The Virginia and New Jersey delegations to the Railroad Convention, have arrived.

Lietut Maurie, of Virginia, and Robert Chambers, of New Jersey, are announced as Vice Precidents on behalf of those States.

Various resolutions touching the different routes, were referred to the Commintee. Semd of the resolutions caused a flare up in the Convention.

A resolution was offered, that Congress be memorialized in favor of the immediate commencement of a Railroad, at some point in the Western organized States, and be continued to Saa Francisco—the work will be completed in ten years.

Senator Smith, of lows, opposed the resolution, in a speech of one hour's duration, souting forth the impredicability of the resolution, if it were unconstitutional, Congress could authorize the construction of the whole road. He considered that Congress should be memorialized to amend the Constitution, so as to meet this subject.

Some allostons to the views expressed last night, at the meas meeting, by the President of the Convention, was installed as President.

The Hon. A. Douglas was conducted to the Chair. He delivered a short but elegant speech. There was much discassion on a motion from the Chair, to appoint a committee on resultions. The motion was finally carried, and the Chair appointed three parties from each State to act on it. The resolutions having been introduced, calling upon Congress to act promptly in relation to the Pacific Rail Rajd, Mr. Benton read a letter just received from Col. Fremont, stating that the Convention should designate no rowe across the Rocky Mountains. He believed the pass between the head of the Arkaness and Del Norte rivers to be the most practicable, and the nearest to the Pacific.
