Mrs. Sage's Bible Distribution.

The gift of $500,000 made by Mrs. Russell Sage to the American Bible society, on condition that a like amount be raised by the society, has become effective. The $1,000,000 thus secured is to be a permanent endowment fund, the income to be used for the distribution of Bibles through nine agencies in America and 12 abroad. Of the $500,000 raised by the society, the largest gifts were of $25,000 each. The smallest was 10 cents and nearly 10,000 were $1 and $2 subscriptions. —Indianapolis News.

RESTORED TO HEALTH.

Another Remarkable Cure of Serious Kidney Trouble.

H. W. Solomon, 228 Market St., Harrisburg, Pa., says: "Kidney disease afflicted me for years and dizziness was so severe that I staggered as if drunk. My back was so lame that often I couldn't stir. Three or four doctors had examined my urine and all had found albumen. My family doctor said I had Bright's disease and could not live three weeks. I had run down from 195 to 135 pounds. I began using Doan's Kidney Pills as a last resort and was cured. I have had no kidney trouble in over two years."

Remember the name—Doan's. For sale by all dealers. 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Rise of Modern Liberty.

It was in the town that modern Democracy had its rise. Despite all the efforts of the kings and barons to prevent it, the spirit of liberty began to assert itself in the larger towns in the shape of the charters which guarantee to the people certain commercial and political rights; rights which, once obtained, were never to be surrendered. Before the middle of the eleventh century there were many of these "chartered" towns which possessed the right of electing their own magistrates, sheriffs, judges, and regulating their own taxes. The wretched serfs from the country were welcomed by the townspeople, and aided to larger freedom. These free towns were first known in Spain, from which country they slowly spread over Europe. The burgesses naturally offered protection and freedom to all who would flee to them from the feudal estates, and thus, slowly but surely, the good work went on until the ancient despots were destroyed.

Ambassador Bryce.

Ambassador Bryce delighted the university at Lawrence, as he did Grinnell College in Iowa on this trip and the Knife and Fork club at Kansas City. It used to be that America picked her wisest men to send to London and England's opinion of this country and popular friendliness to this country were greatly promoted by such men as Adams and Hawthorne, Lowell and Phelps and Bayard and Chateau. With Ambassador Bryce England is paying us back. It may be hoped that she will lend him to us for years to come.—Tonoka Capital.

The Garden Cure.

Gardening as a curative pastime is the newest idea introduced by the head of a fashionable sanatorium for nervous women, and each patient has her particular plot to look after. She is even given the task of spading up the ground and is expected to spend a certain amount of time daily cultivating it, regardless of the weather. On clear days, after the gardening hour, the entire force of fair women is supposed to turn to and rake and burn leaves and faggots and play they are amateur farmers. The benefit that the out-of-door life and interest does to the nerves is incalculable and the novelty of it makes it something to be looked forward to.—New York Tribune.

How Hummingbirds Learn to Fly.

I often wondered how these tiny creatures learned to fly. When the time comes, they seem to spring into the air full-grown and fully equipped. By watching at the hummingbird nest, I finally learned the reason. The youngsters took their turns sitting on the nest edge, stretching their wings, combing their tails, and preening their feathers. Each would try his wings. The wings started slowly, as if getting up steam. Then they buzzed till they fairly lifted the bird off his feet. In this way, they practiced many times a day, so that, when the time was ripe, the breaking of home ties simply meant two buzzing streaks.—William L. Finley in Suburban Life.

Pillar of Brewing Industry.

The Munich Post pays a remarkable tribute to Herr Joseph Fischer, who for 40 years, without a single break, has been a daily customer at the Deleth brewery in the town of Straubing, and during that period has spent $4,000 in beer and $115 in tips. "Such men as these," remarks the Post, "are the pillars of our native brewing industry, the steady upholders of our patriotic traditions. The chair in which this modest hero daily sat for 40 years should one day find a place of honor in the Town hall of Straubing, to be venerated as a memorial of one imbued with a profound love of his country, who fulfilled in a faithful and unassuming manner the duties of a citizen."

