DEATH BY LIGHTNING. A Terrible Thunder Storm at Kingston, New York-Five Per sons Instantly Killed by the verely Injurcd-Bains and Hou ses Set on Fire.

Our readers will remember the terrible thunder storm at Kingston, Ulster county on Thursday evening last, during which five persons were killed and others severely injured by the same stroke of lightning. Union avenue was crowded with persons going to the circus, the tent for which had been pitched in that avenue. By the time the performance commenced there could not have been less than fifteen hundred human beings under the canopy. This was just before eight p. m., and large drops of rain had already commenced to fall, while the thunder without almost drowned the voice of the ring-master within. A short distance from the main tent was a similar tent used as a fruit stand, and a few feet from this stand stood a willow tree, located in the corner of a yard of an adjoining dwelling. On the corner of the circus ground, under and near the tree, where grouped a large numof persons, who had taken shelter there form the storm. Under the fruit tent were to return to his first love and remarry his also congregated about twenty-five persons, while hitched to the tree spoken of was a horse attached to a wagon, a colored ma being seated in the latter.

Suddenly one blinding sheet of flame lit for in that other Illinois househo'd, whose up the entire scene ; and a peal of thunder master, after divorcing his wife, has enwhich shook the earth, while the airseemed gaged her to do housework for himself and imprograted with a sulphurous smell.
