Tas Mescuer -- We have one little matter t settle with the Mercury, which we had not space yesterday, in relation to Proscription, the Mercury attempted to bolster up its marvellous statement—marvellous for a person who has any regard for truth and consistency to point at issue, and asks on what anthority we washington, all wrong. Our anthony is of the statement which the Mercury copied, greatly ersingle item of it by a correspondent in the Na-mal Intelligencer: Messe, Editor:—Having seen a statement in the "Union," professing to give the politics of those employed in the Departments at Washington, a regard for truth induces use to make a slight, cor-rection. Instead of ten White and Marty-few Democrati, its saided in the Union, there were mployed in the Past Office Department; at the time it, Johnson left it, forty-four Democratic and two Ving clorks. The general truth of the Union's statement may well inferred from the particular falsity that I

But even admitting that some few Whigs were d to hold office in Washington, where are the principles and practices of the Democrat-ic party to be inferred from this isolated example which occurs from a sort of necessity?

Let us survey a broader space. Were there Whig District—prior to the inauguration of Gen. Taylor? Were there any in Philadelphia, New Was there one Whig in all the country, out co Washington, who was permitted to retain an office worth having? Did Mr. Polk appoint one single Whig to office during his administration d our consulships, our chargeships, our embassies? Were they not, one and all, without a solitary exception, Locolocos? And yet, says Mercury, with an air of apparent sincerity

"Democrate hold proscription to be unjust an avil!" Is this knavery or is it fully! But even if Democratic practice had been less sweepingly proscriptive than it has, that would not justify the editor of the Mercury in his unions of the party, and of its presses have been di rectly the reverse. "To the victors belong the spoils" has become as much a portion of its creed as opposition to a National Bank. It is so note is opposition to a National mana. bor untenable, we quoted from the highest Democratic authority in this State, the general convention of the party, which, in different years passed resolutions in direct opposition to the ed s arsertion. This authority he cho ses to pass over lightly, but this will not answer. He cannot be permitted to get up his unsupported assertion against the highest authoritative opinions, and the knowedge of the whole community.

Many of the prisoners are mere boys.

So far the account of our observation and inquires has reference to the rioters and sufferers.—
The narratives from the morning papers give some account of the general operations of the authorites, civil and military. In conversation with several gentlemen, some of whom were present during the whole time, and others from their official stations are competent informants, we learn that not until
