

CENTRE HALL REPORTER.

FRIDAY, SEP 25th 1868. FOR PRESIDENT: HORATIO SEYMOUR, of New York. FOR VICE PRESIDENT: GEN. FRANK P. BLAIR, of Missouri. DEMOCRATIC STATE NOMINATIONS FOR AUDITOR GENERAL: HON. CHARLES E. BOYLE, of Fayette County. FOR SURVEYOR GENERAL: GEN. WELLINGTON H. ENT, of Columbia County. For Congress: L. A. Mackey, Clinton county. For President Judge: Charles A. Myers, of Clinton county. For Assembly: P. Gray Meek, of Bellefonte. For District Attorney: Henry Y. Stitzer, of Bellefonte. For County Surveyor: William P. Mitchell, of Howard bor. For County Commissioner: John Bing, of Unionville. For Auditor: John Rishel, of Potter.

Then and Now. Before the abolition war, and under Democratic rule, the negroes of the south worked for their southern masters, who, in return, had to feed and clothe these blacks. So it was then. Since the war, and under abolition rule, the southern negro is relieved from work, and we northern taxpayers must feed and clothe them. This is the way the radical freedmen's bureau works. L. A. Mackey, the democratic candidate for congress, is for making the negro work to earn his own living, just as we northern people must work to earn our living, and he is for abolishing the negro feeding bureau. Wm. H. Armstrong is for keeping up the expensive bureau, and making the northern working man pay for keeping the negro.

Look Out! We notice that the radicals of our country all of sudden have changed tactics, and are now making a quiet but fierce fight in secret, to defeat our gallant nominee for the legislature, Mr. Meek. They are engaged in some dark and secret plot to do this, and least that they will defeat him. We don't believe this can be done, but we caution democrats to be on the look out. Be prepared against radical lies and schemes privately circulated against Mr. Meek. Mr. Meek was in the Legislature one term, and in his record there is not the least flaw to make any Democrat withhold from him his vote, therefore all that will be circulated against him by the radicals, will be slander and falsehood out of whole cloth. What the radicals wish to defeat Hon. P. G. Meek for, is to gain a vote for the election of a radical U. S. Senator next winter! Do you see the importance of it, Democrats? Now then, up and at them, boys, and swell the majority for Meek and the entire county ticket.

MISCHIEF. The rads of Centre county are bent upon some wicked political scheme—all their recent movements show that they are plotting to gain the election, fairly or unfairly. What could take the radical chairman, Wm. P. Wilson, in company with Youcum, Ely, Blanchard and J. T. Johnson, all Bellefonte rads, on a secret mission to Pennsylvania on Saturday night last? There was no radical meeting in our valley which required their attendance; they certainly did not pass through Centre Hall to attend religious worship, for we never heard it charged that they attended preaching at home in Bellefonte; they did not come over here to transact any legitimate business, for it was bordering too closely upon the Sabbath to go that distance from Bellefonte for business; they did not come over here to tell any one they had repented of their political sins, and were now making "pilgrims progress" for the election of Seymour; and the salvation of the country, for their looks were too shy to "sneaky"; they could not have come over here on an honest mission, for they still belong to a party whose whole stock in trade is dishonesty; they did not come over here to spend a pleasant Saturday evening with the fair daughters of Pennsylvania, for not one of these that will keep the company of Bellefonte lawyers who talk Grant and negro equality. Then what brought these radical worthies on a sly slip to Pennsylvania? Has any one's hen-roost been pilfered or does any one miss a ham from his smoke-house, then have this quartet arrested, at once, upon suspicion. As these radical geats had just about as little business in our valley last Saturday night, as a little boy has to be running on the street after dark, we warn Democrats to keep vigilant watch for some deep political plot.

ARMSTRONG'S TWISTINGS.

The Bellefonte National contains the reports of radical meetings, held in this county last week, and from the report of the Bollsburg meeting, we copy the following:

He (Mr. Armstrong) read from the Centre Hall Reporter, the forth resolution of the Democratic Platform, which declares for "Equal Taxation upon all species of property;" and proceeded to show the honest farmers and mechanics of Harris township, the effect it would have upon them. That under this system their farms would be taxed according to their real value. This system would compel the farmer to pay more than $300 in tax, when he does not now pay more than $30. He showed them that the Republican system exempts their farms entirely from taxation.

