

CENTRE HALL REPORTER.

CENTRE HALL, Pa., December 21st 1899.

READ.—Nearly four-fifths of our subscribers are in arrears for this year's subscription, while quite a number are back on the first volume. Now as we must pay cash for paper, ink and labor, we go, the want of funds compels us to stop us no other alternative.

The amount each one owes is small, while with the aggregate is large. Persons who are candidates for whose election we have been hard and faithful will please remember us also. We dislike to ask our friends for money, but the fact is we have no other alternative.

Next week there will be no paper issued from this office. The reason among all publishers during the holidays is as mentioned above.

The 8th district Normal School is to be located at Lock Haven. The citizens of that town on the evening of the 11th raised $21,000.

Horace Greely. We observe in an advertisement in the National and the Watchman, that Horace Greely has been invited to deliver a lecture in Bellefonte in a week.

We think that a better subject than Horace Greely, might have been invited to come to Centre county, fresh as he is with the stains of the Richardson scandal, we think he is the last man who should have received an invitation. Horace Greely has been as great a curse to this country as any living man in it. He has stood at the head of all ins and factions which for the last quarter of a century have disturbed the peace and unity of the country. His denunciations of "On to Richmond," caused one of the greatest calamities that befell the Union during the late war, and after preaching death and damnation to the rebellion and rebels, he was among the first to go back for Jeff Davis. Years ago he was the instigator of riots to oppose the constitution and laws of the country, which the same officers of the government attempted to suppress.

Mr. William Mokele. Mr. Mokele is a man of considerable means; and when the girl's father learned his true name and character, he was very indignant in aiding Mokele to arrest him. His trunk, now in possession of a farmer in Centre county, is said to contain a Buffalo robe, a woman's traveling shawl, a violin, a corset, quite a lot of jewelry and other articles, supposed to be stolen. His parents live in the east end of Hudson valley.

Lock Haven, November 19, 1899. Mr. William Mokele. Mr. Mokele is a man of considerable means; and when the girl's father learned his true name and character, he was very indignant in aiding Mokele to arrest him. His trunk, now in possession of a farmer in Centre county, is said to contain a Buffalo robe, a woman's traveling shawl, a violin, a corset, quite a lot of jewelry and other articles, supposed to be stolen. His parents live in the east end of Hudson valley.

Teachers' Institute. The Centre County Teachers' Institute will convene at Howard on Monday evening, 27th inst., as will be seen by the circular of Superintendent of Schools, which will be found in our paper.

Supr. of Common Schools has informed our County Supr. that he will be present to address the Institute and take part in its deliberations. Prof. H. Shumaker, of Chambersburg, and James Naugh, of Hollidaysburg, will also lecture during the week.

Many also state that the programme published will be carried out, the different persons named therein having prepared themselves for the occasion, and intending to do their best.

Deavors to make this year's Institute a success, in which we hope they may succeed, as these meetings are intended to advance a system upon which rest the pillars of our government. County Institutes at times have been used for the occasion of passing off their notions and empty machine orifices to instill in the minds of a few crack-brained participants, that such would pass for marriage. The purpose of the Supr. is to make the Institute a real, live, effective helper of the common school cause, and with this object alone should teachers and directors and friends of our common school attend.

For this reason we urge upon all teachers, who have their professions, to attend, and give Supr. Magan all your aid and assistance, to make your Institute a success, and a credit to yourselves, as well as a help to the cause of Education.

Everywhere there is a "what if" is possible, should it occur? There is you can see your teachers. Their presence lends weight and dignity to the occasion, and we hope that the teachers, who have their professions, to attend, and give Supr. Magan all your aid and assistance, to make your Institute a success, and a credit to yourselves, as well as a help to the cause of Education.

did not attend, and we hope that the teachers, who have their professions, to attend, and give Supr. Magan all your aid and assistance, to make your Institute a success, and a credit to yourselves, as well as a help to the cause of Education.

did not attend, and we hope that the teachers, who have their professions, to attend, and give Supr. Magan all your aid and assistance, to make your Institute a success, and a credit to yourselves, as well as a help to the cause of Education.