Pine Forests at the South Pole.

Prof. David, who occupies the chair of geology in the University of Sydney and who accompanied Sir Ernest Shackleton to the Antarctic, has been making some interesting remarks on his discoveries there. The fossil woods he had found showed that pine forests had flourished in the vicinity of the South Pole at a remote geological epoch. The coal seams he discovered suggested the same conclusion. At that time there was more or less continuous land from Australia to the South Pole. The climate all over the world was at that period probably much milder than at present.—Westminster Gazette.

Misquoted Lines.

Answering our challenge as to the most constantly misquoted line, a correspondent instances "He who runs may read," which sounds very scriptural, but is in reality a mangled version of the verse in the Prophet Habakkuk: "Write the vision and make it plain upon the table that he may run that readeth it." Another biblical misquotation is concerned: "By the sweat of thy brow shalt thou earn thy bread," the real text in Genesis being "In the sweat of thy face shalt thou eat bread." And when we pour "oil on the troubled waters" thousands search the Scriptures in vain for the metaphor.—London Chronicle.

The eggs of wild birds are smaller than those of the same species of birds when domesticated.

Engineers and scientists are making exhaustive studies of the recent floods in Paris, to devise a system which will prevent a repetition of the disaster. It is planned to keep the Seine within its channel either by constructing higher embankments or by carrying the surplus waters around the city in a by-pass channel.

That the steel car is of great value as a protection to passengers in the event of collision was demonstrated in a recent clash of two trains in the Hudson tunnel, New York City. There was no such telescoping as would probably have occurred with wooden cars, and the injuries were merely such as resulted from the passengers being thrown down by the shock of the collision.

According to the very latest pronouncement of one of the best of living scientists, the earth's crust, the materials of which have a density about twice that of water, is between thirty to thirty-eight miles in thickness. Below this depth, and down to about 180 miles, the matter is in a state of pasty fluidity. Beyond this layer and despite the very great pressure, the heat is too intense to allow substances to exist in any other state except that of gas.—New York American.

We have read somewhere that Peter the Great, when he was staying in England, had a particular liking for the companionship of Halley, and that after carousing with him at Deptford one evening he wheeled him in a barrow through a yew hedge and did such damage that he had to pay handsome compensation to John Evelyn, the owner, which incident shows that Shakespeare was right in thinking that not every astronomer plucks his judgments from the stars.—Scientific American.

Gold is usually classed among the metals which are soluble only in aqua regia, i. e., a mixture of nitric and hydrochloric acids. It has been observed, however, that hydrochloric acid alone is able to dissolve gold, in the presence of certain organic compounds, which are here arranged in order of activity: Methyl alcohol, amyl alcohol, chloroform, ethyl alcohol, chloral hydrate, phenol (carbolic acid), cane sugar, glycerine, trioxymethylene, formaldehyde. The solution takes place slowly in the cold, but is accelerated by heating.—Scientific American.

He Knew the Text.

Robert Saltzman, a prominent citizen of Erie, Pa., was in town the other day long enough to relate the strange church-going experience of his son Chester. The boy had been in the habit of going to church with his mother, but one Sunday she was unable to go and he persuaded her to let him go by himself. Well, when he returned from the seat of gospel dispensation his mother was anxious to ascertain how closely he had paid attention. She asked him what had been the text for the sermon.

"Don't worry, you'll get the quilt," replied the boy promptly.

The mother failed to see the connection. Once more she inquired about the text, and the boy repeated his remark: "Don't worry, you'll get the quilt."

This about convinced the mother that her son was getting a bit too fresh for so small a child, and she made up her mind to punish him. Just then she saw a friend going home from church, and she called after her to learn what the text had been.

Here's what it was: "Have no fear. The comforter will be with you."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Memories of Jenny Lind.

