Almost every one has heard of the beautiful sceneries in New York, and many have been charmed with discriptions of its noted places. Its Niagara, Long Branch, Saratoga, Hudson river, Mohawk Valley, Catskill Falls, and Clifton Springs have an almost worldwide fame. But no description can give an adequate idea of half the beaulies, rivers and springs, larger and smaller lakes present every variety of Gentlemen and Ladies furnishing Goods, Ladies Cloaks and Circulars, in Silk and Cloth, all kinds of Groceries, the finest scenery; and then its soil, under the farm houses standing in parks shaded with tastily arranged evergreens, having the appearance of country villas; and its towns and villages hidden grandeur of the Empire State. Another noticable feature, adding not to mention what I have never spoken of before, to show you not only the feelings that actuated him in the duty to which his beloved countrymen called him, but what noble sentiments inspired him, when he saw the cause for which he had been fighting so long about to perish. Just before the sur render, after a night devoted to the most arduous duties, as one of his staff came in to see him in the morning, he found him worn, and weary, and dis-

RICHFIELD SPRINGS lies just before

A few days ago, at a public meeting held in Columbia, S. C., Gen. Wade Hampton delivered a very impressing eulogy on the death of General Robert E. Lee, concluding as follows :

him, 'How easy I could get rid of this of and be at rest. I have only to ride along the line, and all will be over. In the Valley of Supe, one hundred But,'said he-and there spoke the same spirit of duty which had actuated high spirit of duty told him that he must live to show that he was greatwhom he had before led to victory how to bear defeat; live to show what a great and good man can accomplish; live to set an example to his people for all time; live to bear, if nothing else, his share of the sorrows, and the afflictions, and the troubles which had come upon his people. He is now at rest, and surely we of the South can say of at supper on the night of the 4th, the him, as we say of his great examplar, dining room doors were suddenly the Father of his Country, that he was the beauty, but the interest of the State, is the intelligence and culture of the the hearts of his countrymen."
