

The Daily Post.

JAMES P. BARR, EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

Published Daily, Five Dollars per Annum in Advance.

Subscription: Daily, Five Dollars per Annum in Advance.

Advertisements: Per Line, Per Week, Per Month, Per Year.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

THE COURTS.

Supreme Court—Before Chief Justice Lewis and Judges Woodcock, Strong, Thompson and Reed.

November 24, 1859. White vs. Burford. Annuity, 2000. Plaintiff by Golden and Fulton for plaintiff in error, and defendant by John C. Stoen, Pennsylvania Railroad Co. vs. Porter, (in case) Cambria county. Submitted by Porter, for plaintiff in error, and by Union contra.

Round vs. Ottens, Cambria county. Judgment of non pros.

Rudolph vs. Kaylor, Cambria county. Submitted by Rudolph, and by John C. Stoen, defendant.

Johnson Morris' appeal and J. Blair Morris' appeal. Cambria county. Argued by Rudolph for appellants and by John C. Stoen, defendant.

Campbell vs. Todd; Westmoreland county. Argument continued by Todd for plaintiff in error.

Stineman's Appeal and Hyer's Appeal. Cambria county. Argued by Stineman, appellant by Rudolph for Stineman, and by Rudolph for Hyer, defendant.

Younkin vs. Canton, Cambria county. Argued by Coffey for plaintiff in error, and by Union contra.

Adjoined till Thursday morning at ten o'clock.

District Court—Before Judges Hampton and Williams.

November 24, 1859. This court was occupied today by hearing the following cases:

Court of Quarter Sessions, &c.—Before Judges M. Clark, Adams and Park.

November 24, 1859. Julia O'Brien plaintiff vs. the larceny of a shawl and was sentenced to two months imprisonment.

Section Powell was found guilty of fornication and bastardy, on oath of Winifred Davis, directed to pay her $20, and support the child for the year, and was committed to the county jail.

Commonwealth vs. Charles Burnett, Seaman of Weights and Measures; indicted for misdemeanor in office in refusing to bring certain measures belonging to the office of the late Lantz Kamp in the Diamond. The defense held that Burnett was not compelled to do the duty of the office, and was acquitted.

Commonwealth vs. James Scullin and Benjamin Humpal, indicted for assault and battery with intent to kill, on oath of Mrs. Hyde, who testified that defendants entered her hall on Fulton street, and got her for which she refused to pay.

Commonwealth vs. Charles Way, indicted for larceny of a coat, valued at forty dollars, from Henry Moore, of M. Moore, on the 21st of July, which was sold to George Clow, a butcher at Erie, for eight dollars, and was returned to Moore on the 21st of August, and was found to be the same coat which had been stolen from him.

Commonwealth vs. James Scullin and Benjamin Humpal, indicted for assault and battery with intent to kill, on oath of Mrs. Hyde, who testified that defendants entered her hall on Fulton street, and got her for which she refused to pay.

Commonwealth vs. Charles Way, indicted for larceny of a coat, valued at forty dollars, from Henry Moore, of M. Moore, on the 21st of July, which was sold to George Clow, a butcher at Erie, for eight dollars, and was returned to Moore on the 21st of August, and was found to be the same coat which had been stolen from him.

Commonwealth vs. James Scullin and Benjamin Humpal, indicted for assault and battery with intent to kill, on oath of Mrs. Hyde, who testified that defendants entered her hall on Fulton street, and got her for which she refused to pay.

Commonwealth vs. Charles Way, indicted for larceny of a coat, valued at forty dollars, from Henry Moore, of M. Moore, on the 21st of July, which was sold to George Clow, a butcher at Erie, for eight dollars, and was returned to Moore on the 21st of August, and was found to be the same coat which had been stolen from him.

Commonwealth vs. James Scullin and Benjamin Humpal, indicted for assault and battery with intent to kill, on oath of Mrs. Hyde, who testified that defendants entered her hall on Fulton street, and got her for which she refused to pay.

Commonwealth vs. Charles Way, indicted for larceny of a coat, valued at forty dollars, from Henry Moore, of M. Moore, on the 21st of July, which was sold to George Clow, a butcher at Erie, for eight dollars, and was returned to Moore on the 21st of August, and was found to be the same coat which had been stolen from him.

Commonwealth vs. James Scullin and Benjamin Humpal, indicted for assault and battery with intent to kill, on oath of Mrs. Hyde, who testified that defendants entered her hall on Fulton street, and got her for which she refused to pay.

Commonwealth vs. Charles Way, indicted for larceny of a coat, valued at forty dollars, from Henry Moore, of M. Moore, on the 21st of July, which was sold to George Clow, a butcher at Erie, for eight dollars, and was returned to Moore on the 21st of August, and was found to be the same coat which had been stolen from him.

