CENTRE HALL Pa., February 11th 1870.

Editorial Items.

It has come to light that some members of Congress make a business of selling cadetships to West Point, receiving from one to three thousand dollars for such appointments. The matter will probably be investigated. O for the good old days of democratic purity.

—Judge Hoar's appointment to the Supreme Bench, has been rejected by his radical bretheren in the Senate. Hoar will now remain in Grant's cabinet as Att-General, to spite his opponents in the Senate. Happy family.

—The abolition of the franking privilege met with no favor in the senate. The house passed the bill but the senate gave it the cold shoulder.

—Petitions have been presented in the legislature, for the erection of a new county out of a portion of Luzerne, to be called "Shawnee."

—Mr. Lowry's bill for the erection of a new county out of parts of Venango, Warren and Crawford, has passed the Senate.

—Petitions for the abolition of the death penalty, are still being sent to the legislature. Also, numerous petitions in favor of submitting the question of license or no license to vote.

—The committee on Agriculture reported a bill to protect the breeding and culture of fish.

—A bill was introduced to establish the legal rate of interest at 7 per cent., and allowing parties to contract in writing for any rate of interest not exceeding 10 per cent.

A Senator McIntire has our thanks for a copy of the Auditor General's Report.

There is a bill before the legislature repealing the law which changed the time of holding the spring elections to the general election in October, and returning to the time previously fixed for electing township officers. The law was a bad one and should be repealed, and our representive and senators, at Harrisburg, will have the unanimous endorsement of their constituents, by voting for the repeal.

In another column we print the report of a survey made for a railroad between Milroy and Bellefonte. This report is not deemed favorable, and if it is the best that can be made between those two points, the railroad from Mifflin into Centre county, may be long a coming.

Corruption.

The governor of Louisiana, in a late message, furnishes an interesting episode upon the venality of certain parties. Louisiana is radically reconstructed, and such a history as radicalism is now fastening upon it, it never enjoyed from the time of its purchase from France down to the day it fell under the usurping hand of congress. The governor makes disclosures "as to how various measures were engineered through the legislature by these same good citizens, to sign one of which he had been offered $50,000 by one party, and in addition Mayor Conway, of this city, had offered him any consideration to sign it. The bill was vetoed. The bill here referred to was the five million gold bond bill for redeeming the city money. He was also offered $50,000 to sign the Nicholson pavement bill, which he vetoed. In the course of his remarks the governor stated that Auditor Wickliffe had robbed the State of half a million of dollars."

From the tone of Gov. Geary's late annual message, the radical legislature of Pennsylvania, is reeking with corruption, and from the speech of congressman Dawes, of Mass., also a strict radical, the Grant administration can compete with any in corruption. O, beautiful radical rule! how it is improving the morals and condition of the country!

Woman Suffrage.

We think it is about time that the sensible men and women of the country stamp the insane woman's rights movement with their displeasure. Out of every thousand women there is barely one that thinks she should have the right of suffrage, yet such idle females as Susan B. Anthony, Anna Dickinson, and others, who are running over the country lecturing about woman's rights, are doing more to spoil and make worthless our American girls, and fill their heads with idle notions, than any thing else. The effect of these woman's rights lectures is, to make the young ladies think they should lay the study of household duties, the proper sphere of woman, aside, and become lecturers, and be away from home, talking woman's rights, politics, &c. Especially is this the evil effect produced upon the minds of the young ladies in the larger towns. We venture to say that neither Anna Dickinson or Susan B. Anthony, who gab so much about woman's wrongs and clamor for enlarging woman's sphere, knows enough of her own first and real sphere, to become a good house wife and perform her appropriate duties in the family, and the lectures of these ladies have a tendancy to make our girls as unfit for and ignorant of these duties as they themselves are. God knows the frivolities, fashions, and fashionable boarding schools of the day are doing enough to unfit our daughters for any thing else but drum on the piano, study the fashions, and read love stories.