did not attend, and we hope that the teachers, who have their professions, to attend, and give Supr. Magan all your aid and assistance, to make your Institute a success, and a credit to yourselves, as well as a help to the cause of Education.

did not attend, and we hope that the teachers, who have their professions, to attend, and give Supr. Magan all your aid and assistance, to make your Institute a success, and a credit to yourselves, as well as a help to the cause of Education.

did not attend, and we hope that the teachers, who have their professions, to attend, and give Supr. Magan all your aid and assistance, to make your Institute a success, and a credit to yourselves, as well as a help to the cause of Education.

did not attend, and we hope that the teachers, who have their professions, to attend, and give Supr. Magan all your aid and assistance, to make your Institute a success, and a credit to yourselves, as well as a help to the cause of Education.

did not attend, and we hope that the teachers, who have their professions, to attend, and give Supr. Magan all your aid and assistance, to make your Institute a success, and a credit to yourselves, as well as a help to the cause of Education.

did not attend, and we hope that the teachers, who have their professions, to attend, and give Supr. Magan all your aid and assistance, to make your Institute a success, and a credit to yourselves, as well as a help to the cause of Education.

did not attend, and we hope that the teachers, who have their professions, to attend, and give Supr. Magan all your aid and assistance, to make your Institute a success, and a credit to yourselves, as well as a help to the cause of Education.

did not attend, and we hope that the teachers, who have their professions, to attend, and give Supr. Magan all your aid and assistance, to make your Institute a success, and a credit to yourselves, as well as a help to the cause of Education.

did not attend, and we hope that the teachers, who have their professions, to attend, and give Supr. Magan all your aid and assistance, to make your Institute a success, and a credit to yourselves, as well as a help to the cause of Education.

did not attend, and we hope that the teachers, who have their professions, to attend, and give Supr. Magan all your aid and assistance, to make your Institute a success, and a credit to yourselves, as well as a help to the cause of Education.

did not attend, and we hope that the teachers, who have their professions, to attend, and give Supr. Magan all your aid and assistance, to make your Institute a success, and a credit to yourselves, as well as a help to the cause of Education.

did not attend, and we hope that the teachers, who have their professions, to attend, and give Supr. Magan all your aid and assistance, to make your Institute a success, and a credit to yourselves, as well as a help to the cause of Education.

did not attend, and we hope that the teachers, who have their professions, to attend, and give Supr. Magan all your aid and assistance, to make your Institute a success, and a credit to yourselves, as well as a help to the cause of Education.

did not attend, and we hope that the teachers, who have their professions, to attend, and give Supr. Magan all your aid and assistance, to make your Institute a success, and a credit to yourselves, as well as a help to the cause of Education.

did not attend, and we hope that the teachers, who have their professions, to attend, and give Supr. Magan all your aid and assistance, to make your Institute a success, and a credit to yourselves, as well as a help to the cause of Education.

did not attend, and we hope that the teachers, who have their professions, to attend, and give Supr. Magan all your aid and assistance, to make your Institute a success, and a credit to yourselves, as well as a help to the cause of Education.

did not attend, and we hope that the teachers, who have their professions, to attend, and give Supr. Magan all your aid and assistance, to make your Institute a success, and a credit to yourselves, as well as a help to the cause of Education.

did not attend, and we hope that the teachers, who have their professions, to attend, and give Supr. Magan all your aid and assistance, to make your Institute a success, and a credit to yourselves, as well as a help to the cause of Education.

did not attend, and we hope that the teachers, who have their professions, to attend, and give Supr. Magan all your aid and assistance, to make your Institute a success, and a credit to yourselves, as well as a help to the cause of Education.

did not attend, and we hope that the teachers, who have their professions, to attend, and give Supr. Magan all your aid and assistance, to make your Institute a success, and a credit to yourselves, as well as a help to the cause of Education.

did not attend, and we hope that the teachers, who have their professions, to attend, and give Supr. Magan all your aid and assistance, to make your Institute a success, and a credit to yourselves, as well as a help to the cause of Education.

