Our Western Railroad.

The following letter to the editor of this paper, adds another to the many important reasons why Pittsburgh should prosecute her great Western Railroad with all the energy which can be brought to bear upon it:

MARION, Ohio, June 9, 1849.

Editor Pittsburgh Gazette:

DEAR SIR—It may be of some slight interest to some of your readers to know what the citizens of this county are doing in reference to the great Railway project which is at some future day to connect the important cities of Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, and St. Louis, by a thoroughfare extending through the interior of the States of Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, and Illinois. And, as you may be disposed to inquire what interest the people of this county can possibly have in that project, I will here state, that we, of Marion county, think we are in the very region through which this great thoroughfare should and will pass. The Charter of the Bellefontaine and Indiana Railroad Company authorizes the construction of a Railroad from the point where the Indianapolis and Bellefontaine Railroad (in course of construction by an Indiana Company) intersects the Ohio State line, to the town of Mansfield, by the way of Bellefontaine, Marion, &c., Mansfield being the most westerly point named in the charter of the Pennsylvania and Ohio Railroad Company. If you consult a large map of Ohio, you will perceive that our town lies almost upon a direct line from Mansfield to Bellefontaine—and consequently, upon the main, or back-bone route through the interior of the States of Ohio, Indiana, and Illinois. From our situation, therefore, and from the present resources of this county, to say nothing of those yet to be developed, we think we have a right to believe that the route spoken of through the same, making the county seat a point, must commend itself in an eminent degree, to the notice and consideration of those who shall have the power of deciding where, after it leaves Mansfield for the West, the same work shall be located.

But I commenced this letter chiefly for the purpose of giving you a brief account of a public meeting held in this place by the citizens of this county, on Wednesday last, (6th inst.,) to deliberate on this important subject. The meeting was very large, entirely filling our commodious Court room, and was characterized by a great deal of enthusiasm and zeal in behalf of the proposed improvement. Judge Thompson, President of the Bellefontaine and Indiana Railroad Company, and Wm. Lawrence, Esq., Secretary of the same company, were present, and delivered able and convincing addresses—after which, stock books being opened, our County Commissioners, in behalf of the county, came forward and subscribed the $100,000 of stock authorized by a vote of the county at the last Spring election, under a law of the last General Assembly. About $20,000 were subscribed at the same time by private individuals, all residing in this township, and this sum will undoubtedly be largely increased. Besides this, committees were appointed in every township to solicit subscriptions therein, and we look for liberal responses to their solicitations.

So you see that the citizens of Marion county are at last awake to their true interests and it is to be hoped they may continue awake and active in their efforts to further the great object they now have in view, until success shall have crowned their exertions, in securing the construction of this stupendous work through their midst, and insuring the highest degree of prosperity to themselves and their descendants for generations to come.

Respectfully, Yours,
S. A. GRISWOLD.

Marion is the county seat of Marion county, and lies in a South-west direction from Mansfield. It is the contemplated western terminus of the Ohio and Pennsylvania Railroad. Bellefontaine is the county seat of Logan county, and the Railroad from Cincinnati to Sandusky, on the Lake, now in successful operation, runs through it. The Indianapolis and Bellefontaine Railroad is intended to connect Indianapolis, and the interior of that State, with the Lake at Sandusky, by means of the intersection at Bellefontaine. Indianapolis is now connected by a Railroad with the Ohio river at Madison, and a Railroad is also constructing from Jefferson City, opposite Louisville to Columbus, in Indiana, a distance of 66 miles, where it will connect with the Madison and Indianapolis road. Twenty-seven miles of this road are nearly graded, and 1200 tons of T Rail have been contracted for, and will be laid down the coming fall.

Now let us see the Railroad facilities which will be offered to us, on the completion of our road to Mansfield, and its connection with Bellefontaine. 1st. It will connect with the Lake at Sandusky; 2d. With Indianapolis; 3d. With Madison, on the Ohio river; 4th. With Jefferson, on the Ohio river; 5th. With Cincinnati, from Bellefontaine. It will, also, by that time have Railroad connections with Cleveland and with Mount Vernon, Columbus, and Cincinnati. A more extensive net of Railroads never was offered to any company, as inducements to perseverance. For all these roads the Ohio and Pennsylvania Railroad will be the natural, direct, and best eastern outlet, and the amount of travel and business which must necessarily be poured upon it, can scarcely be computed.