We are pleased to notice a paragraph, that a movement is being organized in Washington, by a number of distinguished ladies in opposition to women's suffrage. It is said that Mrs. Admiral Dahlgren, Mrs. General Sherman and a large number of other ladies, well known to society, are at the head of the movement.

LOWRY ON BERGNER.

Mr. Lowery, the republican senator from Erie, in the Senate, on the 4th inst., gave the venal Bergner, of the Harrisburg Telegraph, the following scathing:

Mr. Lowry—I rise to a privilige question in a newspaper published in this city, called the Daily Telegraph, of yesterday. I find the following which I ask the clerk to read: This article was headed "Our Conscience Stricken Brother, Lowry" The committee refuse to examine into the frauds of Scull and Findley, the Election Committee charging Lowry with having betrayed the Republican party by voting against admitting the proof of fraud in the Democratic township of Allegheny, Somerset county. That no matter how strong the proof may be of fraud, Findley would retain his seat. That such was the bargain entered into by that corrupt Senator with the Democracy. The article alleged that there was proof that Daniel Shires and Thomas Miller voted for Findley in Thompson township, Fulton, when their actual residence was with their families in Berks county. This evidence this honest juryman refused to hear.

Mr. Lowry said; "Now, Mr. Speaker, the charge against me is that I voted with the Democracy, and thereby gave the casting vote on the vital issue in this case. Now, Mr. Speaker, I call upon the Chairman of that Committee, and upon every member of that Committee, to hear me out, when I say that the Committee were unanimously of the opinion that Allegheny township should not be stricken out. There was no difference of opinion on this question, yet last night Mr. Bergner published to the country that this great wrong was done in this case in pursuance with a bargain with the Democracy, and that I did the deed. I cannot think of anything more infamous than this, and I cannot find language adequate to express myself in reference to this shameful misrepresentation. I now give Bergner and his friends notice that if he ever dares to set his foot upon the floor of this Senate after repeating such charges as this, I will, if he repeats them, ask for his immediate and forcible expulsion. This Senate cannot endorse a statute of corruption, who will publish a lie made out of a whole cloth Every Senator on that Committee voted to exclude Allegheny township from being considered unless fraud was proven. No man on the Committee ever objected to hearing proof of fraud. What he (Bergner) says in the balance of the article, that the Committee would hear no evidence relative to the votes of certain men, is entirely false, and the Committee will bear me out in that. The Committee decided that we could not require a man to swear for whom he voted until it was proven that he was an illegal voter. It is not because I am on this contested election case that the editor of this paper desires to destroy me in the estimation of my constituents. That is not it. It is because I stand here believing him and the Treasury between the moet notorious thief in Pennsylvania, who has stolen more money from the Treasury than any other man in the commonwealth. That is the motive power of these attacks, not his (Bergner's) sympathy for Mr. Scull. I have a long list of larceny charges charges to make against this man, which I intend some day to lay before the Senate and my constituents I charge George Bergner with having ran his arm more than one hundred times into the State Treasury, and stolen therefrom every pound of meat that he carries upon his bones. Not one pound that he has not stolen out of the Treasury. [Laughter.] And it is for that he would wrong me here on a false charge that I was acting unjustly and unfavorably upon the Committee.

A gentlemen residing at Fort Laramie states that the Indians are now camped on the Little Powder river, and muster thirty five hundred warriors. Two hundred of the lodges are Cheyennes. They are in full communication with the Indians on the Upper Missouri Reservations. The troops at Forts Laramie and Fetterman are barely enough for protection for these posts.

BELLEFONTE & LEWISTOWN RAILROAD.

Report of Chief Engineer Byers on Survey of Route Between Milroy and Bellefonte.

Pottstown, January, 6th, 1869.

Mr. T. Milliken, Esq., Pres't B. & L. R. R.

Sir:—Allow me to submit the following report, with the maps, profile and estimate of the Bellefonte and Lewistown Rail Road.