Now such clap-trap and torture of a resolution as this, either shows that Wm. H. Armstrong is shallow minded and therefore unfit to represent this district in congress, or that he goes about willfully putting a wrong construction upon the 4th resolution. We have no objection to Mr. Armstrong's carrying the Reporter with him and reading its wholesome truths to every voter in the 18th congressional district, as such would thereby get more truth and light, than by a thousand of Armstrong's twisty speeches.

Wm. H. Armstrong knows that the above construction which he puts upon the 4th resolution of the democratic platform is false, and is proof that he and his party are driven into a tight place for argument, and are forced to the dishonorable resort of misrepresentation. By "equal taxation" the democratic platform demands that the rich bond-holder shall be equally taxed with the farmer and mechanic to keep our paupers, to keep up the roads, to keep up the schools, to keep up the county and state; the bond-holder is exempt from all this taxation, his children enjoy the school privileges, he uses the roads and he enjoys the protection of the government and the poorer classes have to pay for it and he pays not one cent. Any taxpayer who says this is right must be a fool, because he favors a policy which throws his hard earnings directly into the pockets of the rich. If the farmers of Harris township approve of such a suicidal policy as this radical one, then we have nothing further to say, and Armstrong is the man who they should vote for for congress; if, on the other hand, the citizens of Harris township wish to see that every man here his share of taxation, then vote for L. A. Mackey.

Armstrong is for having a privileged class of nabobs in this country, composed of the rich, who shall pay no taxes. Mackey says, the rich must pay "equally" with the poor, according to their "value," now, farmers, mechanics, and laboring men, choose ye between Armstrong and Mackey.

"Our candidate for Congress, Col. Mackey, is in the best of spirits, and has strong hopes of being able to overcome the Radical majority in the District. If "old Centre" and Lycoming only do their duty, as Clinton intends to do hers, a wave of popular sentiment will wash over the shores of Tioga and Potter counties that will burn out the last remaining fires that dawn around the Radical camp. Do your duty, then, Democrats of Centre and Lycoming, and our friends in the upper counties will do theirs. Mackey must be elected; else we will have fastened upon us a political ulcer that will eat away our vitals and waste the substance of the people." (Clinton Democrat.)

Never fear, neighbor, old Centre is wide awake, and will do the handsome thing for Mackey and equal taxation. Pennsylvania, the citadel of Centre co. Democracy, will roll up such a majority this year against congressional tyranny and usurpation, as to "astonish the natives."

ALARMED. The Centre county rads, within the last week, seem very much alarmed as all their movements would go to show. They have wakened up to the fact that an overwhelming defeat stares the party in the face, and this has set them to bestirring themselves like monkeys. They are frightened into the phrensy of despair, determined, before going under, to hit the Democracy as many blows as possible. Get ready, Democrats, for the second Tuesday of October; don't let a single Democratic vote be lost, and let these assassins of constitutional liberty be buried so deep, that resurrection will never know them.

For several years now, in accordance with radical law, the rich have been exempt from taxation, and as "turn about is fair play," how would it sound to have the laboring man exempt from taxation while, and make the rich pay taxes?

But, as two wrongs don't make one right, the Democrats do not propose this, and we only ask you to vote for Mackey that we may have equal taxation.

ANSWER, RADICALS.

You, and Armstrong, say the bond-save the government. Very well, we will admit that for argument's sake, and will ask you radicals a few questions which we will allow you to answer through the columns of the Reporter, if you can:

1st. Who risked the most, the bondholder who remained at home and only risked some of his wealth, or the man who left his home and risked his life upon the battle-field?

You must admit the latter risked the most, then.

2nd. Where, according to radical regulation, is the justice in paying the bondholder for his, the lesser risk, in hard money, and paying the poor soldier, who ran the greater risk, in rag money?

3rd. Mr. Pendleton, when in congress, during the war, introduced a proposition for paying the soldier in gold, and the radical congress put its foot upon the proposition and insisted that the bond-holder be paid in gold! Is this fair?

The Harrisburg Morning Patriot is now one the foremost democratic dailies in the state. Its telegraphic news despatches are late, full and complete, and in the spirit and ability of its editorial department, it ranks with the foremost.

Washington, Sept. 19th.—Senator Morgan and Gen. Schenck are in receipt of telegraphic dispatches from republican members of congress, which remove all anxiety about a quorum. There will be a sufficient number here on Monday evening to form a business quorum, without the aid of any of the Democratic members.