did not attend, and we hope that the teachers, who have their professions, to attend, and give Supr. Magan all your aid and assistance, to make your Institute a success, and a credit to yourselves, as well as a help to the cause of Education.

did not attend, and we hope that the teachers, who have their professions, to attend, and give Supr. Magan all your aid and assistance, to make your Institute a success, and a credit to yourselves, as well as a help to the cause of Education.

did not attend, and we hope that the teachers, who have their professions, to attend, and give Supr. Magan all your aid and assistance, to make your Institute a success, and a credit to yourselves, as well as a help to the cause of Education.

did not attend, and we hope that the teachers, who have their professions, to attend, and give Supr. Magan all your aid and assistance, to make your Institute a success, and a credit to yourselves, as well as a help to the cause of Education.

did not attend, and we hope that the teachers, who have their professions, to attend, and give Supr. Magan all your aid and assistance, to make your Institute a success, and a credit to yourselves, as well as a help to the cause of Education.

did not attend, and we hope that the teachers, who have their professions, to attend, and give Supr. Magan all your aid and assistance, to make your Institute a success, and a credit to yourselves, as well as a help to the cause of Education.

attend and participate, and give the Institute the benefit of even a single idea that may have the tendency for good in this great cause.

President Grant is not more upon the whiskey swindlers, he likes the stuff they manufacture too well. We notice:

New York, December 19.—Colonel Richard Enrich who was convicted of being implicated in whiskey frauds and sentenced to the penitentiary has been pardoned by the President of the United States.

James Servat alias Smith.

The following we copy from the Lock Haven Independent, of the 18th inst. we know nothing about the matter, but some of our readers may:

James Servat alias Smith, convicted and sentenced to the penitentiary on Tuesday for the stealing of a set of harness, and other articles from Mr. D. C. Calkins, in Sept. last, seems to be considerable of a "brick," as may be seen by the following letters, which it is alleged are in his own handwriting, and are here given, verbatim et literatim.

Wm. Mokele, to whom two of them are addressed, is the constable living at the Agricultural College, who arrested Servat and delivered him here. The one dated New York, Nov. 8, was mailed at Belleville, and directed to Mr. Andrew Bell at Lock Haven.

Since committing the theft for which he has been convicted, he is regretting himself under the assumed name of Smith, and well-to-do farmer in Centre county, whose daughter he married about the 19th of Oct. It is said he produced to those parties a number of promissory notes, properly stamped and cancelled, thus representing himself as a man of considerable means; and when the girl's father learned his true name and character, he was very indignant in aiding Mokele to arrest him. His trunk, now in possession of a farmer in Centre county, is said to contain a Buffalo robe, a woman's traveling shawl, a violin, a corset, quite a lot of jewelry and other articles, supposed to be stolen. His parents live in the east end of Hudson valley.

Lock Haven, November 19, 1899. Mr. William Mokele. Mr. Mokele is a man of considerable means; and when the girl's father learned his true name and character, he was very indignant in aiding Mokele to arrest him. His trunk, now in possession of a farmer in Centre county, is said to contain a Buffalo robe, a woman's traveling shawl, a violin, a corset, quite a lot of jewelry and other articles, supposed to be stolen. His parents live in the east end of Hudson valley.

Lock Haven, November 19, 1899. Mr. William Mokele. Mr. Mokele is a man of considerable means; and when the girl's father learned his true name and character, he was very indignant in aiding Mokele to arrest him. His trunk, now in possession of a farmer in Centre county, is said to contain a Buffalo robe, a woman's traveling shawl, a violin, a corset, quite a lot of jewelry and other articles, supposed to be stolen. His parents live in the east end of Hudson valley.

Lock Haven, November 19, 1899. Mr. William Mokele. Mr. Mokele is a man of considerable means; and when the girl's father learned his true name and character, he was very indignant in aiding Mokele to arrest him. His trunk, now in possession of a farmer in Centre county, is said to contain a Buffalo robe, a woman's traveling shawl, a violin, a corset, quite a lot of jewelry and other articles, supposed to be stolen. His parents live in the east end of Hudson valley.