Jenny Lind, "the Swedish Nightingale," has been dead many years, and yet one of the pleasantest memories which continues to cling to the Aquarium in Battery Park is that it was there that the silver-throated Swede won her first great American triumph. Those who wish to provide larger and better quarters for the fish, from the hellbender to the angel-fish, may rip the top off old Castle Garden and strip it until it is nothing but an open-air amphitheatre. And after all that has been done Americans who visit Battery Park will point at the massive walls of old Castle Garden and say: "That's where Jenny Lind sang; I wish I had been alive then so I might have heard her." The little Scandinavian woman with the voice of a bird was one of the most artistic and profitable of the many entertainment projects carried out by the master mind of P. T. Barnum, and that was once when the showman did not have to humbug Americans to get their money. Jenny Lind was worth the price lovers of music paid to hear her.—New York Press.

Silence!

The instinct of modesty natural to every woman is often a great hindrance to the cure of womanly diseases. Women shrink from the personal questions of the local physician which seem indelicate. The thought of examination is abhorrent to them, and so they endure in silence a condition of disease which surely progresses from bad to worse.

It has been Dr. Pierce's privilege to cure a great many women who have found a refuge for modesty in his offer of FREE consultation by letter. All correspondence is held as sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription restores and regulates the womanly functions, abolishes pain and builds up and puts the finishing touch of health on every weak woman who gives it a fair trial.

It Makes Weak Women Strong, Sick Women Well.

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this non-alcoholic medicine of KNOWN COMPOSITION.

Many Women who are Splendid Cooks dread having to prepare an elaborate dinner because they are not sufficiently strong to stand over an intensely hot coal range. This is especially true in summer. Every woman takes pride in the table she sets, but often it is done at tremendous cost to her own vitality through the weakening effect of cooking on a coal range in a hot kitchen.

It is no longer necessary to wear yourself out preparing a fine dinner. Even in the heat of summer you can cook a large dinner without being worn out.

Cautionary Note: Be sure you get this stove—see that the name-plate reads "New Perfection."

New Perfection Oil Cook-stove

Gives no outside heat, no smell, no smoke. It will cook the biggest dinner without heating the kitchen or the cook. It is immediately lighted and immediately extinguished. It can be changed from a slow to a quick fire by turning a handle. There's no drudgery connected with it, no coal to carry, no wood to chop. You don't have to wait fifteen or twenty minutes till its fire gets going. Apply a light and it's ready. By simply turning the wick up or down you get a slow or an intense heat on the bottom of the pot, pan, kettle or oven, and nowhere else. It has a Cabinet Top with shelf for keeping plates and food hot, drop shelves for coffee, teapot or saucepan, and even a rack for towels. It saves time, worry, health and temper. It does all a woman needs and more than she expects. Made with 1, 2, and 3 burners; the 2 and 3-burner sizes can be had with or without Cabinet.

Arthur Dupin, the "father of the Apaches," has just died in Paris. He was a feuilletonist, who wrote stories for the Paris press after the style of Fenimore Cooper.

Baby Wasted to a Skeleton.

"My little son, when about a year and a half old, began to have sores come out on his face. I had a physician treat him, but the sores grew worse. Then they began to come out on his arms, then on other parts of his body, and then one came on his chest, worse than the others. Then I called another physician. Still he grew worse. At the end of about a year and a half of suffering he grew so bad that I had to tie his hands in cloths at night to keep him from scratching the sores and tearing the flesh. He got to be a mere skeleton, and was hardly able to walk.

"My aunt advised me to try Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. I sent to a drug store and got a cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of the Ointment and followed directions. At the end of two months the sores were all well. He has never had any sores of any kind since. I can sincerely say that only for Cuticura my child would have died. I used only one cake of Cuticura Soap and about three boxes of Ointment.

"I am a nurse and my profession brings me into many different families and it is always a pleasure for me to tell my story and recommend Cuticura Remedies. Mrs. Egbert Sheldon, R. F. D. 1, Litchfield, Conn., Oct. 23, 1909."