By the letter of our correspondent above, our readers will see how in earnest the people of Ohio are about this matter. The people of Marion county do not wait for our slow movements, and until they are asked for aid to build a road, but they meet together and resolve to subscribe the stock, and present their claims to share in this great railroad enterprise. We say to them, for their encouragement, that twenty miles of our road, from Beaver to the State Line, will be put under contract next week, and the ground will be broken on the 20th inst., on the State Line, and that the remainder of the road, from Beaver to Pittsburgh, and from the State Line to Mansfield will be put under contract as fast as the Engineer can prepare it for that purpose. Let the people of Marion, therefore, prosecute their enterprise, and we promise speedy railroad intercourse with the Atlantic seaboard, at Philadelphia.

DEATH BY CHOLERA.—A young man named Lewis King, an intimate friend of Nicholas M. Kennedy, whose death was noticed a day or two ago, died of cholera on Thursday morning. He resided in the first house above the Sharpsburg Ferry. Two other persons, connections and friends of the deceased, are also ill of Cholera.

"The North British Review" for May, with an interesting table of contents (Leonard and Scott's reprint) has been received by M. P. Morse, 4th street, Pittsburgh, where it is for sale.

AMERICANS AT RIO.—Two Americans, for some indignities to the chief functionary of Rio, were recently sentenced to be hung, but our Consul interfering in their behalf, their sentence was commuted, and they were sent to the mines for ten years. The Americans were members of a party on their way to California, but their names are not mentioned. A letter to the Albany Argus gives the information.

THE NEW ORLEANS FORGERY CASE.—Madam Gallot, charged with having forged a $10,000 draft on Mr. A. Michoud, which she gave to her husband as his dowry, on the morning of her marriage, was fully committed for trial at New Orleans on the 4th inst. Mr. Michoud testified that he never uttered the note, and that it was a forgery, though he could not positively say whether the signature was his or not. The attorney for the State desired to introduce testimony to prove that she had published an advertisement just preceding her marriage, offering to point out a way for any good looking and intelligent young man to obtain a fortune, easier than by going to California. The court, however, decided that it was irrelevant.

FROM NEW YORK.

Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.

NEW YORK, June 13, 1849.

The arrival of the long expected storeship Lexington, with twelve hundred pounds of California gold, has given a topic of conversation, and directed the attention of people from the Cholera. The gold is to be taken to the mint at once, and will soon be in circulation. The effect of this arrival of gold has been to give an impulse to most kinds of stocks, which have sold at a handsome advance. Erie Railroad, new bonds, have advanced to 90, at which price one hundred thousand dollars' worth were bought for investment. Capital continues redundant, and good paper passes at 6 per cent. The rush of gold from the West continues, and the banks have an useless amount. The last London packet took $100,000, a fact that ordinary times would have given our bankers cause for alarm for a week.

Cholera varies in effect from day to day, and does not gain much in the number of victims.—Terror has made people cautious, and so great is the care shown about dirt, that the average mortality is less than last year. The deaths for the week are 409, of which 121 are from Cholera.

The number of strangers here was never less than now, or the business of the city more depressed.—The hotels are losing money at a season generally the most profitable, and things growing worse daily. Restaurant and oyster house property is at an enormous discount, and the oysters are left in a state of repose unusual in the history of that most common article of consumption.

From the Fourth Congressional District in Massachusetts, the returns look favorable for the election of the regular Whig candidate, Mr. Benjamin Thompson. His gain over Palfrey, if continued in all the towns, will make him sure, after a contest which has been tedious beyond all former experience.

The appointment of the Hon. Abbott Lawrence to the Court of St. James, meets the warmest approval, and is indeed an appropriate selection.—Our intercourse with Great Britain is now purely commercial, and no man more competent to take care of American interests than Mr. Lawrence, whose greatest praise is that he is a practical man. His great wealth will enable him to give the American Embassy a rank in the eyes of the thousands who care for such matters, corresponding to that of any English Court, and save the American traveller much mortification. Mr Everett was ever complaining of the great cost of house keeping to his visitors, and the coldest of all welcomes was extended. Mr. Bancroft is no better, and carries his economy still further. "Very chaste at forty shillings," will not be found locked upon a cheap shawl gracing the shoulders of Mrs. Lawrence, as was the case with another. We shall see a liberality of expenditure that will silence the many gossips, who have been so busy in days gone by.

