ARRIVAL OF THE STEAMSHIP

EUROPA

SEVEN DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

PROSPECT OF AN ABUNDANT HARVEST.

FURTHER DECEPTION IN BREADSTUFFS

Further Confirmation of the Downfall of Hungary.

REPORTED ESCAPE OF KOSSUTH

St. John, Tuesday evening, Sept. 11.

The Europa arrived at Halifax at 8 o'clock on Monday evening, bringing seven days later intelligence from Europe.

Ireland English manufacturing districts generally, an increasing activity and growing firmness is manifested.

The weather continues exceedingly fine, both in England and Ireland.

The harvest operations on the Continent are proceeding well, with the most satisfactory results, consequently the market is declining, and continues to recede.

Advices from the North of Europe, are favorable for the crops, but from every other section they are cheering in the highest degree.

The market for American Provisions has been dull during the week, and the prices obtained fall far short of a remuneration.

There is a good business doing in the Iron Market, at improving prices.

COTTON MARKET.

LIVERPOOL, Sept. 1, 1849.

Fair Mobile and Uplands are selling at 5d, and Fair New Orleans at 5¼ per lb.

BREADSTUFFS AND PROVISIONS.

American Flour is in limited demand, with sales of Baltimore and Ohio at 22s 6d@24s per bbl. Corn in Western demand at 29s per quarter, for mixed; and 32s 6d@33s for pure white.

Bacon is without change, and hams are dull. Fine descriptions brought 28 to 40s. Shoulders were in better demand at 21s@22s 6d. Prime mess pork of choice par. For lard, the advance in our last has checked the demand.

HUNGARIAN AFFAIRS.

The latest intelligence within our reach from Hungary, is embraced in the advices from Vienna of the 30th instant. The news from that quarter continues blind and unsatisfactory, and is full of contradictions as ever.

The Weiner Zeitung publishes what it calls an explanation of the silence in which Georgey's surrender was brought about. The prominent consensus so little that is new, it is not deemed advisable to give it, for, while it carefully informs the public of all those circumstances of which you are already advised, with equal care eschews throwing light upon those circumstances of the case which are still open to the broadest doubt and suspicion.

The London News says, that the general belief throughout the Continent is, that General Georgey surrendered, with his army, to Paskiewitch, on the golden being given by the Russian Commander, that his name, the Czar, would guarantee their independence.

The latest intelligence contains nothing to relate, a Sophi that Kiupker still holds possession of Comorn. One account affirms that an action was fought between Rath and Comorn, in which the Magyars obtained some advantage.

Ban Jellachich has arrived at Teniavar. He is said to have met no opposition on the way to Pesth, found the roads covered with arms and ammunition waggons, that had been abandoned by the defeated Magyars.

Bem and Gregon, having been surrounded by Leaders, left their troops, and contrived to escape.

It is said that the decision of the Emperor Nicholas concerning the surrender of Georgey's corps, is, that it be partly enlisted in the Imperial ranks, and partly dismissed to their homes, and that the officers be submitted to trial.

Accounts from Pesth state, that it was rumored that Kossuth had been captured on the frontier of Wallachia, another account from Turkey assures us that Bem and Kossuth have arrived at Adrianople, where they have embarked in a British ship.

The letter from Georgey to Klapka, directing the surrender of Comorn, assigns no reason for his course, other than that he had become convinced of the hopeless condition of their cause; and he wished to give peace to his country—that it was the only expedient to save it from utter destruction.

A letter from Kossuth, before he knew of the surrender of Georgey, is said by the Austrian authority, to have been found, which contains a frank admission that the Magyars' cause was irrevocably lost.

The Russian Minister in Paris, in a formal note to the French Government, gives assurance that the Hapsburgs notwithstanding [illegible] agrandizement—but that he will retire with his army as soon as the Hungarians have laid down their arms.

LATE FROM SANTA FE.

An express, from Santa Fe, and Los Vegas arrived at Fort Leavenworth on the 4th inst. The express left Santa Fe on the 15th, and Los Vegas on the 16th ult.

The forces of Capt. Judd were attacked by a band of 40 Apache Indians, at Los Vegas, who were repulsed with the loss of all but some ten or the warriors. These Indians were recognized as having committed previous depredations, and violated treaties, on the last ult.

Five of the Indians retreated, and were pursued through the woods seven or eight or ten miles, and some of the number taken prisoners.

