EDUCATIONAL. In accordance with the suggestion riven in the March number of the School Journal," very many of the chools of our county closed with publie examinations. The practice is a good one, and it is hoped by another year will become general. Indolent and incompetent teachers, or those who capenot inspire their papils with enthu siasm are the only ones who need fear to collect into their schools the patrons, friends, and directors, to witness the result of their winter's wo: k.

It is not intended here to speak generally of the practice of holding examinations, or the good resulting thererom, but to mention briefly the character of one we had the pleasure or attending at the close of the 'Reb rs burg Grammar School," on Friday the 8th inst. We regret that we were unable to attend other examinations, but trust all were characterized with the same succes. The exercises com-menced at 81 o'clock, and continued (with proper interm's lons) till 5 o'lock in the evening; and throughout xhibited a happy combination of the two prime conditions of a good school -namely, order and thoroughness of nstruction.

oral and written plans, combined, was vay as to satisfy all that there had been much patient labor on the part of the teacher and pupils; and that there was nothing resembling a sham et of prepared questions and answers or the occasion. All the scholars were bal" very creditably. The eagerness with which they crowded around the eacher for the "slips,' and the prompt ess with which they wrote out the unalysis of subjects on the board showthe thoroughness of their instruction The branches of Beading, Pennman hiy, United States History, Grammar, Gography, Physiology, and Arithme tic, were gone over; but especially in eresting were the exercises in Penmanship. Each one could tell ad bout lines, rests, position, movements and analysis of letters, with the great est facility. Without disparaging in the least the other scholars, Henry Weber, Horace and Willie Hackman, of age - particularly distinguished and beautiful if we only examined Captain Marcy's account: any letter of the airhabet with the greatest ease, from memory : thus proving that in a short term of four months the theoretical part of penmanship can be thoroughly mastered. The History of the Lucifer Match. Few things afford a finer type of the results of modern civilization than the little splints which we use to procure a light and then so carelessly throw aside. The aboratory of the chemist is introduced into our very households: results which but a few years ago were only to be produced by men who had long poured over crucibles and retorts, are now obtained by children; and the product of deep alchemical research becomes a daily, we had almost said an hourly, convenience. Other inven tions are on a grander scale and as same more magnificent proportions, but the lucifer match excels all in constant convenience. It requires no special engineer or chemist to operate it, as do the locomotive, the steamship, the telegraph, the printing press, and the spinning jenny. No bright brass work, no costly gearing, no cl. borate ornaments surround it; and yet, if the mestion were between the telegraph and the lucifer match, we doubt not! but that if the latter were buried in oblivion, it would abstract more from the general comfort and convenience The ex mination was rigid and of society than would the former. The thorough, and being conducted in the telegraph would be missed by thousands, it is true, but the loss of the luso managed as to bring out the true cifer match would carry inconvenience studing of each pupil, and in such a and discomfort to every man, woman, te graph.

But the match possesses much in itself that is intrinsically beautiful and interesting. We wonder if it has ever occurred to our readers that all the live with interest, and passed the "or | three kingdoms of nature contribute to their convenience every time they use a match? To form the little colored tip, animals gave their bones for phosthat, to old and young, the history of the match can not fail to prove inter-

How negroes are to be managed as voters, can be gathered from occurrences taking place in all parts of the Union. At the recent election in Morristown, New Jersey, John Whitehead, a United States Commissioner, called the negroes together in a Methodist church. After they were organized and supplied with tickets, they proceeded to the polls, headed by Mr. Whitehead, and every one of them, fortyseven in number, voted the Radical ticket. In the town of Catskill, New York, at the hate charter election, a body of thirty ne groes, headed by a leading Radical politician of that place, marched to the polls in military order, where tickets were given brought up like cattle to the place of voting, and Federal officers, in truth, depositing belonging to her, have all the rights and suffrage.
