DOTY'S WASHING-MACHINE

Universal Clothes Wringer
Improved with Rewards Patent DoubLe Coo-wheels, and the Patent Stop, are now unquestionably far superfor to any apparatus for washing clothes over invented, and will save their cost twice a year, by saving labor and clothes.

The Editor of this paper, who purchased a Washer and Wringer, thus testifies as to their value: their value:
Dory's Washen.—Washing is the hardest work woman has to attend to. Many have been the inventions to take from have been the inventions to take from washing day its dread by enabling our wives and daughters to perform that work with greater case than accompanies the old mode of washing by and. As ye, few of these inventions have proven success; against some machines it is objected that they will not wash clean, against others that they ruin the clothes, and against others that to operate them is more tiresome than the old mode. A washer than, against which non of these objections hold good will be acknowledged a real godsend by all womankind, and must be classed among the most useful inventions.

The Doty occupies very little space, is easily moved from one place to another, it washes clean, does not tear off buttons or otherwise damage the goods washed, it does its work quick, and with such remarkable ease, that a girl of ten years can work it.—Centre Hall Reporter, Dec., 17th 1869.