Two months were spent in making an experimental survey, and about six weeks in making the maps, profile and estimate. The estimate was made from a paper location, with the exception of the first four miles from Milroy, and one mile near Potter's Mills. The location is marked with a red line on the maps, and commences at Milroy, the present terminus of the Mifflin & Centre County Rail Road.

You will see on the map that the line from Milroy to the foot of the first mountain, is a long straight line with the exception of a slight curve in leaving the Mifflin and Centre Co. RR.

The maximum curvature is 14 degrees, and the maximum grade from Milroy to Foust's summit is 126 feet per mile. The maximum grade does does not commence until after the line turns into Cox's Valley.

To avoid tunnel and heavy rock cutting in the narrows of the second mountain, the line crosses to the right bank of Laurel run, just before entering the narrows, and crosses back to the left bank after passing through the narrows. After the first crossing of the Bellefonte and Lewistown turnpike, the true location should follow the right bank of Laurel run, to a point near the old narrows. There it should cross back to the left bank. The slopes being flatter on the right bank of Laurel run than on the left bank—a cheaper and better line can be had.

A continuous grade of 126 feet per mile cannot be used from Milroy to Foust's summit, as the stream does not fall regularly; near the summit the stream falls at the rate of 100 feet per mile; through the "old narrows" at 200 feet per mile; where the line crosses the east branch of Laurel run, to the turnpike, at 132 feet per mile, and from the first mountain to Milroy, about 100 feet per mile. In the narrows of the third mountain, the line passes near an unexhaustable view of iron ore.

There is no very expensive work after turning into Cox's valley, until the line passes through the narrows of the south mountain and across Triester's valley to the narrows of the seventh and last mountain.

The grade from the narrows of the sixth to the narrows of the seventh mountain, on the present location, is 1 foot per 100 feet; this must not be, as it requires the maximum grade ½ per 100 feet to be used from Foust's summit to Bear Meadow creek to get down.

The line from Potter's Mills follows the northern slope of the seventh mountain to Fleisher's run, with an embankment of 20 feet and cutting through a lime stone ridge with a cut of 30 feet at the deepest point. The material from this cut can be used in making the fills on either side.

At the crossing of Bear Meadow creek, the grade is level for a short distance, then ascends at 2 feet per 100 feet to the summit which divides the waters of Sinking creek and Spring creek. Tussey Mountain flattening off at this point into Penn's valley, forms this summit.

The maximum grade from the summit to Bellefonte is 0.8 per 100 feet, which gives about 20 miles of a line not exceeding 42 feet per mile.

It was thought by many persons, that a line could be had by the way of Galbraith's gap and the Bear Meadows to Milroy on a better grade than by the way of Potter's Mills, but upon examining this route, I found that it would require an ascending grade of at least 100 feet per mile, to reach the Bear Meadows from Boalsburg; and to descend the mountains passing thro a gap of Long mountain, south of Foust's, and making Milroy a point, would require a grade of 250 feet per mile.

The line up Cedar creek is shorter than the Boalsburg route, but will be more expensive, besides requiring a heavier grade—having the summit to cross at the end of Tussey mountain. The line up Cedar creek could not possibly be more than a 1000 feet shorter using the maximum grade at 0,8 per 100 feet.

The alignment could be improved from Milroy to Bellefonte, but would add much to the first cost of the road. The maximum grade and curvature is not higher than used on other roads in this state carrying from 1,500,000 to 2,000,000 tons per year.

For the cost of each mile you will refer to the profile. Below is the total cost of grading, masonry and bridge superstructure, also for iron, ties and laying track for 36.8 miles, and other expenses:

Gradation, masonry, and bridge superstructure,	$382,000
Iron, ties, and laying track,	427,000
Depot and other buildings,	30,000
Damages,	30,000
Engineering,	20,000
Total cost,	$889,000

In making the surveys for the Bellefonte and Lewistown RR., I endeavored to do it with as little delay and expense as possible. To have made an instrumental examination of all the routes proposed, would have taken at least four months, and as the means are limited, I decided to survey the route I have reported. I do not hesitate to say that it is the cheapest and best that can be had, with same grade and curvature, between Bellefonte and Milroy.

