Scarring Usubul.—Monroe County, in this State, must be a pleasant and primitive place to live in, for there is a remarkable absence of crime within its limits. So strongly is this fast demons strated, that, it is asserted gravely, that years pass, sometimes, without there being a single tenant in the county jail. The jailer has almost a sincourry, and it is mentioned that, recently, when endeave oring to subdue a refractory prisoner, he used, among other arguments besides his fail, the threat that if he did not behave himself better, he would eject him from the premises.

It is to he withded that there were more Monroe County jails, and keeper's with as little to do in the way of correcting crime as the one who holds the keys there. We can well afford to licks grow rusty for want of use, if that want springs from the phence of crime. It is not a pleasant reflection which brings home to us that every turn of the key is a harsh testimony of the existence of crime; and however beautiful the architectural appearance of the building may be, it is the receptacle of debased asture—the galactic place of the existence o Being $3.301 93 loss than the revenue of the cerrespending month (December) 1843.