Lock Haven, November 19, 1899. Mr. William Mokele. Mr. Mokele is a man of considerable means; and when the girl's father learned his true name and character, he was very indignant in aiding Mokele to arrest him. His trunk, now in possession of a farmer in Centre county, is said to contain a Buffalo robe, a woman's traveling shawl, a violin, a corset, quite a lot of jewelry and other articles, supposed to be stolen. His parents live in the east end of Hudson valley.

Lock Haven, November 19, 1899. Mr. William Mokele. Mr. Mokele is a man of considerable means; and when the girl's father learned his true name and character, he was very indignant in aiding Mokele to arrest him. His trunk, now in possession of a farmer in Centre county, is said to contain a Buffalo robe, a woman's traveling shawl, a violin, a corset, quite a lot of jewelry and other articles, supposed to be stolen. His parents live in the east end of Hudson valley.

Lock Haven, November 19, 1899. Mr. William Mokele. Mr. Mokele is a man of considerable means; and when the girl's father learned his true name and character, he was very indignant in aiding Mokele to arrest him. His trunk, now in possession of a farmer in Centre county, is said to contain a Buffalo robe, a woman's traveling shawl, a violin, a corset, quite a lot of jewelry and other articles, supposed to be stolen. His parents live in the east end of Hudson valley.

Lock Haven, November 19, 1899. Mr. William Mokele. Mr. Mokele is a man of considerable means; and when the girl's father learned his true name and character, he was very indignant in aiding Mokele to arrest him. His trunk, now in possession of a farmer in Centre county, is said to contain a Buffalo robe, a woman's traveling shawl, a violin, a corset, quite a lot of jewelry and other articles, supposed to be stolen. His parents live in the east end of Hudson valley.

Lock Haven, November 19, 1899. Mr. William Mokele. Mr. Mokele is a man of considerable means; and when the girl's father learned his true name and character, he was very indignant in aiding Mokele to arrest him. His trunk, now in possession of a farmer in Centre county, is said to contain a Buffalo robe, a woman's traveling shawl, a violin, a corset, quite a lot of jewelry and other articles, supposed to be stolen. His parents live in the east end of Hudson valley.

Lock Haven, November 19, 1899. Mr. William Mokele. Mr. Mokele is a man of considerable means; and when the girl's father learned his true name and character, he was very indignant in aiding Mokele to arrest him. His trunk, now in possession of a farmer in Centre county, is said to contain a Buffalo robe, a woman's traveling shawl, a violin, a corset, quite a lot of jewelry and other articles, supposed to be stolen. His parents live in the east end of Hudson valley.

Lock Haven, November 19, 1899. Mr. William Mokele. Mr. Mokele is a man of considerable means; and when the girl's father learned his true name and character, he was very indignant in aiding Mokele to arrest him. His trunk, now in possession of a farmer in Centre county, is said to contain a Buffalo robe, a woman's traveling shawl, a violin, a corset, quite a lot of jewelry and other articles, supposed to be stolen. His parents live in the east end of Hudson valley.

Lock Haven, November 19, 1899. Mr. William Mokele. Mr. Mokele is a man of considerable means; and when the girl's father learned his true name and character, he was very indignant in aiding Mokele to arrest him. His trunk, now in possession of a farmer in Centre county, is said to contain a Buffalo robe, a woman's traveling shawl, a violin, a corset, quite a lot of jewelry and other articles, supposed to be stolen. His parents live in the east end of Hudson valley.

Lock Haven, November 19, 1899. Mr. William Mokele. Mr. Mokele is a man of considerable means; and when the girl's father learned his true name and character, he was very indignant in aiding Mokele to arrest him. His trunk, now in possession of a farmer in Centre county, is said to contain a Buffalo robe, a woman's traveling shawl, a violin, a corset, quite a lot of jewelry and other articles, supposed to be stolen. His parents live in the east end of Hudson valley.