People are beginning to agitate the question of connecting the Hudson River and Eastern Railroad with the docks of the city, so as to allow goods to be shipped without expense. The plan proposed is to lay rails down in Greenwich street, to connect with others in South street, which would leave goods at the head of all the docks on the East River. Hudson River Stock has gone up to 67½ or five per cent above the Erie, a state of things highly creditable to its managers.

The concert "a la musard," at Castle Garden, last night, was eminently successful, attracting over two thousand persons. The chief part of the audience was made up of Germans and Frenchmen, who, with their female companions, showed the Universal Yankee Nation what sort of amusement was given at the public balls in Europe. All danced and waltzed with hats and shawls on, but the scene was quite as attractive as the most fashionable exquisite could make it, with white kids and very low necked dresses.

In the market for breadstuffs, there is a good deal of activity. Common State Flour $4 56@$4 69, and Choice $4 69@$4 75, which is an advance on Saturday's prices. Good Wheat is scarce, and wanted. Ohio 100@103, and 127@128 is the rate for Genessee. Corn has improved slightly, with a fair business. Whiskey is quiet at former figures. Pork has risen slightly, with sales of Mess at $10 12½@$10 25; fair Lard 6½@6¾c, and Prime 6½@9c; Shoulders 4⅛@4¼c; Hams 5½c.

CHOLERA.

Specimens of Statistics furnished by Homeopathic, Eclectic Reformers, et omne genus.

Extract of a letter, published in the Pittsburgh Gazette, of Wednesday, under the head of "Statistical proofs of the success of Homeopathy in the treatment of cholera," dated August 6th, 1831, and written by Madam Lvoff" Yes; mind ye, by Madam Lvoff!!

"The dreadful cholera broke out last month in our own village, and its vicinity, with the greatest fury. My husband was the first person attacked, but, thanks to Homeopathia, was cured in a few days. From a desire to relieve the sufferings of humanity, he visited all the places in the neighborhood, wherever the disease raged the most; administered the remedies; instructed the priests and the elders in the use of them; and was whole weeks thus employed, while I remained at home occupied with the preparation of Homeopathic powders. Four hundred Cholera patients, saved and restored to perfect health, was the gratifying reward of his zeal, and the triumphant result of Homeopathic doses, liberally distributed to all who applied for them."

Now this is all very modest and benevolent on the part of some good old lady, that lived about 18 years ago, somewhere in Poland, we suppose. The following rich paragraph is taken from a communication, signed "an Eclectic Reformer," published in the Mercury of the 12th inst.:

"So far as it is known, every case here that has died has been attended by old school physicians, and it appears to be so both East and West.

"By the European Hospital reports, there appears to be not less than 70 deaths in the hundred, in this practice. This is a great mortality, while a different course of treatment will not average 5 per cent. This treatment is now to be had by all persons in his city, who choose to avail themselves of it. Dr. Beach, in New York, in 1832, treated about one thousand cases, and the deaths did not come up to 5 per cent. Dr. Wade, then in Pittsburgh, gave medicine to from 5 to 500 cases, in 1832 and '33, and without a single death. What was the report from those treated at the Hospital on the Hill and private practice? The grave yard alone will disclose the tale. Truly, 1832 was a gloomy time in Pittsburgh."

Such are the statistics and falsehoods pouring out from the press all over the country, by which so many ignorant and incredulous persons are deceived, and induced to commit their lives to the hands of unprincipled and brainless pretenders. It is often too late, alas, by the time the cheat is found out, and perhaps the impostor kicked out, to undo the mischief that has been done. The few and priceless hours are gone, and cannot be recalled, that should have been devoted to judicious, energetic, unremitted treatment, by a master workman in his profession. No sane man would trust himself in the hands of any other, when attacked by so formidable a disease as cholera. It is no time to tamper with infinitesimal doses of sugar of milk, or eclectic nostrums, or any other nostrums.

Who regards the opinions and statements of Madam Lvoff?

Who ever heard of Dr. Wade as a practitioner of medicine in Pittsburgh in 1832 and 1833?

