High Prices for Stale Food.

When we pay fancy prices for fresh eggs, fresh fish or fresh fowls, we ought to get fresh eggs, fresh fish or fresh fowls. Even as the laborer is worthy of his hire, the purchaser is entitled to value received, or something approaching it. He is as much entitled to protection against cold storage magnates who sell him stale food as against cannery who commit the same fraud.—New York Press.

A PROFESSIONAL NURSE

Tells of Five Years' Sufferings With Kidney and Bladder Troubles.

Mrs. Mary Campbell, 1312 Jackson St., Phila., Pa., says: "For five years I doctored for kidney disease and got no better. The urinary passages were too frequent and copious. I could not attend to my professional duties. Since using Doan's Kidney Pills, however, I have found such welcome relief that I now recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to every sufferer I see."

Remember the name—Doan's. For sale by all dealers. 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Ample Wardrobe.

In the Russian campaign the personal baggage of Napoleon's brother, Jerome Bonaparte, contained 60 pairs of boots, 200 shirts and 318 pocket handkerchiefs. The transportation of his wardrobe entire required several heavy wagons, while his whole campaigning kit stretched over half a mile.

Utilizing Straw.

Owing to its abundance straw is added to barnyard manure, but it can be made more serviceable if made fine with the feed cutter before being used. While straw may soon rot after being mixed with manure, yet in a fine condition it is a much better absorbent and can be forked into the manure with advantage. When loading and spreading manure there is a saving of labor when handling that which is fine, and the manure will be more valuable because the loss of ammonia will be arrested by the use of suitable absorbent materials.—Epitomist.

How to Tell a Fresh Egg.

It is easily possible to tell the difference between a fresh egg and a cold storage egg without breaking the shell, and dealers in the District of Columbia who sell stored eggs for "strictly fresh" ones may be prosecuted and convicted, according to statements to-day of Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, the Government's chief chemist, at the "high cost of living" hearing being conducted by a House subcommittee.

Dr. Wiley had a large number of fresh eggs and some of the cold storage variety. Dropping them into a large vessel of water containing ten per cent. salt solution, the fresh eggs immediately sank to the bottom and the refrigerated ones floated on the surface. When asked how he knew the eggs were fresh, Dr. Wiley replied that one of his inspectors saw the hens lay them yesterday.

Feeding Lambs.

One of the most inviting and profitable of the animal industries now is the feeding of lambs for the city markets. A few feeders are undertaking this line of feeding with great success. No other young animal makes so large and profitable a growth as the lamb, no other young animal begins to feed profitably so early as the lamb does. Lambs are very little trouble to feed; all they need is a rail or board pen open at the bottom sufficiently for them to crawl under; set this pen in the pasture. They should be fed meal in a V-shaped trough. The ewes cannot enter but will try to and thus encourage the lambs to go in; they will soon learn to eat, and the appetite will increase rapidly with their growth. As newly weaned lambs as a general thing bring the highest price in the market, this method of disposing of the lambs is to be encouraged.—A Reader, in the Indiana Farmer.

Alfalfa Will Grow Everywhere.

While experts have been declaring that alfalfa would only grow in certain soils and in certain climates it has proven adaptability to nearly all climates and almost all soils. It produces with a rainfall as scant as fourteen inches, and in the Gulf States flourishes with sixty-five inches. It gives crops at an elevation of 8000 feet above sea level, and in southern California it grows below sea level to a height of six feet or over, with nine cuttings a year, aggregating ten to twelve tons. An authenticated photograph in possession of the writer shows a wonderful alfalfa plant raised in the (irrigated) desert of southern California, sixty feet below sea level, that measured considerably more than ten feet in height. Satisfactory crops are raised, but on limited areas as yet, in Vermont and Florida. New York has grown it for over one hundred years in her clay and gravel; Nebraska grows it in her western sand hills without plowing, as does Nevada on her sage-brush desert. The depleted cotton soils of Alabama and rich corn lands of Illinois and Missouri each respond generously with profitable yields to the enterprising farmer, while its accumulated nitrogen and the sub-soiling it effects are making the rich land more valuable and giving back to the crop-worn the priceless elements of which it has been in successive generations despoiled by a conscienceless husbandry.—From Coburn's "The Book of Alfalfa."

Farm Notes.

A well fowl needs no medicine. Don't doctor and dope unnecessarily. The breeder is a bigger factor than the breed in modern poultry culture.

The very best stock will not be long in degenerating if not properly fed and cared for.

Sweet apples that are not salable are greatly relished and an excellent feed for the fowls.

Scald out the drinking vessels every few weeks; it kills germs and prevents diseases from starting.