Commonwealth vs. James Scullin and Benjamin Humpal, indicted for assault and battery with intent to kill, on oath of Mrs. Hyde, who testified that defendants entered her hall on Fulton street, and got her for which she refused to pay.

Commonwealth vs. Charles Way, indicted for larceny of a coat, valued at forty dollars, from Henry Moore, of M. Moore, on the 21st of July, which was sold to George Clow, a butcher at Erie, for eight dollars, and was returned to Moore on the 21st of August, and was found to be the same coat which had been stolen from him.

Commonwealth vs. James Scullin and Benjamin Humpal, indicted for assault and battery with intent to kill, on oath of Mrs. Hyde, who testified that defendants entered her hall on Fulton street, and got her for which she refused to pay.

Commonwealth vs. Charles Way, indicted for larceny of a coat, valued at forty dollars, from Henry Moore, of M. Moore, on the 21st of July, which was sold to George Clow, a butcher at Erie, for eight dollars, and was returned to Moore on the 21st of August, and was found to be the same coat which had been stolen from him.

Commonwealth vs. James Scullin and Benjamin Humpal, indicted for assault and battery with intent to kill, on oath of Mrs. Hyde, who testified that defendants entered her hall on Fulton street, and got her for which she refused to pay.

Commonwealth vs. Charles Way, indicted for larceny of a coat, valued at forty dollars, from Henry Moore, of M. Moore, on the 21st of July, which was sold to George Clow, a butcher at Erie, for eight dollars, and was returned to Moore on the 21st of August, and was found to be the same coat which had been stolen from him.

Commonwealth vs. James Scullin and Benjamin Humpal, indicted for assault and battery with intent to kill, on oath of Mrs. Hyde, who testified that defendants entered her hall on Fulton street, and got her for which she refused to pay.

Commonwealth vs. Charles Way, indicted for larceny of a coat, valued at forty dollars, from Henry Moore, of M. Moore, on the 21st of July, which was sold to George Clow, a butcher at Erie, for eight dollars, and was returned to Moore on the 21st of August, and was found to be the same coat which had been stolen from him.

Commonwealth vs. James Scullin and Benjamin Humpal, indicted for assault and battery with intent to kill, on oath of Mrs. Hyde, who testified that defendants entered her hall on Fulton street, and got her for which she refused to pay.

Commonwealth vs. Charles Way, indicted for larceny of a coat, valued at forty dollars, from Henry Moore, of M. Moore, on the 21st of July, which was sold to George Clow, a butcher at Erie, for eight dollars, and was returned to Moore on the 21st of August, and was found to be the same coat which had been stolen from him.

Commonwealth vs. James Scullin and Benjamin Humpal, indicted for assault and battery with intent to kill, on oath of Mrs. Hyde, who testified that defendants entered her hall on Fulton street, and got her for which she refused to pay.

Commonwealth vs. Charles Way, indicted for larceny of a coat, valued at forty dollars, from Henry Moore, of M. Moore, on the 21st of July, which was sold to George Clow, a butcher at Erie, for eight dollars, and was returned to Moore on the 21st of August, and was found to be the same coat which had been stolen from him.

Commonwealth vs. James Scullin and Benjamin Humpal, indicted for assault and battery with intent to kill, on oath of Mrs. Hyde, who testified that defendants entered her hall on Fulton street, and got her for which she refused to pay.

Commonwealth vs. Charles Way, indicted for larceny of a coat, valued at forty dollars, from Henry Moore, of M. Moore, on the 21st of July, which was sold to George Clow, a butcher at Erie, for eight dollars, and was returned to Moore on the 21st of August, and was found to be the same coat which had been stolen from him.

Commonwealth vs. James Scullin and Benjamin Humpal, indicted for assault and battery with intent to kill, on oath of Mrs. Hyde, who testified that defendants entered her hall on Fulton street, and got her for which she refused to pay.

Commonwealth vs. Charles Way, indicted for larceny of a coat, valued at forty dollars, from Henry Moore, of M. Moore, on the 21st of July, which was sold to George Clow, a butcher at Erie, for eight dollars, and was returned to Moore on the 21st of August, and was found to be the same coat which had been stolen from him.

Commonwealth vs. James Scullin and Benjamin Humpal, indicted for assault and battery with intent to kill, on oath of Mrs. Hyde, who testified that defendants entered her hall on Fulton street, and got her for which she refused to pay.

Commonwealth vs. Charles Way, indicted for larceny of a coat, valued at forty dollars, from Henry Moore, of M. Moore, on the 21st of July, which was sold to George Clow, a butcher at Erie, for eight dollars, and was returned to Moore on the 21st of August, and was found to be the same coat which had been stolen from him.

