THE SEARCH FOR SIR JOHN FRANKLIN.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21, 1850.

The Intelligencer, of this morning, publishes a letter from Lieut. De Haven, who commands the American expedition in search of Sir John Franklin, dated at Port Leopold, August 22d. Nothing of particular note had transpired up to the time of writing. The two vessels, Advance and Rescrve, had separated from the squadron and gone in different directions. Much ice had been encountered.

The officers and men were well, and the prospects of discovering Sir John Franklin, were bright.

PITTSBURGH MARKET.

OFFICE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE
Tuesday morning, October 22, 1850

The weather yesterday was clear and pleasant for outdoor transactions, and in a general way, a fair amount, on a quiet pervading

The river continues in good navigable stage, and business on the wharf is quite newly.

FLOUR—The receipts yesterday consisted only of a few small lots, the most of which was designed for shipment east. The inspections and sales yesterday amounted to about 950 bbls, at $4 00@4 05. The sales from store were confined to the dray load lot at $4,10 @4,25 ₱ bbl, according to quality and brand.

BACON—We notice a fair general business doing at full prices—say, for plain western cured hams, 7@7½ common packed do 7c, prime sugar cured do at 7½@8c, sales or sales of 61, and of Shoulders at 4½@4½c ₱ lb.

WHISKEY We note sales of 50 bbls in lots, at 24 @25c for prefined. Supplies are fair.

TOBACCO—We notice a continued good feeling in Tobacco, and our former quotations are well sustained. Red Strands—choice tobacco may now be quoted at 9@9½c, and common do a 8@8½c ₱ lb.

GROCERIES—We have no further changes to note on either prices or demand. Sugars firm at 5¼@5¾c as in quality, and 5¾@6c for Sugar-cure. The supplies of Rio Coffee are light, and generally held at 11@13c ₱ lb.

FEATHERS—We notice a continued firmness in the market, with sales at 30@32c ₱ lb

COTTON YARNS—We have a further improvement to notice, and may now give the following list of prices —

BEEF PACKING—Messrs H T Sample & Co., commence packing beef on Monday next, for which they have every convenience. They intend to make this a business of our town. This is a new feature in the trade last year, on a small scale—and there is no reason why, in the coming packing season, it should not be one of the most important branches of this trade. We have advantages here equal to almost any point in the West for the packing of beef, and in preparing the product for market and we should go over whatever there may be in the line.

PORK PACKING—Five or six establishments have been made up for slaughtering and packing hogs for the business of pork packing this coming season. They have every facility, and all the furniture and coolers to promptly and speedily do up their work. Operations in this line have not yet commenced. The number of hogs to be slaughtered at this point is to fall largely beyond that of last year—the corn is not in the country. The effect will be a very short supply, and all will be paid for that which comes in market during the season. This, therefore, will be a good point for drovers and those who have hogs to sell.—Saturday Courier

DANGEROUS COUNTERFEITS—The Cincinnati Price Current, gives some timely admonitions in reference to the rare amount of well executed counterfeit bills now flooding that community. It states that counterfeit four of every denomination, and on almost every Bank are now in free circulation, and so admirably well executed as to deceive the most cautious, particularly the recent issues, that the greatest caution is necessary on the part of those not thoroughly acquainted with paper money, to prevent imposition or loss—Among the latest counterfeits, and decidedly the best, is 10's on the State Bank of Ohio The bill is letter B No 975, dated August 11th, 1849 and payable at the Guernsey Bank in Washington. The figure 10, however, is varied on different bills of the same plate. The engraving is so well executed that good judges have been unable to discover any difference between the specimen and genuine bills until a close comparison was made. By comparing the bills it was found that the engraving on the counterfeit was rather coarser than in the genuine, and the coat-sleeves of the Indians in the wood to rather indistinct. The bluing on it was not executed. But the whole appearance of the bill is well calculated to deceive even good judges of money. There is, however, one desire in the counterfeit by which it may be detected in the genuine, but the position is not the same in the bank of the letter on the right hand up in a very fine pencil, and intersects the shading on the top of the letter T under and Ten in the counterfeit the point of the spear is blunt, and strikes very near the centre of the space between the tails of the letter T and Ten in the word Ohio, and is fully one eighth of an inch nearer to the column bill.

Counterfeit's on the State Bank of Indiana are also plenty, and a new edition of counterfeit 5's on the Northern Bank of Kentucky have recently been altered, all well calculated to deceive

Counterfeits were never more freely circulated than at present, and the greatest caution is necessary on the part of money takers to keep off the spurious bills.
