PLAYING LOCOMOTIVE.—The boys down along Penna creek—some of whom have never seen a railroad—since the engineers have run along there in high glee about the railroad, and little and big keep imitating the locomotive, and "toot, toot" away all day...

There are still some men who have given our railroad the cold shoulder, we know their sons, when grown to be men, would then be the prouder of their sires, could they say that "father helped to make our railroad."

Burns, Goodhart & Houtz, at the iron front, Lewistown, are now (and always) ready to receive the Pennsylvania trade, and sell goods at prices which cannot be underbid.

We direct the attention of our readers to Frink's advertisement in today's Reporter. These men have built a new store, and opened up in their new and magnificent room, on Wednesday evening of last week.

Politicians are not seamstresses; but some of them do a great deal of button-holing.
