CENTRE HALL REPORTER
FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 11th 1878

Two Negro Horse Thieves Hung.
Nashville, Feb. 1.—Two negroes were taken from the Lebanon jail and hung under the following circumstances:

A short time since two negroes named respectively Jerry Young and Bob White, known to have been desperate and bad characters, who had been carrying on successfully their stealing for some time without being detected, stole some horses and a lot of cotton from parties living not a great way from Lebanon. The parties were arrested, and on a preliminary examination were put in the Lebanon jail to await a further trial. Between the hours of ten and twelve o'clock on Friday night a party of men, numbering nearly thirty, surrounded the jail, and called out the jailer. They demanded of the jailer admittance and the keys. Not having the power to resist he complied with their demand.
On getting the keys the party told the jailer to go back in his house and behave himself. They were undisguised and made known their intention at the time. They then forced the doors of the jail and took the two negroes referred to. They then conveyed them to a point about a mile and a half this side of the town, where they hung them to a limb and left them. On Saturday morning the two men were discovered still hanging, with their faces to the road, both stiff, cold and dead.
They were buried on Sunday. The perpetrators, though they were not disguised, are entirely unknown and accomplished their work without noise or disturbance and departed, leaving no trace as to who they were or whence they came.

Four enormous steers, the smallest weighing 3,800 pounds, and the largest over 4,000 pounds, are on their way to New York. They are said to be the largest animals of the kind ever raised.
After they are killed their hides will be stuffed and placed in the Central Park.

The house territorial committee at Washington, will attempt to secure legislation to abolish polygamy in Utah and to use the United States force to that end if necessary. Won't Brigham swear?

The New Orleans Times, says the popular hymn with the victims of Mrs.
Gaines real estate law suits is "When I can read my title clear."

A London merchant advertised for a clerk who could "bear confinement." He received an answer from one who had been seven years in jail.

It is noticed that "strikes" throughout the country which heretofore were usually to secure higher wages, are now chiefly to prevent a reduction of wages.

Seventy six cases of the new disease, the relapsing fever, have been reported to the New York Board of Health, but no deaths have yet occurred so far as known.

TWO NEGROES HANGED.
New Castle, Del., Feb. 4.—Jones and Carpenter, the colored men sentenced to death for rape, were executed at noon in the jail yard, in presence of six hundred persons. Jones made a short speech, repeating that Carpenter was innocent, as he (Jones) had urged him to the deed. Jones died instantly, but Carpenter struggled several minutes.

London, Feb. 24.—The weather throughout England, for the past few days, has been cool, clear and delightful.

A correspondent informs us, says the Lewistown Democrat, that Wm. A.
Mater, of Menno township, has opened upon his land a coal mine, with a vein of soft coal 22 inches thick.
This is a new source of wealth to Milford county.

CURIOUS LAW CASE.
More than twenty years ago, a woman named Christine Russell, promised one Mrs. Crawford, both of Saug-erties, N. Y., to give her $2,000 a piano, a gold watch, and educate her child, if she (Mrs. Crawford) would bring about a marriage between the said Christine and the Hon. Jeremiah Russell, aged 70, and worth, report said $400,000. Mrs. Crawford accepted the offer, and a contract to the above effect was signed by each. The desired marriage was finally effected by the skillful management of Mrs. C. Years of happiness passed, and Jeremiah died.
Having left no will, trouble arose as to the distribution of his estate, but out of it his widow received $35,000. As soon as this settlement transpired, Mrs.
Susan Crawford demanded the $2,000, piano, gold watch and the education of her child, as the contract price agreed upon in writing, for services rendered the widow in obtaining Hon.
Jeremiah Russell for her as a husband.
Mrs. Russell, however, is now disin-clined to recognize this little episode in her early life, and has put in a defence. The trial will occur in April at Kingston.

RADICAL ECONOMY.