Very Respectfully Yours,
J. M. BYERS,
Chief Eng'r.

Below we give an extract from a speech recently delivered in Congress by General Morgan of Ohio, a gallant soldier, whose services during the late war preclude the hackneyed charge of disloyalty, and whose utterances, calmly and deliberately made, deserve the thoughtful attention of every lover of his country and republican institutions.

Mr. Speaker:—There are those, and they are numbered by thousands, who at the time of the outbreak of the war which closed five years ago, believed that it was the deliberate purpose of the leaders of the so-called Republican party to force this country into war for the express purpose of subverting its free institutions. I was one of those who were reluctant so to believe. I was willing to contribute, to the best of my humble ability, in suppressing the armed opposition to the government. But, sir, with my hand upon my heart, in the presence of the great God who rules all nations and now watches over ours, I here declare that I am now convinced that the single object of these leaders of the Republican party was the subverion of our free institutions and the desire of war to that end. The charge that I make is a bold one—a charge that should not be lightly made—a charge which, when made on this floor should be sustained by proof. What are the proofs?

I feel bound in candor to say, sir, that in the charges I have brought and am about to urge against those who have usurped leadership over what is called the Republican party, I do not include the thousands of honest and patriotic men who have mistakenly acted with that organization.

But I charge that there is a conspiracy in our country to break down our free institutions and adopt a government similar to that of Great Britain. I charge this:—that there is a purpose to rob the Executive of his constitutional powers. I charge this:—that there is a conspiracy to rob the Supreme Court of the United States of its rightful authority, and to confer upon this House and the Senate judicial powers; thus concentrating in Congress executive, legislative and judicial powers. I charge this: that the action of this Congress is revolutionary; I charge this: that it sets at defiance the Constitution of the United States as the Long Parliament set at defiance the English constitution, and as the Assembly of France usurped all the powers of government.

THE INCOME TAX.

Notwithstanding the express wish of the Ways and Means Committee not to interfere with the income tax at this session, there is still a prospect of its being abolished. Petitions and letters are being constantly received by Congressmen and members of the committee from all sections of the country deprecating its pernicious operations and praying for its discontinuance. It is thought the committee cannot stand the pressure which is already wavering and may yet be forced to yield to this popular demand.

THE MISSING CHILDREN.

Their Bodies Found—They are Traced by the Crows.

A telegram on Thursday informed us that the mystery of the disappearance of the three children of Joseph Wyble, of Wynockie, in Passaic county, N. J., and which has occupied considerable public attention for some weeks, had been solved. The information was brought to Patterson by Mr. Rusling, the engineer of the New Jersey Western Railroad, and the excitement caused by the intelligence was intense, the offices of the local journals being fairly besieged and the street corners crowded by speculative gatherings.

It seems that a man named William Ramsey, with a companion, was walking through the wilderness on Wednesday morning, about two miles from the hut of the Wybles, when their attention was called to a large flock of crows ascending and descending at a point near the foot of the mountain. Proceeding to the spot, they discovered near a shelving rock, the three lost children of Joseph Wyble.

Their bodies were considerably decomposed, but still recognizable. Their wan, pinched countenances gave unmistakable evidence that their death had been caused by starvation. The bodies of the two younger children were found under the shelter of the shelving rock while that of the oldest was found about ten feet distant. The bodies were slightly injured by the crows.

The bodies were carefully carried to the homes of the parents, and were during the day visited by hundreds of neighbors, all of whom recognized in the corpses before them the three lost children whose disappearance has caused such an excitement.

It was now quite evident that all suspicions against the parents of murder were without foundation, while at the same time it is somewhat strange that after the diligent searches made for the children, and the large rewards offered for their recovery, they should be found within a distance of two miles from their homes.

Mrs. Harrold of Jo Daveis county, Illinois, recently became insane on religious matters. She cut her throat from ear to ear and died immediately. A daughter who tried to prevent the deed received a horrible gash in her hand.