The enemy were well mounted, and the fight was hand to hand.

Lieut. Burnside, Sergeant Ambrose, and private Meader, were wounded.

The monthly mail, established by order of Col. Washington, leaves Santa Fe and Fort Leavenworth alternately, on the 15th of each month.

It is stated that Col. Colter would leave Santa Fe for Washington in a few days.

Col. Calhoun, the Indian agent, has established his head quarters at Santa Fe.

Several of the murderer of Kase, were executed on the 7th of July.

Capt. Magry left for Fort Smith on the 9th of August.

Trade is dull at Chihuahua.

Maj. Chevalier left together with the Commissioners on the 17th July, as Copper Miners] killing 40 and taking 200 prisoners and 500 mules.

Only one was lost on the part of the whites.

A reduction of duties of 3 cents per yard on cotton had taken place at El Paso.

Col. Washington's position at Santa Fe, being surrounded by 50,000 hostile Indians, is considered critical.

The Sangra Christie mines have been explored, and found in gold.

TELEGRAPHIC INJUNCTION CASE.

COCKETOWN, (N. Y.) Sept. 8.

The injunction that was prayed for by Messrs. Morse, Kendall, and Smith, against the Lake Erie Telegraph Line, from Buffalo to Erie, has been for the third time put off in the U. S. Supreme Court by Morse & Co.'s counsel. The O'Reilly party have do-me their best to bring it to an issue at such term—Morse & Co. objecting to go to trial.

JAMES DALZELL. W. W. WALLACE. S. J. HOWLEY.

OFFICE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,

Thursday Morning, September 13, 1849.

The Market yesterday, if any thing, was duller than on the preceding day, and nothing so far as we could learn, transpired to change our general quotations of the previous day.

FLOUR—The market is fairly supplied, though the sales from store to dealers is only fair. We hear of nothing doing to-day to quote, A few small lots of superfine fresh ground were sold from wagon at $4,05@4,10, which is rather above the market.

GRAIN—We have nothing to report under this head. Very little is arriving, and sales are confined to small parcels at retail or spotting.

BACON—Sales of 8 bbls of Western Reserve Shoulders, 5c, 6 lbs; and Hams at 9½@10c.

SUGAR—Sales of 50 hhds New Orleans sugar cured Hams at 10½, and prime sugar cured Hams, in barrels, at 10c, 6 m.

SODA ASH—A sale of 10 casks, to arrive, at 3½c, 4 mos. Other alkalies similar to quotations.

SUGAR—N. O. Sugar continues very dull, with an upward tendency. Sales by the hhds at 5½@6c, and limited lots at 6¾@6¾c, and in bbls at 6¾@7c. Loaf Sugar remains nearly as a range of 8½ to 10c 6 lb, as to quality.

CHEESE—Sales of 18 boxes W. R. in different lots at 6½@6¾c for best, and 6c for ordinary or common. Cream Cheese is sold regularly at 7@7½c.

Pittsburgh Flour Market.

The following table, in reference to the prices of Flour in this market, at the various periods quoted, during the past three years, will be of interest to all concerned in this great leading article of trade.

The table presents the store prices of flour at the commencement of each month during the years 1847, 1848, and up to Sept ember 1st, 1849, and presents a remarkable uniformity in prices, throughout those three years:

	1847.	1848.	1849.
January	$3,50@3,62½	$3,00@3,06¼	$4,12½@4,18¾
February	3,37½@3,50	4,37½@4,50	3,75@3,87
March	3,37½@3,50	4,25@4,37	4,00@4,25
April	3,37½@3,50	4,12½@4,25	4,00@4,12½

June	4,00@4,12½	4,62½@4,75	3,62½@3,75
July	3,87½@4,00	4,62½@4,75	3,62½@3,75
August	4,37½@4,50	4,37½@4,50	4,75@4,87
September	4,62½@4,75	4,37½@4,50	4,75@4,87

November	4,75@4,87	4,62½@4,75
December	3,00@3,12	4,75@4,87

In 1847, the lowest price was $3, which was on the 1st of January of that year, and the highest figure was on the 1st of June, when the article sold at $5,87 per barrel. In 1848, four of the periods quoted was not less than $4,12, nor over $5 per barrel, throughout the year, the lowest prices being $4,12, on the 1st of December, and the highest $5,87, on the 1st of June.