Lock Haven, November 19, 1899. Mr. William Mokele. Mr. Mokele is a man of considerable means; and when the girl's father learned his true name and character, he was very indignant in aiding Mokele to arrest him. His trunk, now in possession of a farmer in Centre county, is said to contain a Buffalo robe, a woman's traveling shawl, a violin, a corset, quite a lot of jewelry and other articles, supposed to be stolen. His parents live in the east end of Hudson valley.

Lock Haven, November 19, 1899. Mr. William Mokele. Mr. Mokele is a man of considerable means; and when the girl's father learned his true name and character, he was very indignant in aiding Mokele to arrest him. His trunk, now in possession of a farmer in Centre county, is said to contain a Buffalo robe, a woman's traveling shawl, a violin, a corset, quite a lot of jewelry and other articles, supposed to be stolen. His parents live in the east end of Hudson valley.

Lock Haven, November 19, 1899. Mr. William Mokele. Mr. Mokele is a man of considerable means; and when the girl's father learned his true name and character, he was very indignant in aiding Mokele to arrest him. His trunk, now in possession of a farmer in Centre county, is said to contain a Buffalo robe, a woman's traveling shawl, a violin, a corset, quite a lot of jewelry and other articles, supposed to be stolen. His parents live in the east end of Hudson valley.

Lock Haven, November 19, 1899. Mr. William Mokele. Mr. Mokele is a man of considerable means; and when the girl's father learned his true name and character, he was very indignant in aiding Mokele to arrest him. His trunk, now in possession of a farmer in Centre county, is said to contain a Buffalo robe, a woman's traveling shawl, a violin, a corset, quite a lot of jewelry and other articles, supposed to be stolen. His parents live in the east end of Hudson valley.

Lock Haven, November 19, 1899. Mr. William Mokele. Mr. Mokele is a man of considerable means; and when the girl's father learned his true name and character, he was very indignant in aiding Mokele to arrest him. His trunk, now in possession of a farmer in Centre county, is said to contain a Buffalo robe, a woman's traveling shawl, a violin, a corset, quite a lot of jewelry and other articles, supposed to be stolen. His parents live in the east end of Hudson valley.

Lock Haven, November 19, 1899. Mr. William Mokele. Mr. Mokele is a man of considerable means; and when the girl's father learned his true name and character, he was very indignant in aiding Mokele to arrest him. His trunk, now in possession of a farmer in Centre county, is said to contain a Buffalo robe, a woman's traveling shawl, a violin, a corset, quite a lot of jewelry and other articles, supposed to be stolen. His parents live in the east end of Hudson valley.

Lock Haven, November 19, 1899. Mr. William Mokele. Mr. Mokele is a man of considerable means; and when the girl's father learned his true name and character, he was very indignant in aiding Mokele to arrest him. His trunk, now in possession of a farmer in Centre county, is said to contain a Buffalo robe, a woman's traveling shawl, a violin, a corset, quite a lot of jewelry and other articles, supposed to be stolen. His parents live in the east end of Hudson valley.

Lock Haven, November 19, 1899. Mr. William Mokele. Mr. Mokele is a man of considerable means; and when the girl's father learned his true name and character, he was very indignant in aiding Mokele to arrest him. His trunk, now in possession of a farmer in Centre county, is said to contain a Buffalo robe, a woman's traveling shawl, a violin, a corset, quite a lot of jewelry and other articles, supposed to be stolen. His parents live in the east end of Hudson valley.

Lock Haven, November 19, 1899. Mr. William Mokele. Mr. Mokele is a man of considerable means; and when the girl's father learned his true name and character, he was very indignant in aiding Mokele to arrest him. His trunk, now in possession of a farmer in Centre county, is said to contain a Buffalo robe, a woman's traveling shawl, a violin, a corset, quite a lot of jewelry and other articles, supposed to be stolen. His parents live in the east end of Hudson valley.

