SAD OCCURRENCE.-We are in formed of a very sad occurrence near Friday evening last. Mr. William Smith was engaged in digging a well on his place, and, it is said, went down into it after supper. After he had been down some time his wife, not hearing anything of him, went to the mouth of the excavaation only to find her husband prostrated at the bottom. She immediately seized the bucket which had been used in the digging, and told her oldest boy to hold the rope while she descended. When bout half way down she fell out. The boy ran for help, but when the neighbors got there both father and mother were dead. It is supposed the father died from suffocation and that the foul air overcame him. Mrs. Smith is supposed to have died from the efsmall children, the youngest of which is only six months old.—Sunbury is only six months