The lowest price during the present year was $3,00, and the highest price $4,87, on the 1st of September.

WESTERN FLOUR AND ITS INSPECTION.

Complaints have been made, and are still arising, by dealers and consumers, of the great want of uniformity in the inspection of Flour. The New York Tribune of this week speaks of the quality received in that city. There has been, it says, a greater degree of variety in the unbranded wheat received at the mills on the western part of this State, from the Upper Lakes, and made into flour which had been inspected as Genesee, than ever before in the same period. It sells here at from $3,50 to $4,50 per barrel, and is dear at that; some of it is not fit for bread. Several hundreds of barrels of this kind of flour have been received at the mills in Rochester, Oswego, and other places, in so bad a state that it could not be ascertained, coming out of the holds of the vessels in cakes as hard as dry clay. It has been pounded up, and made into flour and sold, and there is no doubt that a large part of the sickness prevailing throughout the country at this time, may be attributed to the eating of bread made from this unwholesome flour.

A correspondent in the same paper enters into the subject somewhat at large. He says the standard has been gradually and imperceptibly lowered, until what is now called branded superfine is nothing more or less than "fine" or is generally termed "second flour," and of course other grades are proportionably depreciated. He says that at least one-half of all the flour received at this western end in the opening of canal navigation last Spring, has been made of poor "Spring Wheat," as it is called. Much of this spring grown and the flour has only made its appearance in this market by the void of all fermentation—its dead, inactive substance to it, for fermenting quality—will not rise—is not fit for bread—is unwholesome food for our children.

To remedy this evil, he proposes to go back to old times, to have an Inspector General appointed by the Governor and Legislature—he have one regular and uniform standard, and to have it rigidly adhered to, but at the same time avoiding the compulsory part of the inspection.

Under the present inspection, "fine," or bad flour is suffered to be branded as good superfine, and so sold and shipped to the perhaps thousands of the foreign market—or what is worse, simply bored and plugged, it having the said brand of superfine on it. The Day Book, or treasury note.

The very flour is inspected now-a-days must be extremely gratifying to bakers and dealers. As a specimen of the value of the inspector's brand upon a barrel, we were told this morning of a lot of flour that came from Genesee, branded as fine and sold by accident, the lot got separated and arrived here in two different parcels, one of 900 barrels and the other of 150 barrels. The two parcels were inspected by different inspectors, the 900 barrel parcel was branded superfine, and sold for $5,50, the 150 barrel parcel was branded fine, and sold for $4,50. This flour was all made from the same wheat, ground in the same mill, packed in the same barrels, and shipped in the same lots. The difference in quality was the mere accident of its getting separated while in transit.

New Orleans Produce Market.—The following are the amounts of stock remaining in the New Orleans market on the first of September:

The stock of Flour is estimated at about 17,000 barrels on the levee and in store, including a small portion of sour. Last year the closing stock was estimated at 15,000 bbls.

The stock of Pork at the Inspection Warehouses, on the 31st ult., was as follows: Clear, 13½ barrels; Mess, 12,516; M. O. 4,550, Prime Mess 27, Prime 2,424, Soft Mess 90, Rumps 2,647, Soft Prime 502, Inferior and damaged 1,000, not parcelled 1,500, total 24,000, against 7,100 bbls at same date last year.

The stock of Beef in the inspection Warehouses, on the 31st ult., was as follows: Mess 2,000 barrels; 1,025 half barrels; M. O. 132 barrels, 67 half barrels; M. O. 125 barrels, 67 half barrels; Prime 492 barrels, 30 half barrels; Prime 1,000 barrels, 1,000 half barrels, 1,245 bbls and 1,079 half bbls. Total last year 568 bbls, 121 half bbls.

The stock of Lard, as nearly as can be ascertained, is 12,000 tierces and barrels, and 13,000 kegs: Last year 2,000 barrels and 3,000 kegs.

Having learned that the late well known "Drug Store of Isaac Wolf, deceased, is believed by many to have died at the house, and under my care and treatment, and that my name is used in connection with the said drug establishment, I wish to contradict both rumors as unfounded in fact. The said lady was neither at the time of her decease nor during her illness under the immediate charge or treatment of myself or any member of my establishment, nor under Hydropathic treatment, and the proverbial health of my own family has enabled me to attend to them myself. I have no connection with the late Drug Store.

