THE PHILADELPHIA VOTE.

Meeting of the Return Judges-Gross and Audacious Frauds Perpetrated by the Sworn Radical Election Officers.

Judge Allison's Writ to Restrain Ther Resisted-The Officers Beaten and the Writ Destroyed -The Doors Burricaded-The Court Vindicates Its Power.

The judges of the election in this city met at ten o'clock vesterday mornng 13th in the Supreme Court room, Alderman Beitler appeared and administered the oath to the judges.

The returns were now read. Those for the First senotorial district were arranged so as to count out the democratic candidate, Mr. Diamond. THE RADICALS RESIST THE LAW. Shortly after this, Deputy Sheriff William F. Van Hook appeared in the room. He could get but two or three feet from the door, when he auuounced himself as a sheriff's officer with a writ of the Supreme Court. He as immediately struck down by the doorkeepers and thrust from the room. The president judges then went on reading the returns, but in about fif teen minutes there was a knock at the door, which was opened an inch or two, disclosing the buttons and uni form of officers of the law. This un welcome sight led to the doors being immediat ly closed. The officers then commenced knocking, but no attention being paid to their demand for entrance they knocked the louder, and iu perhaps ten minutes they commerced to break the doors in, the radicals occupying themselves while this was going on in pilling settees against the doors; pretty soon the panels were knocked out of the doors, and then J. Alexander Simpson, the presiding officer, appeard to be suddenly struck with the idea that somehody was desirous of entering the court room. He inquired who they were, and said if they were officers of the law they would be under necessity of admitting them. Quite unwillingly, the radicals gave way, the doors were opened and a a large posse of the mayor's and sheriff's officers poured into the room. led by Van Hook, who sprang upon the table in the middle of the court-room. commading silence and obedeince to the writ of the Supreme Court. In an instant there was a wild scene, the radicals howled with rage, and commenced to hustle some of the officers. Mr. Van Hook ordered the arrest of several of the offenders, others did the same, but meeting resistance, it was not until they were knocked down and nippers applied, that these members and servants of the "Radical Ring," at last found that the law had laid its heavy hands upon them. In the excitement there was one case of pure misfortune-the arrest of William F. Corbit. a reporter. He was mistaken for one of the doorkeepers, was ugly handled, was taken away, but almost immediately released. Quiet was at length so far restored that Mr. Van Hook mounted the clerk's desk, holding in AGITATION OF THE REMOVAL OF THE CAPITAL.

Washington, Oct. 13,-The agitation of the question fo a removal of the national capital from this city has evidently alarmed property holders here, including a number of high officials. To counteract this a memorial to Congress on the subject has been preparedt by the leading capitalists, setting forth : -1. That the seat of government was permanently located here by an act of Congress, if accordance with a special provision of the Constitution. 2. That General Washington addressed a letter to the people of the United States, and to the subjects of foreign nations, inviting them to invest, their capital here, as it would be exempt from taxation. 3. That a large amount of the property purchased under this ingitation had since been sold for taxes. 4. That the government owns more than half the city (five hundred and fifty acres) together with all its grand avenues, and pags not one cent of taxes. 5.