Who ever heard of 500 cases of Cholera in Pittsburgh in both those years?

And yet this eclectic reformer, with an air of impudent mendacity, that would have brought the blush to the cheek of Dr. Braddee, in his palmiest days of imposture, states that "Dr. Wade, then in Pittsburgh, gave medicine to from five to eight hundred cases in 1832 and '33, and without a single death."

It must have been amusing to see this modest reformer smoothing down the muscles of his face, after penning the above sentence, and gravely adding—"Truly 1832 was a gloomy time in Pittsburgh."

Truly if the other forty doctors in practice at that time had each half as many patients as Dr. Wade, and sent them all to the grave yard, it must have been a gloomy time in Pittsburgh.

I should have thrown down the paper after reading the effusions of Madame Lvoff, and of this self styled reformer, simply exclaiming, as I have done a thousands times before,

"How the world is given to lying"

but I esteem it a matter of conscience and duty in these times of threatened danger, to warn the public not to be imposed upon by such barefaced falsehoods. Z.

OZONE,

Discovered by Professor Schonbein, the inventor of Gun Cotton.

It is generated by the passage of electricity through the air, and is the cause of the peculiar odor perceived during the working of an electrical machine, or after a stroke of lightning. It bleaches powerfully, and is in many respects analagous to Chlorine.

Ozone, it is said, may be readily generated by exposing common Phosphorus to moist air, and it is probable the peculiar smell of phosphorus arises partially or wholly from the presence of this substance.

The question has been asked, What is ozone? In answer we give the words of Berzelius: "We have thus arrived at the highly important result, that ozone is no peculiar element, nor any combination of known elements, but is oxigen gas peculiarly modified."

Souch has asserted that galvanized air, owing to the ozone it contains, can be used to advantage for bleaching, and is, in fact, one of the most effective bleaching agents known.

The Washington "Union" revives its old cry about "the alien and sedition laws of the elder Adams." The editors of the Union need not go so far back in our country's history in their search for alien and sedition laws. President Polk's lieutenant at Santa Fe, a year or two ago, backed by a military force, enacted and enforced a sedition law far more tyrannical and despotic than that passed under the administration of old John Adams, and the Santa Fe sedition law never called forth one word of condemnation, either from the President or from any of the Locofoco organs.

Only give the Locofoco leaders and demagogues the power and we should soon have sedition laws in force all over the country. It would be held treason and sedition to speak or to write a single word against the Locofoco party or its candidates.—Louisville Journal.

A primary meeting of the Allegheny County Agricultural Society, was held at Beatties School house, in Indiana Township, on the 11th of June, 1849, and was organized by appointing Mr. Jesse Garrard, Chairman, and Mr. John Garner Secretary.

It was then on motion, Resolved, that the Chairman read to the Society, the address of Messrs. Marks, Scott, and Fahnestock.

The Secretary on motion, read the Constitution.

Mr. Jonathan F. Garrard was then requested to address the Society, which he did in a very eloquent and appropriate manner.

On motion, the Secretary read the proceedings of the last meeting of the Society, held at Deer Creek. The thanks of the meeting were then tendered to the officers of the Society, and on motion it adjourned to meet at Sharpsburg, on Tuesday, the 12th inst., at 7 o'clock, P. M.

JESSE GARRAD, Pres't.
JOHN GARNER, Sec'y.

The following gentlemen compose the committees of their respective townships to distribute the address and constitution of the agricultural Society.

WASHINGTON NATIONAL MONUMENT.—The National Intelligencer contains letters from gentlemen of Virginia, Georgia, and South Carolina, tendering to the Board of Managers of the Washington Monument, blocks of marble and granite from these States to be placed in the monument. Mr. Robert L. Kent, on the part of the young men of Lynchburg, Va., proposes to send a block of granite from the summit of the Peaks of Otter, to be the cap stone of the noble structure. Mr Thomas L. Ross, on the part of the citizens of Macon, Georgia offers a block of brilliant white marble, from the mines of that State. Thomas Custes, D. D. of South Carolina, desires to furnish a block of Carolina marble. The blocks are to have the names of the States cut upon them.

TEXAS.—An arrival at New Orleans brings Galveston papers to the 30th ultimo. They are filled with account, of the depredations of Indians. Information had been received that the topographical corps, which had been sent out from San Antonio towards El Paso, to explore the route, and for whose safety some alarm had been felt, had returned safely, and reported a practicable road.

