BALTIMORE AND PITTSBURGH. The citizens of Baltimore having failed to secure a direct rail road route to Pittsburgh, principally, we believe, through the opposition of Hon. Louis rail road communication with this city, with an energy which promises full success. The American states that a meeting was held on Thursday evening, at the City Hotel, at which his Honor Esq., was Secretary, with a view to taking efficient measures for currying into completion the construc-tion of a direct railway connexion between that city and the Great Central Railroad of Pennsylva nia at Harrisburgh. Several important letters were read at the meeting from Mr. Watts, Presi-Yeager, President of the Harrisburg, Portsmouth, Mount Joy and Lancaster Railroad Companies, in which the most enlarged and liberal views of the

The meeting proceeded to appoint committees and the American remarks, that if the gentle a sufficient amount to build the road, the officers

When the Pennsylvania road is finished, Baltimore will thus be connected with Pittaburgh, by a rail road communication which can at all times compete with the Baltimore road at Wheeling, if it is ever finished, except in very low water. Balti-

POLITICAL RENERADER.—The following remarks from the Richmond Whig, are not inapplicable to this region, and must be very consolatory to some

The history of the Whig party is replete with instances of open desertion. The Locofocos on each fresh occasion have imitated the conductof the Mexicans, who are now making officers out of such of our common soldiers as they have been able to induce to abandon their colors. In the American army they would never have risen above the ranks, as the apostate Whigs would have been common soldiers still if they had remained in our ranks. It is a more pleasant thing, certainly, to be an officer, than to be a soldier, and where a man is a mere mercenary, wild fights for his pay, we are see sentoniand that he hould look out for the best paymaster. The child, who lifts, at morn and eve, In prayer, its tiny voice;
In prayer, its tiny voice;
Who grieves, wheue'er its parents grieve,
And joys when they rejoice;
In whose bright eye young Genius glows,
Whose heart, without a bot,
Is fresh and pure as summer's rose—
That child's a sunny spot.

There's yet, upon life's weary road,
One spot of brighter glow,
Where sorrow hath forgot its load,
And tears no longer flow;
Friendship may wither—love decline,
Our child his honor blot,
But still, undimned, that spot will shine—
Religion lights that spot.

For the Pittsburgh Gazetta KENYON COLLEGE, Nov. 11, 1848 At a meeting of the students of Kenyon College nd Senior Grammar School, held in the College Chapel, the following preamble and resolut vere unanimously adopted:

It might be superflowed to notice any thing so obvious if it were not that so many people in good circumstances with us, neglect this, and keep their child, rea immured in cursories, or cooped up in school rooms, with no thought of exercise in the open sir, as a daily requisite. We wish nothing so much for these benighted parents, as that they should once become acquisited with the habits and principles of a well ordered English numery. A reform in that quarter is much needed among us, and we know of no people so well shle to be our instructors as the English, who have certainly brought the universery system to great perfection, both as respects the comfort and advantage of the parents and children. admirable; the coloring was so natural; the disposi-tion of light and shade so effective as almost to

"Our minister Mr. Tod, who occupies the largest and finest private house in Rio, gave a magnifi-cant ball on the 29th ulto, to upwards of 400 per-sons, including all the Foreign and Cabinet Minis-ters and their families—about hall of the number at the ball were Brazilians, and the other half Ameri-cans and English. HE HAD REE THERE.—A very respectable look-lady stepped into a store on Washington street a few days ago, to buy a steel reticule; the clerk handed out a variety/of sorta, sizes and prices, sill of which the lady deliberately viewed, handled and commented upon; until stength having made her selection of a small one, at $2.50, she gave the clerk aten dollar note to deduct that amount; the clerk went to the deak, and returning, gave the lady her change.

ters and their families—about hall of the number at the ball were Brazilians, and the other half Americans and English.

Every thing passed off handsomely, and gave unusual satisfaction. Herectofore, the balls in Rio have been confined mostly to those speaking the same language. This was a happy exception, and has added to Mr. Tod's popularity with the Brazilians, which however was already well established. But notwithstanding his popularity and hospitality, you may rely upon it, the Government will not agree to pay him our claims. They never will do it untilize force them by sending a squedron to blockade Rio. Then, and not till then, they will settle the matter in 24 hours.

It is singular—it is worse—it is ridiculous, that our Government should quietly coax and beg for 20 or 30 years at a time, all the weak Governments who act towards us in bad faith, to repair the wrongs committed upon the persons and property of our citizens, whilst if England only crocks ber finger at us, we want to go to war right off. John Bull acts more sensibly, he makes all the inferior powers pay up, and only patiently negotiates with those who are accessible to arguments of right and justice. There is good hard sense in this course, and we ought to have good hard sense enough to profit by the example.

Wustor's Derraict, Pa.—The Bradford Argus "Why, here's but two dollars and a haif!" says ahe.

"Exactly, madam," replied the clerk.

"Well, but I gave you a ten dollar bill, sir."

"Frecusely madam," said the polite clerk.

"This bag, is two dollars and a half is it not!" says the lady, holding forth the purchased reticule.

"Two dollars and a half is the price, madam."

"Then why do you take out seven dollars and a half sir!"

"Why madam, this reticule is two dollars and a half—"
"Very well, sir," says the lady.
"And that one attached to your dress, beneath your cardinal, is five dollars more" said the complasmant clerk, raising up the lady's cardinal and displaying a very handsome steel bead reticule, there secreted. The lady became quite agitated, but the humane clerk, assured her it was all perfectly right—safter the colored man fell, and did not observe any other stone near the place. When the sitention of witness was first attracted, both parties were violismity throwing about their arma.

Capt. Jas. Parkinson, of the steamboat Atlantic, was next called. He said that deceased had been a porter on board his boat a short time ago, and that he had been discharged for refusing to put a man on shore, who was sick. (Here the Captain narrated a circumstance in the conduct of deceased, while porter on board his boat, tending to show the first of the office on Foorth street, opposite the Pittsburgh Bank. Office hours from 9 o'clock to 12 A M., and from 9 o'clock to 5 P.M.

When he threw the stone, thinks there was nothing in his other hand. The stone appeared to strike the chart of Mr. Black, sun could not as whether it hung him. Mr. Black was allowed back toward his black was in his usual pace. Saw the negro fall there was a considerable crowd. Should think that not more than two minutes elapsed from the throwing of the stone to the firing of the pitol—He evidently intended to throw the stone with all his might.

Peter Blackstone, a colored man, was the next witness. He said that he had entered his shop that morning about half past seven o'clock, at the corner of Cherry Alley and Water Street. Saw the two parties in conversation, but did not hear any alteration between them. His attention was called by a gentleman in the shop, but he paid no as ten to him, and immediately ran out, and saw then to him, and immediately ran out, and saw and black in the act of turning round, and shoving the his object.