CAUTION EXTRA.

A man by the name of RUEL CLAPP has engaged with a young man of the name of S. F. Townsend, and has had him in my employ for some time, and now I call Dr. Townsend's Sarsaparilla, denominating it GENUINE, Original, etc. This Townsend is no connection of Dr. Townsend of Troy, New York, and I would look thus speaks of the quality received in that city. There has been, it appears, a great deal of the counterfeit received at the mills on the western part of this State, from the Upper Lakes, and made into flour which had the appearance of being of the genuine and unimpeached flour. It sells here at from $3,50 to $4,50 per barrel, and is dear at that; some of it is not fit for bread. OLD JACOB THE ORIGINAL

DOCTOR TOWNSEND, DISCOVERER OF THE GENUINE

TOWNSEND SARSAPARILLA.

Old Dr. Townsend is now about 70 years of age, and has been known for the last 30 years as the DISCOVERER of the GENUINE ORIGINAL TOWNSEND SARSAPARILLA. Being poor, he was induced by his friends to manufacture it, which he did by means of a secret process known only to himself, and FOUND the opportunity and means to bring its GRAND UNIVERSAL BLESSING to the afflicted. Within the last few years, and by the knowledge of all who need it, that they may learn and know, by [illegible] positive, as to warrant the Old Dr. in saying

CURE OF INNUMERABLE DISEASES.

Hence the use of this Sarsaparilla is [illegible] on every side, in every by men, women and children. We find it doing wonders in the cure of Consumption, Dyspepsia, and Liver Complaint, Rheumatism, Scrofula and Piles, Costiveness, all Cutaneous Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches, and all Affections arising from an impure state of the BLOOD.

It possesses a marvellous efficacy in all complaints arising from lodging-stone, determination of blood to the head, palpitation of the heart, tooth ache and head ache, cold chills and hot flashes, fever and ague, and all diseases arising from a disordered state of the stomach. For all kinds of coughs and colds and promotes easy expectoration, and gentle perspiration, relieving sometimes of the most distressing and severe attacks.

But in nothing it is excellence more eminently seen and acknowledged than in all kinds and stages of

FEMALE COMPLAINTS.

It works wonders in cases of floor albus or whites, Falling of the Womb, Obstructed or Painful Menstruation, Barrenness, and all of the unnatural periods and the like, and is especial in curing all forms of the disease by Mercury, or the effects of Mercury on the system, and the general system, it gives tone and strength to the whole body, and cures all forms of

NERVOUS DEBILITY AND DERILITY,

and thus prevents or relieves a great variety of other diseases, as Spinal Irritation, Neuralgia, St. Vitus Dance, Nervous Apprehensions, Convulsions &c. For the cure, then, of a Mercurial or Poisoned System

But can any of these things be said of Dr. Townsend's Sarsaparilla? Is it not a fact that it is because of its Grand Purifying Qualities, it NEVER SPOILS; with the old Sarsaparilla you are [illegible] and [illegible] it DOES, a sour, ferment, and throw the bottles containing it [illegible] Townsend's Sarsaparilla is now called branded superfine by nothing more or less than "fine" or is generally termed "second flour," and of course other grades are proportionably depreciated. Under the present inspection, "fine," or bad flour is suffered to be branded as good superfine, and so sold and shipped to the perhaps thousands of the foreign market—or what is worse, simply bored and plugged, it having the said brand of superfine on it. The Day Book, or treasury note.

CONCEIVED WITH THE DEVIL IN IT,

The very flour is inspected now-a-days must be extremely gratifying to bakers and dealers. As a specimen of the value of the inspector's brand upon a barrel, we were told this morning of a lot of flour that came from Genesee, branded as fine and sold by accident, the lot got separated and arrived here in two different parcels, one of 900 barrels and the other of 150 barrels. The two parcels were inspected by different inspectors, the 900 barrel parcel was branded superfine, and sold for $5,50, the 150 barrel parcel was branded fine, and sold for $4,50. This flour was all made from the same wheat, ground in the same mill, packed in the same barrels, and shipped in the same lots. The difference in quality was the mere accident of its getting separated while in transit.

