agara—had the effect of creating considerable dear pondency in commercial circles, and the almost cutter suspension of extensive operations.

Cotton was dull, and prices receded fully 4d per lb. In the three days preceding the sailing of the steamer—more favorable accounts having been received from India—a reaction commenced, and at the time the Niagars sailed, every department of trade assumed a knore cheerful aspect.

The anticipated drain of buillion to the Continent has not heen realized.

The stock of Cotton at Liverpool was 458,000 bales of which 259,000 American.
