Corruption of the Ruling Party. The Pittsburgh Post says :

Proofs of the astounding corruption of public men are multiplying every day. Turn which way we will, and there is little relief to the sad picture. The nice sense of honor and high toned virtue that were once considered essential to men in public trusts, are no longer to be found ; unscrupulous venality and depraved cunning have taken their place, and make up characters that receive partisan applause on view was as pleasant as on former the one condition of success. Mammon as it secures power, and power as it secures mammon, are the bjects sought for, and the motives for which they are sought; and winning them, crowns the possessors of both, with glory and honor. The dishorored country, the plundered people, the contagion of immoral example, weigh not a feather against the solid fruits of suc-eseful chicanery. Some men occupying seats in the Senate of the United States, are flatter- by a visitor that she was sick, but was ed and fawned upon, though it is as certainly known that they secured their seats by bribery, as if the money had been counted down before the world, at noon day.

It no longer requires audacity to buy those seats. It has become a set tled business, at any rate, at Harris burg and Albany, and members, expec ing to be bought, look upon their Twitchell in the presence of Rev. Grand Jury-He Tells some Wholesome Truths.

PHILADELPHIA, April 5.-Judge Brewster, in his charge to the grand jury, said: "It is to be feared that we deal too leniently with those who make crime their profession, and that we, at times, endeavor to atone for this error by rushing into the opposite extreme of indiscriminate prosecution of the innocent along with the guilty, I would recommend you to see to it. that no criminal goes unpunished by our remissness, and that no innocent persons suffer the delay of an hour in securing his discharge. It is time that the bad should be made to feel the power of the law. It has come to pass, gentlemen that men are shot down or stoned to death upon our highways, and that the law seems as powerless for their vindication as it was for their protection. The grand juries hesitate s to find tray bills, and potit juries often refuse to convict, except of inferior grades, and frequently coupling these verdicts with recommendations to mercy, and even in an occasional case of great atrocity, when a conviction is followed by sentence to death the Executive is besieged for a pardon.
