DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY.

It was well knewn many years ago that the wild cherry bark tree of this climate possessed valeable medicinal qualities. Indeed this fast was known to the aborigines, and decoctions of the leavesipr bark of this tree has ever been regarded by their physicians as one of the most effectual remedies in many, diseases.

This fact, soverally ears since, arrested the attennon of the wild cherry—insted its effects when administered alone, and when in combination with other remedial arents. He found that its natural virtue might be greatly improved, and by combining it with ingreddients whose properties were all well provide and generally recognized, a medicine was produced which communics are muchy of great importance in pulmonary suffections and dis sease of the cheat and threatdrassacs which are proverbially prevalent in our cities and large towns, and often prove fastal, swelling the bell of mortality to a much greater extant than is the case with most others, we had almost said all classes.
