We had concluded not to publish any more remedies for Cholera, concluding that we had fully discharged our duty, but the following comes to us so highly and respectably recommended, and is to use of ground clansmon, free from dangerous narcotics, that we have been induced to forego our determination. The Cincinnate Gazette, in an editorial artible, introduces the communication of Mr. Greepough, who is the incurse of the remedy with the following re-

The foregoing statements, so far as I am con-perced, are correct. J. H. JORDAN, M. D. Loznon, June 29, 1849.

The Romans still keep the Gantsat bay, but An-cone has at last capitulated to their silies the Aus-trians. Venice, like Rome, continues to hold out, but without a final hope. In Hungary the concilu-but without a final hope.
