Written for the Reporter.

TO MY FATHER.

Father, I am lonely to-night; My thoughts fondly cling to the past; And time has seemed a row in a flight; Since I gazed on your kind face last.

How well I remember the day When I bade you good-bye at the door; And when the great tear-drops away, As I thought, I sought a you no more.

While I sit here to-night, all alone, The days of my childhood return; The days when you brightly shone, And nothing did cause me to mourn.

These happy, innocent days, When I clambered, with joy, on your knee; And knew naught of sin and its ways; How delightful the world was to me.

But those days have now passed away, And have drawn me away from your side; When I see that your dark hair has grown grey, I think how rapid is time in its tide.

Oh, when discouragements I meet, When trials obstruct my dear way, Your voice in a tone firm and sweet, Calls me on to live and be blest.

Father, when many long years shall have flown, When you, calmly, peacefully rest, When God shall have claimed you his own, I shall rise-up and say, dear father, be blest.

TAX ON SPLITTING - There is a tax on splitting, as well as on other luxuries. We need a box of obnoxious, about two feet long, lying before Wm. Wolf's store, next door to the Reporter office, a few days ago, upon which the tax was $8.75. Ho! ye radical choppers of the woods and sorters of tobacco juice, who say you pay no taxes, how's this? are you not even taxed for the innocent amusement of splitting?

Does a little extra exertion produce palpitation of the heart? Does your liver, or urinary organs, or your kidneys, frequently get out of order? Is your urine sometimes thick, milky, or sticky, or is itropy on setting? Or does a thick, slimy, or ropy sediment at the bottom after it has stood awhile? Do you have spells of short breathing or dyspnea? Are your bowels constipated? Do you have spells of fainting, or rushes of blood to the head? Is your memory impaired? Is your mind constantly dwelling upon this subject? Do you feel full, listless, mooping tired of company, of life? Do you wish to be left alone, to get away from everybody? Does any little thing make you start or jump? Do you sleep broken or restless? Is the lustre of your eye as brilliant? Do you bloom on your cheek as bright? Do you enjoy yourself in society as well? Do you pursue your usual avocations with the same energy? Are you self-assured, confident in yourself? Are your spirits dull and flagging, given to fits of melancholy? If so, do not lay it to your liver or dyspepsia. Have your restlessness, your back weak, your knees weak, and have but little appetite, and you attribute this to dyspepsia or liver-complaint?

Read, self-abuse, veneral diseases badly cured, and sexual excesses, as all capable of producing a weakness of the generative organs.