The National Intelligencer forcibly remarks, "the farmer is told that times are not so bad when he can command two dollars a bushel for wheat and one dollar and twenty cents for corn, and other things in proportion. But the question for the farmer is not so much what is the nominal price of his produce, but what is his purchasing power. He cannot buy as much with his two dollars as he finds himself at the close of the year with less money in fact, though, perhaps, more in name than he did before the era of greenbacks. The paper dollar, which is a legal tender and nominally a dollar, though worth less than seventy cents, has disturbed all the values of the country, and the brickmaker, finds it harder work to feed and clothe his family than he did when his wages were not quite so high sounding, but more real."

GEORGIA. Terrible Riot—An Armed Mob of 400 Negroes and Carpet-baggers Attack the Town of Camilla—75 Persons Killed and Wounded. Augusta, Sept. 21.—A fearful riot is reported to have occurred at Camilla, the county seat of Mitchell county, Georgia, last Saturday. Mr. Pierce the Radical candidate for Congress, and Mr. Murphy, an ex-Bureau agent, with about 300 negroes, armed and equipped, started on Friday for Camilla, with three weeks' rations and boxes of new arms and accoutrements, their intention being, it is said, to overawe the citizens and kill the leading Democrats of the town and vicinity. Before they started a friendly negro exposed their plans, and a negro courier was dispatched to Camilla to inform the citizens of what was going on. A deputation of three prominent citizens met the mob at China Church, five miles from the town. The Governor's proclamation disarming and forbidding armed organizations was read. The mob paid no attention, and determined to march on the town and kill such as they chose. Twice more the deputation remonstrated, entreating to come in without arms, and they should not be molested. Their efforts were fruitless to dissuade the negroes, and the mob marched into town, with banners flying and drums beating. They numbered nearly four hundred, having been joined by others on the route. The mob halted and clamored for the blood of a man named Johns, in company with Dr. Twitty, presented himself, when a hundred guns were presented at them. The former, being intoxicated, fired, and the riot commenced, the mob firing at every one they could see. The citizens white and colored, rallied, gathering about fifty stand of arms. The mob was vigorously attacked and driven back, beating a hasty retreat, which spread into a panic. The negroes were pursued five miles, losing thirty-five killed and many wounded, the total loss, as far as ascertained, being from seventy-five to one hundred in killed and wounded. Owing to the panic among the mob, only five whites were severely wounded. The colored citizens of Camilla are reported to have rallied promptly with the whites in defeating the mob, whose stores and munitions were captured. At last reports Camilla was quiet.

The President is much pleased at the failure to re-nominate General Butler.

Keep It Before The People.

That since the Radicals have had possession of the State Government, SIXTY-FIVE MILLIONS OF DOLLARS have been received at the State Treasury, only four millions of which have been applied to the payment of the State debt.

KEEP IT BEFORE THE PEOPLE that since the Radicals came into possession of the State Government, TWENTY FIVE MILLIONS OF DOLLARS were received at the State Treasury, which under the law, should have gone into the Sinking Fund for the payment of the State Debt, and that TWENTY-ONE MILLIONS of that sum went somewhere else.

KEEP IT BEFORE THE PEOPLE that the Radicals have increased the rate of interest on the State Debt from 4% and 5% to 6% per cent., making the interest $201,000 per annum more than it was under Democratic rule.

KEEP IT BEFORE THE PEOPLE that during the ten years of Radical ascendancy in the Legislature, the expenses of that body were ONE MILLION, ONE HUNDRED AND TWENTY THOUSAND DOLLARS more than the preceding ten years of Democratic ascendancy.

KEEP IT BEFORE THE PEOPLE that the Auditor General's office, under Hartranft, has cost nearly $20,000 more than under his predecessors.

KEEP IT BEFORE THE PEOPLE that the Radical Auditor General, Hartranft, and the Radical State Treasurer, Kenble, paid out to special committees of the Legislature, nearly $10,000, last year, in defiance of the law forbidding the same.

KEEP IT BEFORE THE PEOPLE that General Hartranft, Mr. Kenble, the Radical State Committee, not a single Radical newspaper in the State, DARES DENY THESE FACTS.

KEEP IT BEFORE THE PEOPLE that we will forfeit one thousand dollars to Auditor General Hartranft, or any other Radical, if upon a public investigation, before an impartial tribunal, the above statements are found not to be true.—Patriot.

An Unanswerable Greenback Argument.