The Montreal papers publish the despatch of Earl Grey to Lord Elgin, conveying the Queen's entire approbation of his administration, her continued confidence in his wisdom and discretion, and her "anxious wish" that he should retain the office which, in his despatch, he had spoken of resigning. This, of course, cuts off all hope which the Canadians may have cherished, that Lord Elgin would be recalled, for it is not to be supposed that Sir Allen McNab's representations can effect any change in the sentiment or purposes of the British Government. Lord Elgin will hold his place — the taxes to pay rebellion losses will be levied, and we have no doubt they will be paid. There will be no outbreak—no rebellion—for the object sought is not worth such a struggle, nor would its issue be beyond contingency. The numerical strength in the provinces undoubtedly sustains the Governor's policy. Any appeal therefore, to the popular vote, or to popular strength, would probably be disastrous to the party now in opposition.

DAUPHIN COUNTY.—The Whigs of Dauphin were in county convention, at Harrisburgh, on the 12th instant, and nominated the following ticket:

Assembly—John B. Rutherford, Thomas Duncan.
Prothonotary—Stephen Miller
Treasurer—John J. Clyde
Delegates to the State Convention—John C. Kunkel, J. C. Bomberger.

The following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That by the selection of such men as Clayton, Meredith, Ewing, Collamer, and Preston, for his Cabinet advisers, by his appointments throughout the Union, and by his evident anxiety to anticipate on every occasion the popular wishes, General Zachary Taylor has evinced sound judgment, great sagacity and a grateful appreciation of a majority of the people.

Resolved, That General Taylor has done nothing but what the public interest demanded and his friends desired, in removing from office the mercenary editors and humbug orators of the Locofoco party.

Resolved, That in making these removals, Gen. Taylor has violated no pledges, but has simply vindicated the cause of good government, and done justice to worthy and intelligent citizens, who have been long excluded by unparalled Locofoco proscription from any share in the government patronage.

Resolved, That we have unabated confidence in the integrity and patriotism of General Taylor and his Cabinet, and that we look forward to the manhood of his Administration with high hopes for the country and its prosperity.

Resolved, That the wise suggestions, and practical plans of Governor Johnston, for the reduction of the State Debt, by the establishment of a Sinking Fund—the completion of our system of Internal Improvements—the re-issue of the Relief Notes—the payment of the State Debt—and the abolition of the annual Militia farce, unerringly indicate him as the "Pilot who can weather the storm" and make his Whig Administration an epoch in the annals of Pennsylvania.

Resolved, That the present value of State Stock—the recent premium loan to the Commonwealth—the praises of Pennsylvania extorted from even the aristocratic journals of England, prove that confidence in our people is restored—our credit once more good—and that, by Whig Statesmanship, the old Keystone is first among the glorious States of the confederacy.

Resolved, That we emphatically approve of the opinions of Governor Johnston in his annual Message, that the Tariff of '42 should be re-established, and Slavery prohibited in New Mexico and California, and we firmly believe that the prosperity of our State depends on the adoption of the former, and the peace of the nation on the adoption of the latter measure

Resolved, That the brazen-faced effrontery of some of the Locofoco leaders in charging on General Power, the Whig Canal Commissioner, extravagance and corruption in the management of the Public Works, when these works have constantly since 1835 been in the hands of the Locofocos, is an evidence that these men are as destitute of shame as they are of honor and honesty.

Wheeling is certainly making rapid strides towards becoming a city of considerable notoriety. We learned yesterday that sites had been selected within the limits of the city for the erection of two additional Rolling Mills and two Glass Houses, by companies possessing the necessary capital and enterprise to have them in operation during the present summer or coming fall. With these improvements, we shall then have erected in 1849, within the city limits, the following public buildings, viz Three large Rolling Mills, two Foundries, three Glass Works, a Female Seminary, four Ward Public School Houses, and two fine Churches. To these we might add, a bridge across the Ohio, one across Wheeling creek, and extensive Gas Works. The latter we hope to see finished some time during the winter or early next spring. We also learn, that during the present season, over one hundred and fifty private dwellings will be erected in the city.—Wheeling Gazette.

