HOWE, FOR SECOND SERSION, TRIETT FIRST COMMERCE HARBAR DESNY, JAMES CAROTHERS, OF WILKING.

Amongst those who voted against this were Cass, Dickinson, Dedge and Tourist Tourist Cass, Dickinson, Dodge, and Jones, of lows, and Star-geon, of Pennsylvania, from the two Stairs.— Sturgeon, it will be seen, sticks fast to his allegi-ance to the South on this question. Probably no body now expects him to represent Pennsylvania. Then came up Dava's amendment, the substance of which was a prohibition to the Legisla-ture to pass any set adverse to slavery, but leav, jug it at liberty, to protect and establish it. The vote upon this was syes 25, noes 30. Dickinson was the only dough cake who disgraced himself by voting for this scandalous and audecious at tempt to legislate slavery faio this free territory.— Even Mr. Benton rebuked his base subserviency by voting against the proposition, and with the free States, Mr. Spruance, of Delaware did the

As the matter to be examined into and discussed at this meeting is one of vital importance to the interest of Pittaburgh, we hope to see the meeting fully attended, that the matter may be brough; before the people in its proper light.

The matter may be brough; before the people in its proper light.

The matter is proved by Mr. Seward. The vote was ayes 23; hoses 33. Of course, the says were given by Northerm Senators, and of course the Senators voted no. But the following from the fee States refused to give the cause of freedom, as involved not know that Philadelphia is a party to this scheme, so fejurious to Pittsburgh—it can hardly be possible that she would act in such bad faith to her vestors sister. But if the really desires.

Two southern and one northern Senators were be possible that the would act in such add fall to her western sister. But if the really desires to compete with Baltimore at Wheeling, and if Virginia will consent, of which we have great doubts, she can have a Rainoad from Pittsburgh to Wheeling, by way of Washington, or to the morth of it, and thus secure the Wheeling trade over the whole extent of her Central road, Instead of leaving out that part between this city and Greensburgh. It is supposed that a Railroad can be built from Green sburgh to Wheeling ir additance of II miles. One can be built from here to Wheeling in a distance of some fifty to sixty miles.

Very little would be saved, therefore, in distance by going direct from Greensburgh. Philadelphia will see from this that it will cost her lezs money, and so are two additional votes of no great importance, the question was taken on an amendwy gauge arrect from Greensburgh. Philadelphia my will see from this that it will cost hor less money, if she has anch a project on foot, to make a branch road from Pittsburgh to Wheeling, instead of start, gested, I think, by Mr. Bertien, but originally suggested, if think, by Mr. Webster, which was a probability of the property of ing from Greenhergh. Institutes Hoistino Apparatus.—The Detroit Tribune deparches an ingenious contrivance in use at the Central Railroad Depot in that city for holsting four. The apparatus resembles a treading mill in an unjuist position, the top of which priyets about one tool above the flaor of the upper story, and the bottom the same distance below the ground door.—From what would be called the tevolving flour or bed (were it a treading mill) project four pair of arms (qui distant from each other, or about ten feet opart. The barrel is rolled against this revolving bed, and as a pair of arms comes up from the floor, the barrel is rolled against this revolving bed, and as a pair of arms comes up from the floor, the barrel is taken and carried into the roos above. Immediately its rives at the top of the bed and its momentum carries it on on an inclience plane, so that it roll a sway to the side of the room.—Thus it unloads itself, and only needs one person to feed it below. It is said to save the labor of five men. It has bore operated for five ments so as to befus at the rate of ene theusand barrels an hour.—The bed commonly cakes three tevolutions per minute, carrying four barrels at each revolution, 720 barrels per hour. The apparatus is worked by steam, in connection with the graft elevators in the same building.