Lock Haven, November 19, 1899. Mr. William Mokele. Mr. Mokele is a man of considerable means; and when the girl's father learned his true name and character, he was very indignant in aiding Mokele to arrest him. His trunk, now in possession of a farmer in Centre county, is said to contain a Buffalo robe, a woman's traveling shawl, a violin, a corset, quite a lot of jewelry and other articles, supposed to be stolen. His parents live in the east end of Hudson valley.

Lock Haven, November 19, 1899. Mr. William Mokele. Mr. Mokele is a man of considerable means; and when the girl's father learned his true name and character, he was very indignant in aiding Mokele to arrest him. His trunk, now in possession of a farmer in Centre county, is said to contain a Buffalo robe, a woman's traveling shawl, a violin, a corset, quite a lot of jewelry and other articles, supposed to be stolen. His parents live in the east end of Hudson valley.

Lock Haven, November 19, 1899. Mr. William Mokele. Mr. Mokele is a man of considerable means; and when the girl's father learned his true name and character, he was very indignant in aiding Mokele to arrest him. His trunk, now in possession of a farmer in Centre county, is said to contain a Buffalo robe, a woman's traveling shawl, a violin, a corset, quite a lot of jewelry and other articles, supposed to be stolen. His parents live in the east end of Hudson valley.

Lock Haven, November 19, 1899. Mr. William Mokele. Mr. Mokele is a man of considerable means; and when the girl's father learned his true name and character, he was very indignant in aiding Mokele to arrest him. His trunk, now in possession of a farmer in Centre county, is said to contain a Buffalo robe, a woman's traveling shawl, a violin, a corset, quite a lot of jewelry and other articles, supposed to be stolen. His parents live in the east end of Hudson valley.

Lock Haven, November 19, 1899. Mr. William Mokele. Mr. Mokele is a man of considerable means; and when the girl's father learned his true name and character, he was very indignant in aiding Mokele to arrest him. His trunk, now in possession of a farmer in Centre county, is said to contain a Buffalo robe, a woman's traveling shawl, a violin, a corset, quite a lot of jewelry and other articles, supposed to be stolen. His parents live in the east end of Hudson valley.

Lock Haven, November 19, 1899. Mr. William Mokele. Mr. Mokele is a man of considerable means; and when the girl's father learned his true name and character, he was very indignant in aiding Mokele to arrest him. His trunk, now in possession of a farmer in Centre county, is said to contain a Buffalo robe, a woman's traveling shawl, a violin, a corset, quite a lot of jewelry and other articles, supposed to be stolen. His parents live in the east end of Hudson valley.

Lock Haven, November 19, 1899. Mr. William Mokele. Mr. Mokele is a man of considerable means; and when the girl's father learned his true name and character, he was very indignant in aiding Mokele to arrest him. His trunk, now in possession of a farmer in Centre county, is said to contain a Buffalo robe, a woman's traveling shawl, a violin, a corset, quite a lot of jewelry and other articles, supposed to be stolen. His parents live in the east end of Hudson valley.

Lock Haven, November 19, 1899. Mr. William Mokele. Mr. Mokele is a man of considerable means; and when the girl's father learned his true name and character, he was very indignant in aiding Mokele to arrest him. His trunk, now in possession of a farmer in Centre county, is said to contain a Buffalo robe, a woman's traveling shawl, a violin, a corset, quite a lot of jewelry and other articles, supposed to be stolen. His parents live in the east end of Hudson valley.

Lock Haven, November 19, 1899. Mr. William Mokele. Mr. Mokele is a man of considerable means; and when the girl's father learned his true name and character, he was very indignant in aiding Mokele to arrest him. His trunk, now in possession of a farmer in Centre county, is said to contain a Buffalo robe, a woman's traveling shawl, a violin, a corset, quite a lot of jewelry and other articles, supposed to be stolen. His parents live in the east end of Hudson valley.

Lock Haven, November 19, 1899. Mr. William Mokele. Mr. Mokele is a man of considerable means; and when the girl's father learned his true name and character, he was very indignant in aiding Mokele to arrest him. His trunk, now in possession of a farmer in Centre county, is said to contain a Buffalo robe, a woman's traveling shawl, a violin, a corset, quite a lot of jewelry and other articles, supposed to be stolen. His parents live in the east end of Hudson valley.