The officers of the steamer Tamerlane, down from the Missouri river, report that stream rising rapidly, and from indications it is supposed to be the annual June rise. Already the upper streams are full—almost to overflowing. The Tamerlane brought down two or three passengers from the Plains. They confirm the sad accounts that we have had relative to the progress of the California emigrants. The majority of them are advancing but lamely, and are almost daily meeting with disaster of some kind, in the shape of broken down wagons, and deaths from cholera, of which numbers are dying. They are often annoyed by the depredations of the Indians, having a considerable number of their mules and cattle stolen and driven off. The supply of forage, and of water on the route, it is believed, from all that could be learned, is abundant. The health of the towns and country generally along the Missouri river, is pretty good. The cholera having almost entirely disappeared.—St. Louis Union, June 7.

The Deceitful Coalition.

We extract the following remarks from an editorial article in the New York Tribune, on the late Coalition of Abolitionists and Locofocos in Vermont, and commend them to the attention of every reader:

"How comes it that the Loco Focos of Vermont, Wisconsin and Connecticut have all at once renounced the doctrines of their late leader Cass and taken ground in favor of the positive statutory prohibition of slavery in the Territories? How come they to take ground so heartily in favor of Land Reform and other Progressive measures? If this deference to the might of ideas were general, far be it from us to discredit it; but when we see it confined to those States wherein that party can have no rational hope of success save, through the aid of the Abolitionists, how can we help understanding it? It is manifestly the old trick—

'When the devil was sick, the devil a monk would be;'

but whenever he feels hearty and strong, he has no notion of it. Just across the Connecticut, in New Hampshire, the sham Democracy are strong enough to succeed without extraneous aid, and there we see no fraternizing, hear, no Land Reform professions. There the dominant party clearly detest a Van Buren Free Soiler far more than a Taylor Whig. Can any one fail to perceive the grounds of this discrepancy?

It is remarkable that the Vermont coalition preserve a studied silence with regard to the Tariff, and declare the old controversies respecting a National Bank, &c. completely at rest, so as to form no excuse for further division or demarcation.—What a marvel that this was never discovered by the Loco Foco party in any other State! Wherever a vote can be made by playing upon popular prejudices against a U. S. Bank, we have the old story annually repeated; but Vermont is to be carried only by the aid of those who were Whigs throughout the currency struggle, and there the Bank bugbear is unceremoniously hitched overboard! It is no longer "available!" The coalition load their craft very lightly, and are careful to take aboard as few reminiscences as possible.

The main reliance of this new combination is the averment that the present Administration favors the Extension of Slavery into the newly acquired Territories. This charge is sustained by no fact, and is contradicted by many. That the President and his Southern advisers would greatly prefer that the question should settle itself, and so obviate all pretexts for sectional distraction and alienation, we do not doubt; but that a single act of the New Administration has been impelled by a desire to extend the domain of slavery, we have seen no reason to believe, and do not believe. The President is plainly anxious so to discharge his duty as to merit the approbation of the whole American People, and thus far has done well. His one reprehensible act is the toleration extended to the fraud which made E. A. Hannegan a Plenipotentiary to Berlin after Mr. Polk's legal right to nominate had expired, and when there was no quorum of the Senate to confirm; and even that has been redeemed by the firmness with which he has resisted combination and importunity in making his own Diplomatic appointments, insisting on fitness as the first and controlling consideration. Gen. Taylor is no favorite with us, but we never doubted his honesty, and he has evinced higher qualities in office than we believed him possessed of.—And it does seem unfair that his Administration should be embarrassed at the outset by factious outcries against it at the North as too Southern while it is successfully assailed at the South as too Northern, as the Virginia Election demonstrates. If Vermont should now strike hands with Virginia in opposition, it would be to her sons a mortification, to the Country a misfortune. But we trust she will not so stultify herself."

Correspondence of the Baltimore Sun

WASHINGTON, June 12th, 1849.

The "Republic" is to appear to morrow. The Republic is not of the Red Republicanism, but of American Republicanism, as I gather from its prospectus, it professes a broad candor, a philosophical moderation, a disinterested independence, and a stern justice—and I have no doubt that its accomplished editors will use every effort to bring it up to that almost superhuman standard. If it maintains the principles of the Allison letters, of the Louisiana platform, and of the Inaugural address it will come about as near to the standard of "the just made perfect," as can be expected from mere mortality.