In front of one of the Democratic club rooms of Detroit has been put up a splendidly painted greenback, several feet three inches in length by three feet one and a half inches wide, showing the back of the bill, in color and lathe work a perfect counterpart, as well as the central circle containing the following copy from the genuine greenback: This note is a legal tender for all debts, public and private, except duties on imports, and interests on the public debt, and is receivable in payment of all loans made to the United States. Above the greenback, painted on a canvas twenty-seven feet long by one yard wide, is the following: When the obligations of the Government do not expressly state upon their face that they shall be paid in coin, they ought to be paid in the lawful money of the United States.—Democrat's Platform, July 7, 1868.

And below the greenback the following: I will vote for no such swindle on the tax payers of the country as to pay bloated bond-holders and speculators in coin, that which is (by law) payable in lawful money.—Thad. Steves, July 17, 1868.

These three extracts from an argument that no Radical, no bondholder, can answer.

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—Foreign papers state that Aix la Chapelle letters mention that the city of Triery Trevi, in Rhenish Prussia, is fully armed and prepared to sustain the siege. A garrison, numbering twelve thousand, in Rhenish Prussia, is alive with troops, and forty thousand men are ready to siege Luxembourg and forty themselves there, should a telegram from Berlin order them to do so.

A insane man, named Michael Conlon, stabbed his wife this morning while asleep in bed. Her cries brought to her two men who were also stabbed by Conlon. The men were seriously and the woman slightly injured. Conlon was secured.

"The wickedest woman" in Boston has been discovered. She goes to ride on Sunday, never goes to church, attends from sixty to one hundred dancing parties during the season, drinks up her husband's money, (whisky), and smokes his fragrant Havanas.

The editor of a journal in a small Western town bought five pounds of powdered sugar. He found that it was mixed with plaster, and announced in his paper the next day that if the grocer who had so shamefully cheated him did not make amends, he would publish his name. Before nine o'clock in the morning, he had received five packages of five pounds each. There was just five grocers in town.

Naturalists assert that the leaves of trees are continually in a fluttering motion in order to purify the air by flapping it. And perhaps the continual motion of a woman's tongue is to assist in shaking and jolting the atmosphere for a similar purpose.

STRAWS!

On last Monday morning, as Judge Allison informs us, a vote on the train

A German of Chicago offers to bet

eight punchcoons of wine, worth $2,000, that Grant will carry Chicago.—Tribune. Another German offers to bet that Grant can drink the eight punchcoons before he is elected.

HEAR FROM MAINE!

The official returns from Maine are now in, and show a republican loss of 10,543 since last presidential election. How are you Grant! How are you negro suffrage? How are you carpet buggers?

Registration of Voters in England.

London, September 16.—The registration of voters for the forthcoming Parliamentary elections, which will commence about the 13th of November next, is being presented with great diligence throughout the British Islands. At many places, women formally demanded that their names be placed on the list of voters, on the ground that they possessed the property qualifications prescribed by the reform bill, and the legal aspects of the question, as well as the extent of the movement, have excited much public interest on the subject. Over six thousand women claimed the right to be registered in Manchester alone, and their demands were urged in an able speech before the registering officials by Miss Lydia Brecker. After all argument on both sides the claim was disallowed. Similar proceedings took place in other towns, and in some cases the question has been brought before the Judges of Westminster. They have overruled the application of women to be registered as voters on the ground that an amendment to the Reform bill which was proposed in the House of Commons by Mr. Mills, substituting the word "person" for "man," was rejected. By this action the House clearly indicated the intent and purpose of the bill in this respect.

WOMEN DEMANDING THE RIGHT TO VOTE.

London, September 16.—The registration of voters for the forthcoming Parliamentary elections, which will commence about the 13th of November next, is being presented with great diligence throughout the British Islands. At many places, women formally demanded that their names be placed on the list of voters, on the ground that they possessed the property qualifications prescribed by the reform bill, and the legal aspects of the question, as well as the extent of the movement, have excited much public interest on the subject. Over six thousand women claimed the right to be registered in Manchester alone, and their demands were urged in an able speech before the registering officials by Miss Lydia Brecker. After all argument on both sides the claim was disallowed. Similar proceedings took place in other towns, and in some cases the question has been brought before the Judges of Westminster. They have overruled the application of women to be registered as voters on the ground that an amendment to the Reform bill which was proposed in the House of Commons by Mr. Mills, substituting the word "person" for "man," was rejected. By this action the House clearly indicated the intent and purpose of the bill in this respect.