GENUINE

OLD DR. JACOB TOWNSEND'S SARSAPARILLA is so prepared that all the lively properties of the Sarsaparilla root are first secured, and then the process of becoming acid or of fermentation is extracted and rejected; then every particle of medicinal virtue is retained in a pure, sweet and delicious state, and is rendered incapable of losing any of its valuable and healing properties. Hence in this way, it is made the most powerful agent in the

CURE OF INNUMERABLE DISEASES.

Hence the use of this Sarsaparilla is [illegible] on every side, in every by men, women and children. We find it doing wonders in the cure of Consumption, Dyspepsia, and Liver Complaint, Rheumatism, Scrofula and Piles, Costiveness, all Cutaneous Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches, and all Affections arising from an impure state of the BLOOD.

It possesses a marvellous efficacy in all complaints arising from lodging-stone, determination of blood to the head, palpitation of the heart, tooth ache and head ache, cold chills and hot flashes, fever and ague, and all diseases arising from a disordered state of the stomach. For all kinds of coughs and colds and promotes easy expectoration, and gentle perspiration, relieving sometimes of the most distressing and severe attacks.

But in nothing it is excellence more eminently seen and acknowledged than in all kinds and stages of

FEMALE COMPLAINTS.

It works wonders in cases of floor albus or whites, Falling of the Womb, Obstructed or Painful Menstruation, Barrenness, and all of the unnatural periods and the like, and is especial in curing all forms of the disease by Mercury, or the effects of Mercury on the system, and the general system, it gives tone and strength to the whole body, and cures all forms of

NERVOUS DEBILITY AND DERILITY,

and thus prevents or relieves a great variety of other diseases, as Spinal Irritation, Neuralgia, St. Vitus Dance, Nervous Apprehensions, Convulsions &c. For the cure, then, of a Mercurial or Poisoned System

But can any of these things be said of Dr. Townsend's Sarsaparilla? Is it not a fact that it is because of its Grand Purifying Qualities, it NEVER SPOILS; with the old Sarsaparilla you are [illegible] and [illegible] it DOES, a sour, ferment, and throw the bottles containing it [illegible] Townsend's Sarsaparilla is now called branded superfine by nothing more or less than "fine" or is generally termed "second flour," and of course other grades are proportionably depreciated. He says that at least one-half of all the flour received at this western end in the opening of canal navigation last Spring, has been made of poor "Spring Wheat," as it is called. Much of this spring grown and the flour has only made its appearance in this market by the void of all fermentation—its dead, inactive substance to it, for fermenting quality—will not rise—is not fit for bread—is unwholesome food for our children.

CONCEIVED WITH THE DEVIL IN IT,

To remedy this evil, he proposes to go back to old times, to have an Inspector General appointed by the Governor and Legislature—he have one regular and uniform standard, and to have it rigidly adhered to, but at the same time avoiding the compulsory part of the inspection.

SOUSING, PRESERVING, AND "COMPOUND" OF S. F. TOWNSEND!

Old Dr. Townsend is now about 70 years of age, and has been known for the last 30 years as the DISCOVERER of the GENUINE ORIGINAL TOWNSEND SARSAPARILLA. Being poor, he was induced by his friends to manufacture it, which he did by means of a secret process known only to himself, and FOUND the opportunity and means to bring its GRAND UNIVERSAL BLESSING to the afflicted. Within the last few years, and by the knowledge of all who need it, that they may learn and know, by [illegible] positive, as to warrant the Old Dr. in saying

CURE OF INNUMERABLE DISEASES.

SOUSING, PRESERVING, AND "COMPOUND" OF S. F. TOWNSEND!

Having learned that the late well known "Drug Store of Isaac Wolf, deceased, is believed by many to have died at the house, and under my care and treatment, and that my name is used in connection with the said drug establishment, I wish to contradict both rumors as unfounded in fact. The said lady was neither at the time of her decease nor during her illness under the immediate charge or treatment of myself or any member of my establishment, nor under Hydropathic treatment, and the proverbial health of my own family has enabled me to attend to them myself. I have no connection with the late Drug Store.

WORK—As this is the season of the year when worms are most formidable to young children, a timely exercise of Dr Lavor's Vermifuge can leave no call upon parents, reflecting their breasts, in the virtues of the expelling of these annoying and often fatal enemies of children. Their invention is by a physician of great experience in Virginia, who after giving it several years in his own practice, and finding its success so universal, he has been induced at last to offer it to the public as a cheap yet certain and excellent medicine.
