TO MY LITTLE BOY,
BY MRS HENRIETTA L. COLEMAN. I watched a rose, one lovely morn,
I arade berself a summer queen,
While by her side a bud, new born.
Lay locked in leaves of softest green,
As that fresh bud to beauty blew
That rose lost all its scent and lute
Alas I creed, that this should be!
For I thought, dear boy, of thee and me watched a parent bird that fed Training his duning many overnal day.

Training his duning wings to spread
And lightly did from spray to spray
Away—afar—I marked him soar,
Never to own fond guidance more
Can care and love thus wasted be?—
Sadly I thought of thee and me I watched the moon rise aweetly bright,

With one fair star that lay below.
Each lovelier shone from mutual light,
As hearts unlied gentler flow
Though moon and star in heaven divide
Time brings them over side by side Glorying I spoke, thus may it be' For I thought, dear boy, of thee and me