Commonwealth vs. James Scullin and Benjamin Humpal, indicted for assault and battery with intent to kill, on oath of Mrs. Hyde, who testified that defendants entered her hall on Fulton street, and got her for which she refused to pay.

Commonwealth vs. Charles Way, indicted for larceny of a coat, valued at forty dollars, from Henry Moore, of M. Moore, on the 21st of July, which was sold to George Clow, a butcher at Erie, for eight dollars, and was returned to Moore on the 21st of August, and was found to be the same coat which had been stolen from him.

Commonwealth vs. James Scullin and Benjamin Humpal, indicted for assault and battery with intent to kill, on oath of Mrs. Hyde, who testified that defendants entered her hall on Fulton street, and got her for which she refused to pay.

Commonwealth vs. Charles Way, indicted for larceny of a coat, valued at forty dollars, from Henry Moore, of M. Moore, on the 21st of July, which was sold to George Clow, a butcher at Erie, for eight dollars, and was returned to Moore on the 21st of August, and was found to be the same coat which had been stolen from him.

Interesting Presentation Ceremony.

At an early hour last evening quite a pleasing episode in the dry routine of the professional duties of the participants, as well as to the spectators present, took place at the passenger depot of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

The occasion was that of the presentation of the Will A. Stokes, late Solicitor of the Pennsylvania Railroad, with a beautiful and valuable set of plate by the officers of the Company.

The service consists of a large and massive silver set, three feet in length and two in width, on which is etched in the highest style of art the names of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and the names of the officers of the Company.

The set was presented to Mr. Stokes at a reception given at the depot, and was received by him with much appreciation.

The set was presented to Mr. Stokes at a reception given at the depot, and was received by him with much appreciation.

The set was presented to Mr. Stokes at a reception given at the depot, and was received by him with much appreciation.

The set was presented to Mr. Stokes at a reception given at the depot, and was received by him with much appreciation.

The set was presented to Mr. Stokes at a reception given at the depot, and was received by him with much appreciation.

The set was presented to Mr. Stokes at a reception given at the depot, and was received by him with much appreciation.

The set was presented to Mr. Stokes at a reception given at the depot, and was received by him with much appreciation.

The set was presented to Mr. Stokes at a reception given at the depot, and was received by him with much appreciation.

The set was presented to Mr. Stokes at a reception given at the depot, and was received by him with much appreciation.

The set was presented to Mr. Stokes at a reception given at the depot, and was received by him with much appreciation.

The set was presented to Mr. Stokes at a reception given at the depot, and was received by him with much appreciation.

The set was presented to Mr. Stokes at a reception given at the depot, and was received by him with much appreciation.

The set was presented to Mr. Stokes at a reception given at the depot, and was received by him with much appreciation.

The set was presented to Mr. Stokes at a reception given at the depot, and was received by him with much appreciation.

The set was presented to Mr. Stokes at a reception given at the depot, and was received by him with much appreciation.

The set was presented to Mr. Stokes at a reception given at the depot, and was received by him with much appreciation.

The set was presented to Mr. Stokes at a reception given at the depot, and was received by him with much appreciation.

The set was presented to Mr. Stokes at a reception given at the depot, and was received by him with much appreciation.

The set was presented to Mr. Stokes at a reception given at the depot, and was received by him with much appreciation.

The set was presented to Mr. Stokes at a reception given at the depot, and was received by him with much appreciation.

The set was presented to Mr. Stokes at a reception given at the depot, and was received by him with much appreciation.

The set was presented to Mr. Stokes at a reception given at the depot, and was received by him with much appreciation.

The set was presented to Mr. Stokes at a reception given at the depot, and was received by him with much appreciation.

The set was presented to Mr. Stokes at a reception given at the depot, and was received by him with much appreciation.

The set was presented to Mr. Stokes at a reception given at the depot, and was received by him with much appreciation.

The set was presented to Mr. Stokes at a reception given at the depot, and was received by him with much appreciation.

The set was presented to Mr. Stokes at a reception given at the depot, and was received by him with much appreciation.

The set was presented to Mr. Stokes at a reception given at the depot, and was received by him with much appreciation.

The set was presented to Mr. Stokes at a reception given at the depot, and was received by him with much appreciation.

The set was presented to Mr. Stokes at a reception given at the depot, and was received by him with much appreciation.

The set was presented to Mr. Stokes at a reception given at the depot, and was received by him with much appreciation.

The set was presented to Mr. Stokes at a reception given at the depot, and was received by him with much appreciation.

The set was presented to Mr. Stokes at a reception given at the depot, and was received by him with much appreciation.

The set was presented to Mr. Stokes at a reception given at the depot, and was received by him with much appreciation.

