CENTRE HALL PA., July 20th, 1899.

FOR GOVERNOR:

HON. ASA PACKER, of Carbon.

FOR SUPREME JUDGE:

HON. CYRUS L. PERSHING, of Cambria County.

Building Railroads by Townships

Taking Stock.

Since the Pennsylvania Railroad Company have agreed to rail and stock the Lewisburg, Centre & Spruce Creek Railroad, provided the expense for grading the same is paid for by the people along the line, many persons labor under the mistaken idea, that the stock should be subscribed by the township and borough authorities along the line and a tax levied upon the citizens to pay these subscriptions. Counties, cities, townships and boroughs are prohibited by the Constitution of our State from being stockholders in corporations, even with the assent of the citizens, hence the grading of our road cannot be paid for in that manner, and the only way to accomplish this purpose, is by individual subscriptions. We here copy an amendment to the constitution, passed in 1857, relating to this subject:

Sec. VII. The Legislature shall not authorize any county, city, borough, township, or incorporated district, by virtue of a vote of its citizens, or otherwise, to become a stockholder in any company, association, or corporation; or to obtain money for, or loan its credit to any corporation, association, institution, or party.

The Venango Spectator comes to us greatly enlarged and improved. We are pleased to notice this evidence of prosperity in the organ of the Democracy of Venango county. The Spectator is a good paper.

Clearfield county has, for over a year, been having an eye upon a portion of Centre county, being anxious to annex Philadelphia and Rush township to that county. An effort, to accomplish this, will be made next winter. Centre, of course will have a say in the matter.

Dastardly Work.

We learn from the president of the Asa Packer Association, Mr. W. Murphy, that an attempt was made to throw the cars off the track between Harrisburg and Lebanon as the association were on their way to Philadelphia. A large pile was placed over the track, and had it not been for the opportune discovery by the engineer a terrible accident would no doubt have occurred. The man who would do so infernal a thing would not get more than his deserts if he were committed to the flames. Patriot 18th inst.

This is radicalism full out. To throw a train of cars from the track in order to kill democratic voters, is in keeping with the party which hung an innocent woman, and placed honest democrats into dungeons to rot there, for no crime whatever.

Opening the Campaign.

Under this heading, the Age has some reasonable remarks when it says:

As our ticket is now in the field, and the platform of principles enunciated and promulgated, the campaign of 1869 may be considered opened in earnest. To be sure, in the country work will not begin until after the crops are harvested and farmers can spare time to attend meetings, see their friends and neighbors and arrange the details of the contest in each locality, but the press can place facts before the people and point public attention to the history of the past, and the issues and duties of the present and the future. The radical party can be badly beaten, if the Democrats act in a prompt and proper manner. Asa Packer, the Democratic candidate for Governor, is the superior of John W. Geary in every way. The former is an active, upright, intelligent business man. He is identified with the improvement and development of the State, and having acquired wealth by honest industry is spending it during his life in acts of noble-minded and unostentatious charity and benevolence. He has founded a college, endowed a hospital, aided hundreds of young men at the onset of their career, and at the same time stands at the head of more than one enterprise, intended to open the wealth of Pennsylvania to the nation and thus benefit her capitalists and toilers. On the contrary, John W. Geary is, and has always been, an unprincipled adventurer. Shifting his residence to suit the needs of his condition, and moulding his views and principles to meet the varying currents of expediency, his career has been opposed to the best interests of the country and in no wise an honor to his native State. In Kansas he was recognized as influenced alone by selfish purposes, while his conduct in California justified the same general verdict. No single act of his life can be pointed to as leaving its mark for good upon the history of Pennsylvania, while his official career has been a burning shame and disgrace upon her escutcheons. In the choice for standard-bearers for the fight, the Democrats have a manifest and decided advantage, and that fact will tell with powerful effect upon the popular vote, if faithfully and courageously presented by the press and people.

A Radical Journal on Grant.

