News From Our Neighbors

EAST KANE.

Prof. J. T. Conrad, superintendent of the Weamore Township schools, also a teacher in the East Kane school, died at his home on Hemlock avenue, about noon Thursday of last week. Prof. Conrad has lived in Kane about two years. He came here from Punxsutawney. A private funeral was held at his home Saturday afternoon for the school directors, teachers and the pupils of his school. The remains were taken to Dubois for burial.

After a search of two weeks by the police and hundreds of searchers of Kane and vicinity for Edwin Adams of Lamont, who has been missing for two weeks and not finding any clue, it was decided to call the state constabulary and let them work on the case. They have come to the conclusion that it is a case of kidnaping. A reward of $500 is offered by the Elk county commissioners for the detection and conviction of any person guilty of a felony in connection with the disappearance of the boy.

Clarence Hayes has typhoid fever.

The Ladies' Aid of the M. E. church held their annual meeting in the basement of the church, Thursday afternoon. Refreshments were served after the meeting by the school teachers, Misses Schuman and Stanton.

Mrs. Annie Nelson who has been very sick is able to be out again.

Walter Stewart and family have moved into the house recently occupied by Mr. Olson.

Misses Bertha and Florence McKee entertained a number of their friends at their home on High street, Sunday afternoon.

Norman Quince and Robert Eidell are digging a cellar under the residence of Mr. Eidell.

BELLEFONTE.

Mrs. Minnie S. Harper, widow of the late Jonathan Harper, died last Sunday evening after an illness of several months. Her husband was formerly one of Bellefonte's leading business men. She was aged about 67 years and was a member of the Reformed church. She is survived by five children and several brothers and sisters. The funeral was held Thursday morning, services being conducted by Rev. A. M. Schmidt.

Hon. Robert E. Sankey, a former Centre county and for some time a resident of Bellefonte, died on the 12th inst., at Wichita, Kan., where he was engaged in the real estate business. He was also a very successful lawyer and was elected judge of the Wichita courts.

George Hunter Knisely one of Bellefonte's aged and respected citizens, died Wednesday evening from heart failure and complications. For many years he was engaged in farming near Curtin and later removed to Bellefonte and was connected with the old glass works. He was 74 years old, a veteran of the Civil War and a highly respected citizen. He is survived by his wife and five children.

Gregg Post No. 95 has completed arrangements for the annual observance of Memorial day. The parade will form at 1:40 and march to the cemetery where the ritualistic services will take place. Returning to Petriken hall Rev. F. W. Barry will deliver the annual Memorial address. Music will be furnished by the Lutheran choir under the direction of Prof. Harp.

On Saturday last our policemen had the unpleasant duty of locking up a drunken woman and her husband, so alleged. The man and woman have been in this condition on several occasions. They were fined five dollars and costs and not being able to pay were again locked up. After serving part of their sentence the amount necessary for their release was supplied and the woman declared this would be a lesson for her to forever hereafter quit the booze, which has disgraced her.

Captain S. H. Bennisson and John Holmes, who died at Howard the fore part of last week, were well known in Bellefonte and their numerous admiring friends deeply mourn their death. Both were exemplary citizens and were worth having as residents of any community.

Wednesday night a large portion of the residents of Bellefonte remained the greater part of the night to view any demonstration that Halley's comet might create. Hundreds of people were gathered on the hillsides and watched eagerly for the northern lights or shooting stars which the astronomers said might appear. But they were all disappointed and were never the wiser that we passed through the tail of the wandering monster. If anything like some were expecting had happened—oh, my!

About five o'clock Tuesday evening the dwelling house owned and occupied by Howard Spangler was almost destroyed by fire. The exact origin of the fire is not known but it is supposed it caught from a defective flue. At the time the fire broke out a high wind was blowing and when the fire companies reached the fire they were handicapped by a plug being out of order and also the low pressure of the water. The residence was almost destroyed but most of the furniture was saved. The flames, spread to the dwelling on either side and both these were only slightly damaged. Mr. Spangler's loss was about $1,500 to $1,700, with $1,000 insurance. Simultaneously with this alarm came one from the same ward and which was located in an old stable in the rear of Miller's hardware store. This fire was extinguished by employes of Beezer's livery before it gained much headway.

The Bellefonte curb market will open on Saturday, May 28, and be open thereafter on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday of each week.

Friends of Grocer R. S. Brouse are congratulating him upon his vindication of the charge of selling oleomargarine containing coloring matter. When the case came before the grand jury last week Dr. Wm. Frear, the State College chemist who made the analysis, stated that the color came from the use of cotton seed oil, which was used in the manufacture of all oleos and was a perfectly harmless ingredient. The grand jury promptly ignored the bill and placed the costs upon the county.

HOWARD.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the First National Bank of Howard, Mr. Abram Weber was elected president to succeed the late Captain S. H. Bennisson, and Dr. W. J. Kurtz as vice president.

A telegram was received on Friday announcing the death at New Orleans, La., of York A. Woodward, a brother of our townsman, Hon. Jno. A. Woodward.

Charles Bowes is spending the week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bowes.

Our town and surrounding community are saddened owing to the Death Ange's third visit within a week, having called our respected citizens and neighbors as follows: Captain S. H. Bennisson, John Holmes and J. Harvey Mann.

An unfortunate accident occurred on return of Mr. Holmes' funeral. The horse driven by Mrs. Chas. Yearick became frightened and upset the buggy, throwing the occupants out, breaking Mrs. Yearick's arm and severely bruising and injuring Mrs. Ross, whose home is in Linden Hall.

Duke Gladhill was called to Tyrone to attend funeral of his only brother. W. R. Gardner was taken to the Bellefonte hospital and his condition is quite satisfactory.

C. C. Lucas bought the John Smith property on Grove street and expects to erect a dwelling.

J. Harvey Mann, aged 43, died at Howard on 19th inst., after a lingering illness of two years.

His sickness was puzzling and peculiar and his request was to have an autopsy performed, which was done and revealed a clot of blood and numerous tumors on the brain. A widow survives. Interment at Eagleville on Sunday.

A Revenue Suspect.

"I'm afraid," said Deacon Hardsity, shaking his head, "we'll have to take our new preacher in hand and straighten up his doctrinals a bit." "Why, he ain't preaching heresy, is he?" asked Brother Keepalong. "Well, he comes mighty close to it. When I asked him the other day if he didn't think that the upbraiding of conscience would be one of the worst tortures of the lost souls in perdition, he said: 'Nonsense, deacon! Nobody that has a conscience will ever go there.'—Chicago Tribune.

The best thing we can do now, opines the Denver Times, is to have a new and favorable trade law with Canada outside the present tariff bill. And to that end the administration at Washington, D. C., should move with celerity.
