The Appoint PUBLISHED BY WHITE & CO. and another his liberty, and burdened his soul with the painful sense of having taken the life of his fellow, adds another to the ten thousand evidences of the danger and fully of carrying deadly weapons. A man who carries a loaded pisto, or dirk knife about hin, ought to be considered a dangerous member of society, and be severely punished by fine and imprisonment for every such offence against the safety and peace of society. The very act of carrying a deadly weapon, shows a nurderous purpose, and should go far to fix the nature of the guilt incurred in any offence.

Case is in a tight place, for the provision of Mr.

Clay'e bill prohibiting the provincial legislature of New Mexico from legislating for or against alavery, is virtually a nullification of the non fatter vention doctrine. There is abundant proof that a considerable number of siaves already are in New Mexico; it is probable that more will go there. To say that the local legislature shall not pass laws for the release of these people, is to say, in effect, that Congress interferes to keep them in slavery. But even if these circumstances did not vexis, and the design of the provision were to interdict the establishment or toleration of always; by the local legislature, it would still be a case of congressional intervention in the slavery question. Ic either case, Gen. Cass is n a corner. He must oppose the compromise, or he must violate his own doctrine. The eyes of the Free Soilers, if not of the world, are upon him, and woo bettled the author of Nicholsonium, if he failer. In wo ber seriousness, Gen. Cass is in a worse fit than coor Polonius was. At the bidding of his south. nut of the world, are upon him, and woo betide the author of Nicholsonism, if he falier. In so-ber seriousness, Gen. Casa is in a worse fix than poor Polonius was. At the bidding of his south-ern guardinas and masters, he has cried camel, whale, and we see in this slavery agitation, and all to no purpose. And now, like Polonius, the General is.

The Expedition to Cubs.

From the accumulated evidence brought us by our exchanges, we cannot doubt longer that merading expedition, intended to querturn the existing Government of Cubs, has really been stied, out and has sailed from the ports of the United States. If this should prove to be the fact, the Administration will is doubt take active measures for its suppression.