London, September 16.—The registration of voters for the forthcoming Parliamentary elections, which will commence about the 13th of November next, is being presented with great diligence throughout the British Islands. At many places, women formally demanded that their names be placed on the list of voters, on the ground that they possessed the property qualifications prescribed by the reform bill, and the legal aspects of the question, as well as the extent of the movement, have excited much public interest on the subject. Over six thousand women claimed the right to be registered in Manchester alone, and their demands were urged in an able speech before the registering officials by Miss Lydia Brecker. After all argument on both sides the claim was disallowed. Similar proceedings took place in other towns, and in some cases the question has been brought before the Judges of Westminster. They have overruled the application of women to be registered as voters on the ground that an amendment to the Reform bill which was proposed in the House of Commons by Mr. Mills, substituting the word "person" for "man," was rejected. By this action the House clearly indicated the intent and purpose of the bill in this respect.

London, September 16.—The registration of voters for the forthcoming Parliamentary elections, which will commence about the 13th of November next, is being presented with great diligence throughout the British Islands. At many places, women formally demanded that their names be placed on the list of voters, on the ground that they possessed the property qualifications prescribed by the reform bill, and the legal aspects of the question, as well as the extent of the movement, have excited much public interest on the subject. Over six thousand women claimed the right to be registered in Manchester alone, and their demands were urged in an able speech before the registering officials by Miss Lydia Brecker. After all argument on both sides the claim was disallowed. Similar proceedings took place in other towns, and in some cases the question has been brought before the Judges of Westminster. They have overruled the application of women to be registered as voters on the ground that an amendment to the Reform bill which was proposed in the House of Commons by Mr. Mills, substituting the word "person" for "man," was rejected. By this action the House clearly indicated the intent and purpose of the bill in this respect.

London, September 16.—The registration of voters for the forthcoming Parliamentary elections, which will commence about the 13th of November next, is being presented with great diligence throughout the British Islands. At many places, women formally demanded that their names be placed on the list of voters, on the ground that they possessed the property qualifications prescribed by the reform bill, and the legal aspects of the question, as well as the extent of the movement, have excited much public interest on the subject. Over six thousand women claimed the right to be registered in Manchester alone, and their demands were urged in an able speech before the registering officials by Miss Lydia Brecker. After all argument on both sides the claim was disallowed. Similar proceedings took place in other towns, and in some cases the question has been brought before the Judges of Westminster. They have overruled the application of women to be registered as voters on the ground that an amendment to the Reform bill which was proposed in the House of Commons by Mr. Mills, substituting the word "person" for "man," was rejected. By this action the House clearly indicated the intent and purpose of the bill in this respect.

London, September 16.—The registration of voters for the forthcoming Parliamentary elections, which will commence about the 13th of November next, is being presented with great diligence throughout the British Islands. At many places, women formally demanded that their names be placed on the list of voters, on the ground that they possessed the property qualifications prescribed by the reform bill, and the legal aspects of the question, as well as the extent of the movement, have excited much public interest on the subject. Over six thousand women claimed the right to be registered in Manchester alone, and their demands were urged in an able speech before the registering officials by Miss Lydia Brecker. After all argument on both sides the claim was disallowed. Similar proceedings took place in other towns, and in some cases the question has been brought before the Judges of Westminster. They have overruled the application of women to be registered as voters on the ground that an amendment to the Reform bill which was proposed in the House of Commons by Mr. Mills, substituting the word "person" for "man," was rejected. By this action the House clearly indicated the intent and purpose of the bill in this respect.

London, September 16.—The registration of voters for the forthcoming Parliamentary elections, which will commence about the 13th of November next, is being presented with great diligence throughout the British Islands. At many places, women formally demanded that their names be placed on the list of voters, on the ground that they possessed the property qualifications prescribed by the reform bill, and the legal aspects of the question, as well as the extent of the movement, have excited much public interest on the subject. Over six thousand women claimed the right to be registered in Manchester alone, and their demands were urged in an able speech before the registering officials by Miss Lydia Brecker. After all argument on both sides the claim was disallowed. Similar proceedings took place in other towns, and in some cases the question has been brought before the Judges of Westminster. They have overruled the application of women to be registered as voters on the ground that an amendment to the Reform bill which was proposed in the House of Commons by Mr. Mills, substituting the word "person" for "man," was rejected. By this action the House clearly indicated the intent and purpose of the bill in this respect.