I learn to day that the Republic has already been employed as a vehicle of the publication of the laws. This will alone impart to it the odor of officiality, though without its profit. It is not destined, I trust, to wield the broken sceptre, and I cannot but believe that it will, ere long, receive from the Government the same substantial marks of confidence and favor that it has already received from the American public.

I learn that the president of the Washington Monument Association, Hon. E. Whittlesey has declined receiving any compensation for his services as president, since his appointment as first comptroller of the treasury, though he continues to lend his aid and countenance to the great object of the association.

Yours, &c. ION.

When the Administration came into power there was not a Whig in the thirty Foreign Missions maintained by the United States, not a Whig filling the office of Marshal, District Attorney, Collector, Naval Officer, Inspector, Receiver of Public Moneys, Register, &c.; not a Whig filling a Post Office the emoluments of which were worthy the attention of a Democratic partisan, certainly not filling an office of the class which requires the incumbent to pass the ordeal of the Senate. At Washington, two Auditors whose whole adult lives have been spent in office, and whose knowledge of the peculiar duties of their bureaus rendered their retention desirable, have been successively spared by Jackson, Van Buren, and Polk, as monuments of Democratic liberality, though, in fact, constituting, under the circumstances, exceptions which go to prove that proscription is the rule. A few subordinate clerks, buried in their respective spheres, and malcontents called Whigs by those who wished to get their places, escaped also the hurricane.—The last and least of Democratic Presidents turned out every Whig he could and his worst enemies, among his own party, cannot accuse him of ever appointing one to an office which a Democrat could be found to fill. Speaking generally, we may say with truth, that all the offices of the country were considered as beyond the reach of the Whigs, as much so as if they were constitutionally ineligible. A Whig would have stood a better chance of receiving an Executive appointment at the hands of the Emperor of Russia or the Grand Sultan than at the hands of James K. Polk, the President of the Democratic Party.—Lynchburg Virginian.

COL. BENTON'S SPEECH.—The Baltimore American, speaking of Mr Benton's speech, says.

A public man was never more thoroughly prostrated than is Mr. Calhoun under the resistless and conclusive blows dealt him by the unsparing hand of Benton—blows which carry with them the weight of facts, and which are given with such thorough good will that no part of their full force is lost.

PROGRESS OF DEATH.—Horrors accumulate in the West. Famine and disease are sweeping away the people in myriads. The Protestant clergy, joined by the Roman Catholic, implore aid for their miserable flocks; the gentry and middle-classes are fast sinking to the lowest level, some affluent people bear the appeals on behalf of the utterly destitute, but their donations are instantly swallowed up, while the cries continue for "more," "more," and death seems the only certain means of relief. A writer in the Freeman's Journal says. "On my way here I called at Ballinasloe, Loughrea and Galway. The first mentioned town I found a vast hospital, having 12 or 14 auxiliary Poor-Houses. They are situated in every part of the town, consequently you cannot go to any District without coming in contact with a Cholera Hospital. A person from Ahascragh, a small town about five miles from Ballinasloe, contracted for the supplying of coffins for that Union, and such has been the demand for the last month, that he employed 40 men sawing boards and 20 nailing them together. Notwithstanding that number constantly at work, (even on Sundays,) the Guardians had to engage an additional contractor. With their united exertions, and the numerous staff employed by them, they are scarcely able to keep a sufficient number ready. Many of your readers can have no idea of the description of coffins they are. The boards are nailed together in the same way boxes containing yellow soap are sent to the country by the Liverpool manufacturer, but not with as much care (without planing or painting) You can judge what number 70 or 80 men would prepare daily."

FORKS INFANTRY

Elizabeth, June 13, '49.—d&wtdT

DERANGEMENT OF THE LIVER, is one of the most common, as well as the most formidable diseases known to American physicians. It has in no case failed to attract the closest attention from the Faculty in all quarters of the Union. Still, however, thousands annually perish, and thousands more are made to feel life burdensome by this disease. The proprietors of M'Lane's Liver Pills feel confident that they offer to the afflicted a remedy which time has tested, and has never failed of success when a fair trial has been given it. Call and purchase a box at the Drug Store of ju14:d&wS J KIDD & CO

NEW BOOKS—Irving—The Crayon Miscellany—comprising The Prairie, Abbotsford, Newstead Abbey. Complete in one volume—elegantly printed.

