. of coffee from his farm.

Some have pronounced this coffee as good we mough it can hardly be expected to prove so on trial. It is very possible, too, that it may contain a mixture of several varieties, of which some may be better than others. Coffee is indigenous in Liberta, and the plantations are formed by guthering wild plants in their native Girests, where, it a quite possible, several varieties may be found.—Box. Traveller.