London, September 16.—The registration of voters for the forthcoming Parliamentary elections, which will commence about the 13th of November next, is being presented with great diligence throughout the British Islands. At many places, women formally demanded that their names be placed on the list of voters, on the ground that they possessed the property qualifications prescribed by the reform bill, and the legal aspects of the question, as well as the extent of the movement, have excited much public interest on the subject. Over six thousand women claimed the right to be registered in Manchester alone, and their demands were urged in an able speech before the registering officials by Miss Lydia Brecker. After all argument on both sides the claim was disallowed. Similar proceedings took place in other towns, and in some cases the question has been brought before the Judges of Westminster. They have overruled the application of women to be registered as voters on the ground that an amendment to the Reform bill which was proposed in the House of Commons by Mr. Mills, substituting the word "person" for "man," was rejected. By this action the House clearly indicated the intent and purpose of the bill in this respect.

London, September 16.—The registration of voters for the forthcoming Parliamentary elections, which will commence about the 13th of November next, is being presented with great diligence throughout the British Islands. At many places, women formally demanded that their names be placed on the list of voters, on the ground that they possessed the property qualifications prescribed by the reform bill, and the legal aspects of the question, as well as the extent of the movement, have excited much public interest on the subject. Over six thousand women claimed the right to be registered in Manchester alone, and their demands were urged in an able speech before the registering officials by Miss Lydia Brecker. After all argument on both sides the claim was disallowed. Similar proceedings took place in other towns, and in some cases the question has been brought before the Judges of Westminster. They have overruled the application of women to be registered as voters on the ground that an amendment to the Reform bill which was proposed in the House of Commons by Mr. Mills, substituting the word "person" for "man," was rejected. By this action the House clearly indicated the intent and purpose of the bill in this respect.

London, September 16.—The registration of voters for the forthcoming Parliamentary elections, which will commence about the 13th of November next, is being presented with great diligence throughout the British Islands. At many places, women formally demanded that their names be placed on the list of voters, on the ground that they possessed the property qualifications prescribed by the reform bill, and the legal aspects of the question, as well as the extent of the movement, have excited much public interest on the subject. Over six thousand women claimed the right to be registered in Manchester alone, and their demands were urged in an able speech before the registering officials by Miss Lydia Brecker. After all argument on both sides the claim was disallowed. Similar proceedings took place in other towns, and in some cases the question has been brought before the Judges of Westminster. They have overruled the application of women to be registered as voters on the ground that an amendment to the Reform bill which was proposed in the House of Commons by Mr. Mills, substituting the word "person" for "man," was rejected. By this action the House clearly indicated the intent and purpose of the bill in this respect.

London, September 16.—The registration of voters for the forthcoming Parliamentary elections, which will commence about the 13th of November next, is being presented with great diligence throughout the British Islands. At many places, women formally demanded that their names be placed on the list of voters, on the ground that they possessed the property qualifications prescribed by the reform bill, and the legal aspects of the question, as well as the extent of the movement, have excited much public interest on the subject. Over six thousand women claimed the right to be registered in Manchester alone, and their demands were urged in an able speech before the registering officials by Miss Lydia Brecker. After all argument on both sides the claim was disallowed. Similar proceedings took place in other towns, and in some cases the question has been brought before the Judges of Westminster. They have overruled the application of women to be registered as voters on the ground that an amendment to the Reform bill which was proposed in the House of Commons by Mr. Mills, substituting the word "person" for "man," was rejected. By this action the House clearly indicated the intent and purpose of the bill in this respect.

London, September 16.—The registration of voters for the forthcoming Parliamentary elections, which will commence about the 13th of November next, is being presented with great diligence throughout the British Islands. At many places, women formally demanded that their names be placed on the list of voters, on the ground that they possessed the property qualifications prescribed by the reform bill, and the legal aspects of the question, as well as the extent of the movement, have excited much public interest on the subject. Over six thousand women claimed the right to be registered in Manchester alone, and their demands were urged in an able speech before the registering officials by Miss Lydia Brecker. After all argument on both sides the claim was disallowed. Similar proceedings took place in other towns, and in some cases the question has been brought before the Judges of Westminster. They have overruled the application of women to be registered as voters on the ground that an amendment to the Reform bill which was proposed in the House of Commons by Mr. Mills, substituting the word "person" for "man," was rejected. By this action the House clearly indicated the intent and purpose of the bill in this respect.