Lock Haven, November 19, 1899. Mr. William Mokele. Mr. Mokele is a man of considerable means; and when the girl's father learned his true name and character, he was very indignant in aiding Mokele to arrest him. His trunk, now in possession of a farmer in Centre county, is said to contain a Buffalo robe, a woman's traveling shawl, a violin, a corset, quite a lot of jewelry and other articles, supposed to be stolen. His parents live in the east end of Hudson valley.

Lock Haven, November 19, 1899. Mr. William Mokele. Mr. Mokele is a man of considerable means; and when the girl's father learned his true name and character, he was very indignant in aiding Mokele to arrest him. His trunk, now in possession of a farmer in Centre county, is said to contain a Buffalo robe, a woman's traveling shawl, a violin, a corset, quite a lot of jewelry and other articles, supposed to be stolen. His parents live in the east end of Hudson valley.

Lock Haven, November 19, 1899. Mr. William Mokele. Mr. Mokele is a man of considerable means; and when the girl's father learned his true name and character, he was very indignant in aiding Mokele to arrest him. His trunk, now in possession of a farmer in Centre county, is said to contain a Buffalo robe, a woman's traveling shawl, a violin, a corset, quite a lot of jewelry and other articles, supposed to be stolen. His parents live in the east end of Hudson valley.

Lock Haven, November 19, 1899. Mr. William Mokele. Mr. Mokele is a man of considerable means; and when the girl's father learned his true name and character, he was very indignant in aiding Mokele to arrest him. His trunk, now in possession of a farmer in Centre county, is said to contain a Buffalo robe, a woman's traveling shawl, a violin, a corset, quite a lot of jewelry and other articles, supposed to be stolen. His parents live in the east end of Hudson valley.

Lock Haven, November 19, 1899. Mr. William Mokele. Mr. Mokele is a man of considerable means; and when the girl's father learned his true name and character, he was very indignant in aiding Mokele to arrest him. His trunk, now in possession of a farmer in Centre county, is said to contain a Buffalo robe, a woman's traveling shawl, a violin, a corset, quite a lot of jewelry and other articles, supposed to be stolen. His parents live in the east end of Hudson valley.

Lock Haven, November 19, 1899. Mr. William Mokele. Mr. Mokele is a man of considerable means; and when the girl's father learned his true name and character, he was very indignant in aiding Mokele to arrest him. His trunk, now in possession of a farmer in Centre county, is said to contain a Buffalo robe, a woman's traveling shawl, a violin, a corset, quite a lot of jewelry and other articles, supposed to be stolen. His parents live in the east end of Hudson valley.

Lock Haven, November 19, 1899. Mr. William Mokele. Mr. Mokele is a man of considerable means; and when the girl's father learned his true name and character, he was very indignant in aiding Mokele to arrest him. His trunk, now in possession of a farmer in Centre county, is said to contain a Buffalo robe, a woman's traveling shawl, a violin, a corset, quite a lot of jewelry and other articles, supposed to be stolen. His parents live in the east end of Hudson valley.

EUROPE.

A NEW CANAL PROJECT.

LONDON, December 18.—The Times says there is a great interest felt in commercial circles in the possibility of another ship canal deeper, wider and less subject to fog and sand drifts, through some of the Central American States to connect the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans.

M. LESSEPS COMPLIMENTED. PARIS, December 18.—M. Lesseps, Engineer-in-Chief of the Suez Canal, has been congratulated on the success of the work by the Emperor Napoleon and Lord Clarendon.

THE RICHARDSON-M'FARLAND WEDDING DENOUNCED. LONDON, December 18.—The Saturday Review has an editorial on the Richardson-M'Farland tragedy. The writer pronounces the Astor House wedding as a ceremony, grotesque, nauseous and blasphemous.

APPEALS AT THE ITALIAN CAPITAL. ROME, December 18.—The session of the Ecclesiastical Council will be resumed on the 6th of January. The French Bishops have protested against the papers interfering in the Protestant Council. The Spanish Bishops, Home and Colonial, sustain the Pope's position.