The demoralization of the radical party in Pennsylvania is not to be wondered at, when we take into account the fact that the most respectable and influential journals of that party have time and again protested against the re-nomination of Governor Geary. The denunciations of His Excellency by Pittsburgh's City Item and several of the principal radical papers in Pittsburgh, have operated to dispirit and disgust the rank and file of the party. The Philadelphia Evening Telegraph has also been a sore thorn against them in 1869. Congress spent months in legislating for the negro, while at the same time all the material interests of white men in this State, as well as in the nation, were tottering to decay. And what are the present results of this policy? Cotton mills are silent or running but half time, woolen manufactories stopped, the iron interests complaining, and all because the Radicals thought more of political scheming and management than of the prosperity of all sections of the nation. In our State Legislature the same signs of inattention to the real wants of the masses were seen. Corruption stalked through that body. Men were bought and sold like cattle in market. No bill was considered that did not have "money in it." So open and untrifling were the evidences of bribery and purchase at Harrisburg that the adjournment of the Legislature was hailed with delight by the honest men of all parties, and the session of 1869 chronicled by the press as a lasting shame and disgrace to the Keystone State.

In view of these facts, there are thousands of tax-payers tired of excessive taxation; mechanics dissatisfied with the attempt made by the radical party to put the negro on an equality with their own wives in the cars, or their children in the public schools; manufacturers whose business has been ruined by the action of Congress, and honest men of all shades of political opinions willing to act with the Democratic party in effecting a change in the government of this State. They have tested John W. Geary, and will not vote for his re-election. They know he is a tool of the corrupt "Ring" which manages affairs in this State that he was re-nominated by them, and will act in the future as he has in the past. They know he has pardoned offenders from party considerations, and signed or vetoed bills, as the managers of the party directed, without reference to the wishes of the people or the welfare of the State. They also reprobate the action of the Legislature, and mean to put the seal of condemnation upon the acts of that body by voting against the Radical nominees. These are the points upon which the guns of the Democracy can be brought to bear in the present contest, and the duty of the party is to open the battle with a full determination to win. Those who do not intend to fight to the last should keep out of the ranks. They will only take the place of better men. We repeat, this battle can be won, John W. Geary can be defeated, the Legislature purified and the State redeemed. But not by crying over the past, or sighing after the impracticable; not by weak resolutions or timid actions. It needs a mailed hand to handle the campaign at this juncture. Confidence in words and deeds will inspire the masses with boldness, resolution and energy, and they will clear the track of all hindrances likely to impede the Democratic car. If the campaign is opened in this manner, success is a fixed fact. We have unexceptionable candidates, our principles are in harmony with the wants of the people, and it only needs resolution, courage and industry on the part of the Democratic leaders and voters, to insure the defeat of John W. Geary, and the redemption of the State at the coming election.

What it Costs to Shoe Two Favorite Nags—The Loss of Hiram Grant's "Addie."

The salary of the President, says the Baltimore Gazette's Washington correspondent, is $25,000 per annum. His "perquisites" beyond a mansion, furniture, a most spacious garden, and pasture enough for all the cattle of the Duke of Devonshire and for all the fine horses of the Duke of Newcastle, are—servants of adiabatic clerks and employees to the extent of a depletion of the army—and presents of all kinds from his "fellow-citizens" at home and abroad. Two orders of his, since he has been rusticated at Long Branch, tell a significant story. That the Secretary of the Interior is laconic. It is simply to see that his two favorite nags are properly "shod," and sent on. Upon inquiry I find that the mere "shoeing" of a couple of horses should not cost more than a ten dollar greenback; but the word "shod," like Littleton's &c., in Coke's Commentaries, is made to mean by the sycophant Secretary, a great deal. In short this business of "shoeing" and "sending on" these animals, will cost the United States more than three thousand dollars, as per contra at the Department of the Interior, although Secretary Cox certifies that he "carried them with his own hand."

The loss of the mare "Addie," the subject of the other despatch from the General, seems to have thrown a "gloom" over the whole District, particularly about the office of the Surgeon General, whose more immediate duty it was to see (in the absence of the President) for her health and physical culture. The rumors in the anti Grant journals that there was dereliction of duty on the part of the veterinary branch of the Medical Department, were triumphantly disproved by a post mortem examination, instituted and directed by Gen. Barnes, who, after the disembowling had been gone through with, holding a small worm about an inch in length, and so much in circumference, upon the blade of his sword, pronounced the disease of which this favorite beast, died was—the bots. This result of the first Military Coroners inquest ever held in this country relieved many from suspicion of foul play, and vague apprehensions of Ku Klux conspiracy. I learn that these proceedings will not cost the Government over two or three thousand at the most.