London, September 16.—The registration of voters for the forthcoming Parliamentary elections, which will commence about the 13th of November next, is being presented with great diligence throughout the British Islands. At many places, women formally demanded that their names be placed on the list of voters, on the ground that they possessed the property qualifications prescribed by the reform bill, and the legal aspects of the question, as well as the extent of the movement, have excited much public interest on the subject. Over six thousand women claimed the right to be registered in Manchester alone, and their demands were urged in an able speech before the registering officials by Miss Lydia Brecker. After all argument on both sides the claim was disallowed. Similar proceedings took place in other towns, and in some cases the question has been brought before the Judges of Westminster. They have overruled the application of women to be registered as voters on the ground that an amendment to the Reform bill which was proposed in the House of Commons by Mr. Mills, substituting the word "person" for "man," was rejected. By this action the House clearly indicated the intent and purpose of the bill in this respect.

London, September 16.—The registration of voters for the forthcoming Parliamentary elections, which will commence about the 13th of November next, is being presented with great diligence throughout the British Islands. At many places, women formally demanded that their names be placed on the list of voters, on the ground that they possessed the property qualifications prescribed by the reform bill, and the legal aspects of the question, as well as the extent of the movement, have excited much public interest on the subject. Over six thousand women claimed the right to be registered in Manchester alone, and their demands were urged in an able speech before the registering officials by Miss Lydia Brecker. After all argument on both sides the claim was disallowed. Similar proceedings took place in other towns, and in some cases the question has been brought before the Judges of Westminster. They have overruled the application of women to be registered as voters on the ground that an amendment to the Reform bill which was proposed in the House of Commons by Mr. Mills, substituting the word "person" for "man," was rejected. By this action the House clearly indicated the intent and purpose of the bill in this respect.

London, September 16.—The registration of voters for the forthcoming Parliamentary elections, which will commence about the 13th of November next, is being presented with great diligence throughout the British Islands. At many places, women formally demanded that their names be placed on the list of voters, on the ground that they possessed the property qualifications prescribed by the reform bill, and the legal aspects of the question, as well as the extent of the movement, have excited much public interest on the subject. Over six thousand women claimed the right to be registered in Manchester alone, and their demands were urged in an able speech before the registering officials by Miss Lydia Brecker. After all argument on both sides the claim was disallowed. Similar proceedings took place in other towns, and in some cases the question has been brought before the Judges of Westminster. They have overruled the application of women to be registered as voters on the ground that an amendment to the Reform bill which was proposed in the House of Commons by Mr. Mills, substituting the word "person" for "man," was rejected. By this action the House clearly indicated the intent and purpose of the bill in this respect.

London, September 16.—The registration of voters for the forthcoming Parliamentary elections, which will commence about the 13th of November next, is being presented with great diligence throughout the British Islands. At many places, women formally demanded that their names be placed on the list of voters, on the ground that they possessed the property qualifications prescribed by the reform bill, and the legal aspects of the question, as well as the extent of the movement, have excited much public interest on the subject. Over six thousand women claimed the right to be registered in Manchester alone, and their demands were urged in an able speech before the registering officials by Miss Lydia Brecker. After all argument on both sides the claim was disallowed. Similar proceedings took place in other towns, and in some cases the question has been brought before the Judges of Westminster. They have overruled the application of women to be registered as voters on the ground that an amendment to the Reform bill which was proposed in the House of Commons by Mr. Mills, substituting the word "person" for "man," was rejected. By this action the House clearly indicated the intent and purpose of the bill in this respect.

London, September 16.—The registration of voters for the forthcoming Parliamentary elections, which will commence about the 13th of November next, is being presented with great diligence throughout the British Islands. At many places, women formally demanded that their names be placed on the list of voters, on the ground that they possessed the property qualifications prescribed by the reform bill, and the legal aspects of the question, as well as the extent of the movement, have excited much public interest on the subject. Over six thousand women claimed the right to be registered in Manchester alone, and their demands were urged in an able speech before the registering officials by Miss Lydia Brecker. After all argument on both sides the claim was disallowed. Similar proceedings took place in other towns, and in some cases the question has been brought before the Judges of Westminster. They have overruled the application of women to be registered as voters on the ground that an amendment to the Reform bill which was proposed in the House of Commons by Mr. Mills, substituting the word "person" for "man," was rejected. By this action the House clearly indicated the intent and purpose of the bill in this respect.