Curzon—The Monasteries of the Levant. Post 8vo; illustrated.

A volume of more than ordinary interest, relating a series of most curious and often amusing adventure. * * * The field occupied by the volume is almost entirely new.—Commercial Advertiser.

A book of gentlemanly, liberal, scholarly interest, which reminds us not a little of Beckford's Spanish Excursions, or the vivid eastern reminiscences of Eothen.—Literary World.

Cooper—(New edition of early works.)—The Spy, revised, &c., with new introduction and notes. Complete in 1 vol. Uniform with Irving's works. $1,25

The Spy and the Sketch-Book were the first American books which were universally acknowledged to contain a performance as well as a promise. We well remember the enthusiasm with which they were received, and the proud expectations which they awakened among the liberal minded abroad and the patriotic at home. Irving was soon allowed a seat by the side of Goldsmith and Addison, and Cooper was translated in every country of the continent where any interest was felt in a foreign literature.—Literary World. Facts for the Public,

In relation to that unrivalled family Salve,

DALLEY'S MAGICAL PAIN EXTRACTOR.

TESTIMONY of a respectable Physician.—Read the following, addressed to my Agent, Mr. F. Merryweather, Cincinnati

CINCINNATI, Feb. 19, 1849.

SIR: A sense of duty compels me to give my tribute to Dalley's Pain Extractor. Being opposed to quackery and all nostrums having for their object sinister motives—but realising much good from the "King of Pain Killers"—I am induced to tender you this certificate. I have used it in my family, in my practice, and with all the happy and wonderful effects that could possibly be imagined. H. J. BRODIE, M. D.

Dr. Brodie is the senior partner of Brodie & Levi, Druggists.

Inflammatory Rheumatism.

The following testimonial comes from a source familiar to many of those traveling on our Western waters. Mr. Glime, the well and favorably known proprietor of the Parkersburg Hotel, is husband to the lady whose letter I annex:

PARKERSBURG, Va., April 13, 1849.

To Henry Dalley, Chemist, &c.—Sir: Having formerly been long afflicted with violent inflammatory Rheumatism which appeared so firmly seated as to defy all ordinary appliances to allay the severe pain attending it, I was induced to try your Magical Pain Extractor; and it having effected, almost as if by magic, an immediate relief, and also, to all appearances an entire and perfect cure, I am induced for the benefit of others who may be afflicted with pain, caused by any kind of inflammation, to write to you, declaring that in my opinion, founded on actual experience, your Magical Pain Extractor is the most valuable discovery of the present age for the immediate extraction of bodily pain. It is an almost immediate and a perfect cure for Burns and Scalds, and all external inflammation.

Having many acquaintances formed by their visits at my husband's hotel in this place, I have supposed by your showing them these few lines, it may possibly be of benefit both to them and yourself.

ELIZABETH GLIME.

[I entertain the hope that Mrs. Glime will pardon the publicity I give to her letter, as well on the score of humanity as of its being the surest mode of bringing it to the notice of her friends.—H. DALLEY.]

Felon Cured.

Extract of a letter, dated BELMONT, Ky. Nov. 29, 1848.

Mr. H Dalley—"I have tried your Pain Extractor in a case of felon, in my own family, which it relieved and cured in a very short time." In haste, yours respectfully, JAS. M. YOUNG.

☞ Burns and Scalds, Piles, Sore Nipples, Broken Breast, Eruptions, Sores, Cuts, Wounds, and all inflammation, yields readily to the wonderful properties of this unrivalled family salve. But, in the same proportion that you will receive benefit from the genuine, you will be injured by the deleterious effects of the counterfeit salves.

CAUTION.—Be sure and apply only to the inventor, H. DALLEY, 415 Broadway, New York, or to his authorized agents. JOHN D MORGAN, General Depot, Pittsburgh.

Henry P. Schwartz, Allegheny, Agent; J. Baker, Wheeling, Va.; James W Johnston, Maysville, Ky.; F. Merryweather, Cincinnati, O., General Depot.

N. B.—In the severest Burns and Scalds it extracts the pain in a few minutes—it never fails! ju14
