Winter Grain, which does not look well, and has been thrown by frost, will be benefitted by a light, even dressing of fine, well-mixed muck compost, or sim-ply fine mack or soil. Grass and Clover Seed.—These may be sown towards thesend of the month, if the frost is pretty well out of tho ground. The sowing is casiest done on a light snow, when the seed may be seen, and an even cast secured. To this end, it is often well to sow in two directions across an even east secured. To this end, it is often well to sow in two directions across the field, and sometimes even three, as in sowing grass seed upon a lawn. Suit-able weather for this frequently does not come until March. Avoid sowing where melted snows will wash the grain away, or move the seed.
