

CENTRE HALL REPORTER.

Centre Hall, Pa., April 21, '71

TERMS.—The Centre Hall Reporter is published weekly at $2 per year in advance...

Advertisements, $1.50 per square (10 lines for three insertions) at a reduced rate for longer periods...

The figure set to the address upon each subscription is paid up to date, and we assume the same as a receipt...

The Nine Million Bill.

It is pretty clear that the nine million railroad bill, or bill taking nine million dollars of the people's funds from the state treasury for the purpose of railroads...

One main objection there to this bill is, that it is in direct violation of a wise provision of our state constitution...

Centre county needs improvements as much as any county in the state, and as deserving as any other section, yet we venture to say that no farming will be set on foot in this million...

There is one question in the consideration of this subject, fundamental in its nature, and one that cannot be avoided...

As a patriotic citizen, as well as the promoter of wide circulation and extensive influence, it is my duty, and I have no doubt it is your desire, to obtain all the information in your power as to the history...

There is one question in the consideration of this subject, fundamental in its nature, and one that cannot be avoided...

But, barring the unconstitutionality of this measure, we contend that the principle, in this commonwealth, at least is in violation of every principle of justice...

The employees of Lehigh Iron Works at Harrisburg struck on Monday last, and the works have been suspended in consequence. We have not learned what the trouble is.

A radical congress for the last eight years, and strikes among the working men all the time and everywhere. Something must have gone wrong since the democrats went out of power.

24,000 Grains of Corn.

Twenty-four thousand grains of corn. In packages of 24 grains each are ready for distribution. Each package contains eight pills, having three grains to a pill...

Next fall, each person who has received a package, will be sent the name of the Superintendent of his School, giving the number of cents. The Superintendent of each School will give the names of the packages thanked by members of his school.

Next Thanksgiving Day, immediately anterior to send the same to James A. Beaver. A receipt will be kept of the names of each person who sends in this work, and the result of each published in the fall issue of the Reporter.

Why can't every boy and girl who reads this, aid the cause and plant at least 24 grains?

Who will join the Sabbath School Missionary Corn Co.?

Send for a package of Corn at once, to "Christian Union Work," Box 15, Bellefonte, Pa., and give your name and post office address in full.

Superintendents will please send to James A. Beaver for any more packages that can be distributed.

fair average price, for the double bush in ears, would bring the sum of $70.80, leaving a net profit of $10.80, or $14, to be applied to the aid of the Sabbath school work in Centre county.

Let each one, instead of applying for these packages, plant 24 grains of his own corn, the yield of which to be donated as above suggested, and add a donation of postage and express charges...

Net gain, $144.80, and not even reducing the "boys and girls under 10" of age.

A Fair Letter on the Condition of the South.

The New York Observer, one of the best religious papers in the country, in its issue of the 6th inst., publishes a letter from the South, upon the condition of that much maligned section.

Before the war the people of South Carolina were emphatically law-abiding people. The judges were elected for life, were generally men of the highest integrity and ability, and the laws were administered faithfully and impartially.

The remedy for these disturbances is the most difficult. With the present profligacy of the ignorant and impetuous, there seems scarcely any hope for the better.

Wholesale Stamp Swindle.

For some time past the neighborhood of Wall street has been flooded with cleaned revenue stamps of various denominations, varying from one cent to $50 in value.

Grant Backs Down.

In his message to Congress yesterday, says the N. Y. Sun, President Grant fulfils the promise forced out of him by the danger of defeat in Connecticut.

A HORRIBLE CRIME.

A Man Murders his Wife and Five Children, and then Commits Suicide.

A letter from Stone Fort, Saline county, Illinois, furnishes the following particulars of a crime that rivals in atrocity the fiendish murders of Probst and Traupman.

This morning our little town was thrown into intense commotion by the intelligence that an entire family of the name of Dakins had been murdered last night at a point some three miles north of here.

Several deep and long cuts were upon her shoulders and breast, but where could be discovered any stab, showing that the murder was not committed by the use of any instrument.

Now that, thanks to the independent press and independent members of the Senate, the price has been substantially squelched, Congress should at once pass such resolutions as those lately offered by Mr. Sumner, condemning the employment of naval forces on the side of Baez, and putting a peremptory stop to all negotiations on the part of the President.

Gen Lee in Mexico—A Thrilling Incident.

When Gen. Scott commanded the army in Mexico, it became necessary to explore a mountain that lay between the army and the city of Mexico.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer can live modestly, by faith, by courage, by honesty, by industry, by long enough to take breath, and away he goes again.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.

It is a mistake to suppose that a printer would not be thankful for what he does as well as for what he receives.