The Pactric Ram Road Convertion.—We have condensed the proceedings of the great Convention, which is important to the 'whole country, as much as practicable, and yet, leave enough to give our readers an intelligible account of its acgive our readers an intelligible account of its action. We hope their length will not deter any trons a careful perusal. Pittaburgh is directly interested in this matter, and persons are now living here, in the prime of life, who will yet see passen here, in the prime of life, who will yet see passen here, in the prime of life, who will yet see passen here, in the prime of life, who will yet see passen here. to build up a city in Illinois. The towns which are struggling for the reil road centres, on the Mississippi, are Alton, Chester, Quincy, and Cairo.—The most active interests are those of Alson and Chester. Alton is twenty miles above St. Louis, and Chester is sixty miles bolow, at the mouth of Sowed. The Hillsborough Address states that Alton and Chester are the only two places on the Illinois side of the Mississippi, upon which great towns can be built. Whether this be-true or not, it is obvious that Aton, Illinoistown, and Chester, are the real rivals for the Mississippi crossing of

The hymn book at present in use in the Methodist Episcopal Church, is probably more widely circulated than any publication on the American continent, except the Bible—it not being extravegant to say that millions have been printed and distributed in that extensive denomination. But in this success from the success the continuation of the Church in the success the continuation of the Church in the success that if the Whigs had turned out in their strength they would not only have elected their candidate for Canal Commissioner, but have carried both branches of the Local Church, the continuation is the continuation of the continuation o and 1819 f distributed in that extensive denomination. But in this age of progress and reform, nothing in stable but the Holty Scriptures, and the old Hymn Book he dassification has been changed, as the beat the Holty Scriptures and the old Hymn Book he classification has been changed, as the beat the Holty Scriptures. In this perise of Hymn Book, the classification has been changed, as the beat classification has been changed another of new ones introduced, but substantially the new book is a fur representative of the cold one. We also olderer some very decided improvements, among which are, a title is given to avery byam, descriptive of its contents—the same of the authors are given in the index to the hymns of the authors are given in the index to each verse is also given.

On the whole, we like the new Hymn Book much, and have no doubt it will meet with general a acceptability. The copy before us is most beautifully printed and bound—no small matter, by the way, in a work which will be so extensively circulated.