THE ADJOURNMENT OF THE COUNCIL. ROME, December 18.—Another session given to day by the Ecclesiastical Council, for adjournment to the 6th of January is that the Bishops were under the necessity of attending the Cathedral of St. Peter, on account of the atrocious imperfections of the hall, and have therefore resolved to hold their sessions hereafter at another place, but which cannot be put in order for several days.

THE QUESTION OF A MONARCHY. MADRID, December 19.—General Prim publicly declares that there has been no change of opinion of the Government of the Cortes on the question of Monarchy. The Duke of Girona will probably receive the Crown, but should he decline it, the Government will not favor the establishment of a Republic.

How Monkeys are Caught. From the chapter on Menageries, in Olive Logan's reliable volume, "Before the Footlights and Behind the Scenes," we make the following extract:

Monkeys are such cunning creatures, that one would suppose them much more difficult to catch than other wild animals. Piffalls will take lions, and the famished monarch of the forest will, after a few days starvation, dart into a cage containing food, and thus be secured. But how are monkeys caught? The ape family resemble men. Their voices are human. They love liquor and fall. In Darfour and Sennar the natives make fermented beer, of which the monkeys are passionately fond. Aware of this the natives go to the parts of the forests frequented by the monkeys, and set on the ground calabashes full of the enticing liquor. As soon as a monkey sees and tastes it he utters loud cries of joy; that sound attracts his comrades. The an orgie begins, and in a short time the beasts show all degrees of intoxication. Then the negroes appear. The drinkers are too far gone to distrust them, but apparently take them for larger species of their own genus. The negroes take some up, and these immediately begin to weep and cover their faces with maudlin kisses. When a negro takes one by the hand to lead him off, the nearest monkey will clip up to the one who thus finds a support, and endeavor to go off also. Another will grasp at him, and so on till the negro leads a staggering line of ten or a dozen tipsy monkeys. When finally brought to the village they are securely caged, and gradually sober down; but for two or three days, a gradually diminishing supply of liquor is given them, so as to reconcile them by degrees to their state of captivity.

Narrow Escape. James Patton and Eli Detweiler were out hunting Thursday a week in Menno township and having tracked a deer passed through the woods with caution, usual on such occasions. Patton finally caught sight of the animal, and while in the act of taking aim a rifle was discharged a short distance off, the ball passing through his pants below the knee. It seems Detweiler was also on the track of the deer and seeing a movement in the bushes which he supposed was made by the animal, fired. It was a narrow escape for Patton, from being maimed for life, if not from death, and is another caution to hunters never to fire at anything unless they see at least something of the game pursued.—Gazette.

During the delivery of Miss Olive Logan's lecture on "Girls," in Buffalo, the other evening, the fair lecturer, in her confidential talk with "pretty girls," said: "I shall tell you how I feel? Well, I tell you, I never saw a pretty girl in all my life, one upon whose cheeks the roses were blooming, and that I wanted to fold her in my arms and kiss her." A person of the male persuasion, who had not seen more than twenty-five summers, forgetful of the dignity of the occasion, gave evidence of a fellow-feeling, by in quite a loud voice, exclaiming, "I feel just so too."

Nicholas Troesch has just obtained a verdict of ten thousand dollars against the Columbus, Chicago and Indiana Central Railroad for the loss of an arm and a leg. Troesch was a switch tender, and claimed that through the carelessness of the engineer and the bad condition of the locomotive he was thrown from the car and run over.

CRIME.

Chicago, December 19.—Louis Bates, who has been on trial during the week for whipping his nephew, a child, so badly that he died, was last evening convicted of manslaughter and sentenced to the penitentiary for one year.

Cincinnati, December 19.—An officer of the steamer Fleetwood, reports a bloody murder at Marysville. Ky., last night, in which Mr. Taylor, clerk of the Brancor House, was shot and killed by a stranger in a gambling house.

Some of the officers report, a desperate fight on Monday night between a party of