The poultry house is more convenient, more easily cleaned and more easily kept cleaned if everything in it is readily movable.

Regularity in feeding and other general management is important with poultry, and especially don't forget to be regular in cleaning up.

The best medicine for any animal or fowl is preventive; hence their food and general surroundings should be such as to promote health.

It is disputed as to whether to feed soft food in the morning or evening, but the general tendency now seems to favor morning feeding of mash.

One of the best feeds for poultry is green bone. It stimulates health and egg-production, and can be secured cheaply at any meat market. Don't neglect it!

If your chicken house roof leaks, fix it or get out of the poultry business. Chickens are as well off outdoors as in a house that permits drafts and dampness.

A few tobacco leaves crushed in the bottom of each nest will be a great help in exterminating vermin both in the nest and on the bodies of the hens which visit the nest.

It is rank nonsense to allow the droppings to lie in the house week in and week out, engendering disease and breeding lice; and then the poultryman wonders why his hens don't lay.

Look out for a supply of grit during the winter months. It is scarce then because the ground is frozen, but it is of more vital importance than in the summer. Hens must have teeth.

The man who keeps on year after year breeding the best in his chosen variety, regardless of the public fancy for new breeds, will get good prices for his birds often than he will miss them.—From "Timely Poultry Hints," in the Epitomist.

McEwen's Decision.

Not long ago Justice McEwen sat on a cow case: that is, a case involving money due one man for boarding the cow of another. The wrangle was as to what the board was worth.

One attorney called three or four livymen and got their testimony on the cost of boarding a horse. Of course the opposing counsel objected and declared such testimony to be incompetent on the ground that the cost of boarding a horse is not the same as the cost of boarding a cow.

This the other attorney conceded, but he explained that he was going to follow up the testimony of the livymen with expert testimony to show how much less, if any, it costs to keep a cow than a horse.

"Oh, if you are going to work on that plan," put in McEwen in judicial tones, "you might as well start in with elephants and work down to cows by gradual stages."—Cleveland Leader.

Price of Food.

A Calcutta correspondent writes: Quite one of the most serious questions confronting India at the present time is the ominous rise in the price of food, quite apart from famine; and also the rise in the cost of living. It is difficult to ascertain the cause, which is variously held to be the shortage of crops, the extension of jute cultivation at the expense of rice, the currency operations of government, and the extension of manufactures and a rise in the ideal of living among great masses of the people.—London Daily News.

A Poet's Club.

To the long list of London clubs there must now be added the Poet's Club, which has been formed for the purpose of revivifying the neglected art of verse making. Dense Populations.

Next to Saxony, the most densely populated parts of the German Empire are the Rhine province of Prussia, with 238 inhabitants per square kilometre, and the principality of Reuss the Elder, with 223 per square kilometre. The average for the entire empire is 112 per square kilometre.

CONVINCING PROOF

OF THE VIRTUE OF Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

What is the use of procrastinating in the face of such evidence as the following letters represent? If you are a sick woman or know one who is, what sensible reason have you for not giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial? For 30 years we have been publishing such testimonial letters as these—thousands of them—they are genuine and honest, too, every one of them.

Mrs. S. J. Barber says:

"I think Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the best medicine in the world for women—and I feel it my duty to let others know the good it has done for me. Three years ago I had a tumor which the doctor said would have to be removed by an operation or I could not live more than a year, or two, at most. I wrote Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., for advice, and took 14 bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and today the tumor is gone and I am a perfectly well woman. I hope my testimonial will be of benefit to others."—Mrs. S. J. BARBER, Scott, N. Y.

Mrs. George May says:

"No one knows what I have suffered from female troubles, neuralgia pains, and backache. My doctor said he could not give me anything to cure it. Through the advice of a friend I began to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and the pain soon disappeared. I continued its use and am now in perfect health. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been a God-send to me as I believe I should have been in my grave if it had not been for Mrs. Pinkham's advice and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. GEORGE MAY, 86 4th Ave., Paterson, N. J.

Mrs. E. F. Hayes says:

"I was under the doctor's treatment for a fibroid tumor. I suffered with pain, soreness, bloating, and could not walk or stand on my feet any length of time. I wrote to Mrs. Pinkham for advice, followed her directions and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. To-day I am a well woman, the tumor was expelled and my whole system strengthened. I advise all women who are afflicted with tumors or female troubles to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. E. F. HAYES, 1890 Washington St., Boston, Mass.

Mrs. W. K. Housh says:

"I have been completely cured of a severe female trouble by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and want to recommend it to all suffering women."—Mrs. W. K. HOUSH, 7 Eastview Ave., Cincinnati, Ohio.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health free of charge. Address Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.