Peaches were pretty plenty at Harrisburg on Saturday at only four dollars a bushel.

Havana, July 24.—The Spanish troops near Baracoa have captured and shot sixty rebels. The cholera is decreasing at Puerto Principe.

Every Democrat, in order to secure his vote, must be registered before the election. The better plan is to attend to it now, and not wait until just before the election. Let the Democrats of the several districts see to the matter at once.

MORSE'S INDIAN ROOT PILLS.—We have lately been shown formulae from which these Pills are prepared and from this and our experience in the use of them, can honestly pronounce them a good safe and reliable medicine. Being entirely free from all poisonous ingredients they can be safely used while performing the active duties of life. We would advise all to use them and by a fair trial you can see at once the benefit derived from them. Use Morse's Indian Root Pills in all cases of Biliousness, Headache, Female Irregularities, Liver Complaints, &c. Sold by all Dealers. Aug 6'2m

For the Reporter.

As a resident of Potter twp., in view of the recent articles published in the Reporter, urging the nomination of Mr. Meyer, we feel in duty bound to "speak out in meeting" in favor of our well known and able townsman, Col. W. W. Love. His excellent abilities are conceded to be equal to the emergency; his character, public and private, is unimpeachable; his unswerving loyalty and staunch devotion to the party is well known; his labors in support of democracy are second to none other—these reasons would seem to be of sufficient weight to entitle Mr. Love to the nomination. Added to this, let it be stated that but two short years ago the township of Haines was able represented in the lower branch of the State Legislature by Hon. Fred Kurtz. Potter township has never sent a representative to Harrisburg since its formation. All things being equal, we confidently believe that the last mentioned fact should impress the convention as to lead to the nomination of Col. Love. Let there be no monopolizing of legislative honors by any one township. VERTAS.

THE INCOME TAX.

The law imposing this tax, unless renewed, will expire next year. A provision of limitation in these words, contained in the law: "The taxes on income herein imposed shall be levied on the first of March, and be due and payable on or before the 30th day of April in each year, until and including the year 1870, and no longer." Unless the statute be extended the disagreeable investigation to which it gives rise, into the private affairs of citizens will be at an end. But Congress may renew the law at its next session, for the revenue from this source is very large.

Triplets.

A young man residing near Washington furnace Clinton county, had his wife present him one day last week with three children, all at a birth, and we are pleased to say that when last heard from, the happy mother and darling little triplets were doing as well as could be expected under the circumstances. Fall in, boys.

The Uniontown Standard of this week says: "On last Sunday night Mrs. Jeremiah Snyder, of Springfield township, gave birth to three fine girls, the least weighing six pounds. All are doing well, and bid fair to live."

Col. J. J. Patterson, of Juniata, and James M. Sellers, Esq., of Philadelphia, have contracted with the state of South Carolina for the construction of the Blue Ridge railroad from Anderson, S. C., to Knoxville, Tenn., a distance of 198 miles, at an estimated cost of about nine millions of dollars.

DOOD'S NERVINE DID IT! New London, Conn., April 26, 1890. REMEMBERED FRIENDS—I thought it well to wait another week before writing, to see if I continued to improve, as I have been doing for some time, under the treatment of the new medicine, and I am happy to tell you that I am getting better—ever faster than when you were here. I commenced the use of DOOD'S NERVINE without advising me to it. When I began with it I could only walk from my bed to the chair. My trouble has been extreme pain in the head, and has lasted for three years. All the medicine I have heretofore taken has failed to give any relief. I am now able to go up and down stairs, and daily improving. I consider the NERVINE the best medicine I ever found, and shall continue its use, for I am confident of a permanent recovery. I have only three bottles, and would not be without it on any account. Very truly, Mrs. I. S. NIXON July 23, 99.

Love, of Potter twp., whose well known devotion to the sterling principles of '76, has been persuaded by his friends to be a candidate for this office, and as he has done more for the party than many of the drones who usually flock into the political arena, we can cheerfully recommend him to the favorable consideration of the convention, knowing that he will make a good representative if elected.
