CENTRE HALL REPORTER.
FRIDAY, JULY 2nd 1890.

A Little Game Spoiled.
Yesterday morning, says the Pittsburg Post, the husband of a young and pretty wife in Allegheny city, recently married, left the breakfast table, telling his life-partner that he would be absent for a few days, as he found it necessary to make a business trip to the east. The wife, from some cause, suspected that the proposed trip was not strictly "business," and she therefore concluded to keep her eye on the Union Depot. Bonnet and shawl were donned, and it was not long ere the half-jealous "frau" was at the starting point of the eastern train, in a state of eager expectancy. In her rambles through the depot she met a young girl, who, from her manner, was evidently waiting for some one. A closer inspection developed the fact that this young damsel wore a breast pin containing an excellent likeness of the husband of the female afore mentioned. She questioned the woman with the picture, and learned to her dismay that she was soon to be married to the original. She lost no time in informing the girl that the original was her husband, and asked her to accompany her to her home, where she would produce abundant proof in the shape of two pretty little children. The request was complied with, and the girl was satisfied. The deserted wife saw the young lady off on the Johnstown accommodation, and returned to her little children. The husband saw enough to keep him r'way from the depot. He is to be pitied.

The way they do things in Williamsburg District, South Carolina, offers a charming illustration of the practical effects of reconstruction. At the present term of the Court of General Sessions, which commenced on Monday of last week, out of thirty-one petit jurors summoned, twenty three were negroes and only eight were white men. Of the Grand Jury twelve were negroes, and seven white. As but eighteen of the petit jurors, answered the summons, thirteen extra jurors, all of them negroes, were drawn from the bystanders. Out of these, two sets of jurymen were empaneled. The first jury was made up of ten negroes and two whites the second had not a white man on it. Of the last mentioned jury only one negro was found who could write his name, and he, by order of the Judge, was appointed foreman.

Williamsburg District, being adjacent to the district in which the city of Charleston is situated, was at one time covered by large plantations worked exclusively by negroes. The result of the war has been to liberate the letter and to turn over the impoverished planters to the tender mercies of those who were formerly their slaves. As the negro vote in the district, compared with that of the white, is as two to one, jurymen are drawn—leaving capacity and intelligence out of the question entirely—would consist of one third white men. Such, however, is the delightful way in which justice is manipulated in the Williamsburg District, that, out of the twenty four jurors ultimately selected at the present term of the Court, only two white men were chosen.
With a Radical Judge on the Bench and a negro jury before whom cases are to be tried, what chance is there that a white man will succeed in his suit, however manifestly just it may be, if the prejudices of the Court and the jury are against him?
Moreover, a majority of the cases coming to this particular Court—and indeed before all the Courts of South Carolina—are negro cases—chiefly of offences arising out of the lawless habits they have contracted in a state of freedom. Does any one suppose that conviction of the offenders is possible with a Judge who owes to negro votes his elevation to the Bench, and with negro jurors addicted to the same predatory propensities as those whom they are called upon to try.—Baltimore Gazette.

We find the Bellefonte National, of last week, following the Republican, as sheep do the bell-wether, in making false charges about the jail. The National, having no brains of its own to invent anything, uses the inventions of the fertile brain of the Republican, and talks about democratic expenditures in repairing the jail, which it knows to be false, as these repairs are made at the expense of the contractor; the commissioners still holding some $3000 of the contract money in the county treasury until the work upon the jail comes up to the requirements of the contract. These Bellefonte radical sheets are the most astounding liars out of jail.

James Piper, a negro twenty-one years of age, was arrested and lodged in the Ninth Street Station house on a charge of having committed a rape upon the person of Alice Goin, a child only three years old, at its mother's house, No 38 Taylor street, where he was a boarder. The act was committed on the 5th of the present month. Piper is also charged with petit larceny, in having stolen thirty dollars from two of Mrs. Goin's boarders.—(Cin. Commercial, Rad.)
Were we to clip all the items we find in our exchanges, of negro outrages like the above, and the frightful murders which are committed by the reconstructed African, we could fill columns of the Reporter each week. These blacks, before the late war, were seldom guilty of such crimes, in the southern states it is only since they have fallen into the hands of radical yankee teachers, and since the process of radical reconstruction has been going on, that rapes, robberies, and frightful murders are the order of the day among the negroes—the victims always being whites.
Crime was scarcely known in the southern states previous to the war, now it is barely safe for a white female to venture out alone, or even to be alone in her own home, for fear of being outraged by a negro. Beautifully does radicalism bring forth its fruits, and with these results does it greet us. The negro, left alone, under the care of his former master, would have been harmless and contented, but under the teachings of radical carpet baggers he has become brutalized, and is now given to the most shocking crimes.