Mr. Dawes, a radical member of Congress, makes the following exposure of the manner in which his party squanders the money:

In the beginning, Mr. Dawes showed that under this measure, if it could have been forced through under the previous question, the Secretary of the Navy could sell three millions of the property at private sale of the Philadelphia Navy Yard, to whom he pleased, when he pleased, and on what terms he pleased—the only obligation on him being that he should obtain the approval of the President, who, from the nature of his duties, could pay no personal attention to the proceedings.
Mr. Dawes questioned whether the state of the Treasury warranted the enhancing of expenses, and called the attention of the House to the estimates furnished for the Navy yards during the next fiscal year, as follows:

Portsmouth, N. H., $577,000, against $50,000 last year; Boston, $747,341, against $100,000 last year; New York $833,511, against $100,000 last year; Philadelphia, $11,985, against $25-000 last year; Washington, $551,775, against $50,000 last year; Norfolk, $258,312, against $30,000 last year.
In short, the Secretary of the Navy, proposed, besides the $800,000 for League Island, a total expenditure of $3,007,394, against $451,000 last year.

MATHEMATICS.
The estimates did not inspire him with much confidence, although the Secretary promised to effect a saving $2,000,000 in the article of coal alone which had cost $150,000 for the last two years. That was an achievement in mathematics which found a parallel one in the achievement of the Post Master General, who proposed to save $5,000,000 a year by the abolition of the franking privilege, while the franked matter would not produce $200,000.

He thought that if the two mathematicians who had prompted these two Secretaries could be brought to light and set to work, they could show that the public debt might be paid before the expiration of the Administration. The book of estimates for the next year contained appropriations for public works to the amount of $24,625,173, against appropriations for the same objects last year of $5-493,000. The administration of Andrew Johnson had been accused of prodigality in expenditures. The people had raved at it on that charge, and found it gony and had taken from it the septer of power and put it in the hands of the Republican party on its profession of economy in the administration of the public service. The people intended to hold them to their promises. But what was the first evidence they put forth to the country of their determination to carry out their pledges? While he knew the ungracious position he occupied it, he proposed to speak plainly, but only to his party friends in the House. He knew there was not much comfort to be derived from the wounds of a friend. Andrew Johnson, in the last year of his administration, had estimated that he could carry on the government for $304,000-000, and that the amount had been cut down over $20,000,000.

What did their own administration estimate that it would carry on the administration of the government for a year? Why, $311,097,174—
AN INCREASE OF OVER TWENTY EIGHT MILLIONS

beyond the amount required by Andrew Johnson, and an increase of $49,628-537 over the amount appropriated for the present year—(motion among the Radicals, cheers from the Democrats)— but this included an error of over $7,000,000 in the footing up of the Post Office Department, which would reduce the increase to $12,000-000; but he believed that not entering into the estimate was a little sugar plum of $80,000 for League Island; back of it, also, were the Bay of Samana and the Island of St. Thomas at $75-000,000 in gold, and back of it, too, were millions that would be added by the Senate to the appropriation bills as they passed the House. [Sensation.]

In this House alone, if the pledges of the Republican party were to be redeemed, they could have no aid either at the other end of the avenue or at the other end of the Capitol, and he put it to the representatives of the people, whether they would inaugurate new public works on the broad estimates of $24,000,000. He had a right to complain of the other end of the avenue that with all its professions of economy, and with all the heraldry by telegraph and otherwise of reduction, there was but one of those departments that did not estimate an increase of expenditures over the appropriation of last year; the exception was the poor unpopular Attorney General.
[Applause.] And he hoped that it was not in consequence of that remarkable trait in his character that it was contemplated at the other end of the Capitol to relieve him from further public service and drive him into private life. [Great laughter and applause.]

EXTRAVAGANCE.
There was a new Postoffice building in New York which, report said, would cost $4,000,000, and the granite for which was estimated to cost $1,500,000.
Were they going on with such expenditures? Were they going to put $3-000,000 from the old Philadelphia Navy Yard and $800,000 from the Treasury into League Island when they might as well wait five years? Two things seemed to be desired: the reduction of the public debt by the Administration, and relief from the burdens of taxation by this House.
[Applause by the Democrats.] Neither of these things could be accomplished without another thing which both overlooked—a reduction of the expenditures. How was it proposed at the other end of the avenue to pay the public debt, unless the expenditures were reduced? [“Hear,” “Hear,” from the Democrats.] How did the House propose to relieve the people and the enterprise and the capital of the country from the burden of taxation under which they were groaning, unless the expenditures were reduced? [Applause.] He would tell his amiable friend from Maine (Mr. Peters) who had emancipated himself from that case about pennies, and who had gone off in a vain search for dollars on which he proposed to economize. [laughter.] that it was the pennies taken by taxation of the spikes, cordage and rigging of the ships of Maine, that made the commerce of the country decline. [Sensation.]