London, September 16.—The registration of voters for the forthcoming Parliamentary elections, which will commence about the 13th of November next, is being presented with great diligence throughout the British Islands. At many places, women formally demanded that their names be placed on the list of voters, on the ground that they possessed the property qualifications prescribed by the reform bill, and the legal aspects of the question, as well as the extent of the movement, have excited much public interest on the subject. Over six thousand women claimed the right to be registered in Manchester alone, and their demands were urged in an able speech before the registering officials by Miss Lydia Brecker. After all argument on both sides the claim was disallowed. Similar proceedings took place in other towns, and in some cases the question has been brought before the Judges of Westminster. They have overruled the application of women to be registered as voters on the ground that an amendment to the Reform bill which was proposed in the House of Commons by Mr. Mills, substituting the word "person" for "man," was rejected. By this action the House clearly indicated the intent and purpose of the bill in this respect.

London, September 16.—The registration of voters for the forthcoming Parliamentary elections, which will commence about the 13th of November next, is being presented with great diligence throughout the British Islands. At many places, women formally demanded that their names be placed on the list of voters, on the ground that they possessed the property qualifications prescribed by the reform bill, and the legal aspects of the question, as well as the extent of the movement, have excited much public interest on the subject. Over six thousand women claimed the right to be registered in Manchester alone, and their demands were urged in an able speech before the registering officials by Miss Lydia Brecker. After all argument on both sides the claim was disallowed. Similar proceedings took place in other towns, and in some cases the question has been brought before the Judges of Westminster. They have overruled the application of women to be registered as voters on the ground that an amendment to the Reform bill which was proposed in the House of Commons by Mr. Mills, substituting the word "person" for "man," was rejected. By this action the House clearly indicated the intent and purpose of the bill in this respect.

Diarrhea, September 18.—The Emperor Napoleon, Empress Eugenie, and Prince Imperial to-day made a visit to Queen Isabella of Spain, at Sebastin.

MENTA, September 18.—A Terrible explosion took place at a cartridge factory in this city to-day. Thirty persons were killed on the spot, and eighty two were badly injured. The building, in which the explosion occurred, was torn to pieces.

In a fashionable church at Pittsfield, Mass., strangers are seated according to dress. More antique and honiton close to the pulpit, muslin half way up the aisle, last years bonnet back at the door.

Ex-President Pierce is getting well rapidly, and on Saturday had recovered sufficiently to dress and partake of breakfast with his family. His chief trouble now is a sore throat which renders the swallowing of solid or liquid food very painful. He gains strength very slowly, being able to eat but little. He may be able to ride out in the course of a week.

NEW ORLEANS, September 19.—The Senate yesterday passed finally the negro equality bill, which prohibits any distinction being made in any place of public resort, of any public conveyance, on account of race or color, under penalty of fine and imprisonment.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Public Sale! Of Horses, Cattle, and Sheep at CENTRE HALL, Centre county, ON SATURDAY, OCT. 3rd, 1868. Ten Horses, Four Cattle, Seventy-Five Head of Cattle, Four Hundred Head of Sheep. To be sold without reserve. Sale to commence at 10 o'clock, a. m.

TERMS.—Sixty days credit will be given by giving notes with approved security, or 2 per cent. off for Cash. J. H. WILSON, sep25

Notice! THE REPORT that the Union Pacific Railroad is completed.

IS FALSE! THE TRUTH IS, THAT ABRAHAM HIRSH HAS COMPLETED HIS NEW STORE IN MILROY.

for the sale of READY-MADE CLOTHING, & Gent's Furnishing Goods.

at VERY LOW FIGURES! Please come, and judge for yourself. Remnants of COALS, OATS, RYE, OATS, BARLEY, and all kinds of Grain and Seeds.

We keep constantly on hand PLASTER, COAL, SALT and Field.

The Railroad depot is in the same building. GEO. BLYMYER, JOS. P. BLYMYER, sep18,6m

Awful!

The Public Debt increased about Ten Millions in one month, but the next grand topic is the immense quantity of received to supply the Millions, by Abraham Hirsh at Milroy.

Ready Made Clothing

The undersigned respectfully announces the opening of a NEW STORE IN MILROY, for the sale of Ready Made Clothing and Gent's Furnishing Goods, cut to suit the LATEST PARISIAN STYLES, and to be sold cheap. Please give me a call and see for yourself. ABRAHAM HIRSH, sep18,6m

New Shoe Shop!