The set was presented to Mr. Stokes at a reception given at the depot, and was received by him with much appreciation.

The set was presented to Mr. Stokes at a reception given at the depot, and was received by him with much appreciation.

Of the Insurrectionists.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Messrs. Russell & Lenox, attorneys from Boston, reached here today.

Cook, but waived an examination. He was committed for trial. (Apper's trial resumed.)

Mr. Harding opened the argument for the Commonwealth, and Messrs. Hoy and Griswold followed for the defendant.

Mr. Griswold asked for several instructions, which were all granted by the Court.

Brown was then brought into the Court House, which was immediately brought.

The Court, but in the meantime the judge, overruling the objections made.

It ruled that wherever allegiance was due, treason was committed. Most of the States have passed laws against treason.

The objections, as to the form of the verdict returned, were also overruled.

The Court then asked Brown whether he had anything to say in his own defense.

He said he had nothing to say, and was committed to the County Jail.

Official Vote. St. Louis, November 2.—A special dispatch to the Republic from the president, and the election in Kansas as follows:

For Fremont, 10,411; for Fremont, 10,411; for Fremont, 10,411.

Bill Signed. HARRISBURG, November 2.—Gov. Packer yesterday signed Gen. Duff Green's financial agency bill, which passed at the last session of the Legislature.

COMMERCIAL. PITTSBURGH MARKETS. WEEKLY REVIEW.

Received and Governed by our own Commercial Review.

Pittsburgh, November 2, 1859. We regret that we are unable to give any general information in our market.

The market for wheat is quiet, and the price is about 1.10 per bushel.

The market for corn is also quiet, and the price is about 40 cents per bushel.

The market for flour is quiet, and the price is about 1.50 per barrel.

The market for sugar is quiet, and the price is about 10 cents per pound.

The market for coffee is quiet, and the price is about 20 cents per pound.

The market for tea is quiet, and the price is about 30 cents per pound.

The market for oil is quiet, and the price is about 1.00 per barrel.

The market for cotton is quiet, and the price is about 1.00 per pound.

The market for wool is quiet, and the price is about 1.00 per pound.

The market for iron is quiet, and the price is about 1.00 per pound.

The market for steel is quiet, and the price is about 1.00 per pound.

The market for copper is quiet, and the price is about 1.00 per pound.

The market for zinc is quiet, and the price is about 1.00 per pound.

The market for lead is quiet, and the price is about 1.00 per pound.

The market for tin is quiet, and the price is about 1.00 per pound.

The market for silver is quiet, and the price is about 1.00 per pound.

The market for gold is quiet, and the price is about 1.00 per pound.

The market for platinum is quiet, and the price is about 1.00 per pound.

The market for palladium is quiet, and the price is about 1.00 per pound.

The market for rhodium is quiet, and the price is about 1.00 per pound.

The market for iridium is quiet, and the price is about 1.00 per pound.

The market for osmium is quiet, and the price is about 1.00 per pound.

The market for selenium is quiet, and the price is about 1.00 per pound.

Assault and Battery—John Reynolds.

A journeyman tailor, went on Tuesday to a tailor shop on Market street, and said he would buy a suit of clothes.

John Reynolds, a journeyman tailor, went on Tuesday to a tailor shop on Market street, and said he would buy a suit of clothes.

John Reynolds, a journeyman tailor, went on Tuesday to a tailor shop on Market street, and said he would buy a suit of clothes.

John Reynolds, a journeyman tailor, went on Tuesday to a tailor shop on Market street, and said he would buy a suit of clothes.

John Reynolds, a journeyman tailor, went on Tuesday to a tailor shop on Market street, and said he would buy a suit of clothes.

John Reynolds, a journeyman tailor, went on Tuesday to a tailor shop on Market street, and said he would buy a suit of clothes.

John Reynolds, a journeyman tailor, went on Tuesday to a tailor shop on Market street, and said he would buy a suit of clothes.

John Reynolds, a journeyman tailor, went on Tuesday to a tailor shop on Market street, and said he would buy a suit of clothes.

John Reynolds, a journeyman tailor, went on Tuesday to a tailor shop on Market street, and said he would buy a suit of clothes.

John Reynolds, a journeyman tailor, went on Tuesday to a tailor shop on Market street, and said he would buy a suit of clothes.

John Reynolds, a journeyman tailor, went on Tuesday to a tailor shop on Market street, and said he would buy a suit of clothes.

John Reynolds, a journeyman tailor, went on Tuesday to a tailor shop on Market street, and said he would buy a suit of clothes.

John Reynolds, a journeyman tailor, went on Tuesday to a tailor shop on Market street, and said he would buy a suit of clothes.

John Reynolds, a journeyman tailor, went on Tuesday to a tailor shop on Market street, and said he would buy a suit of clothes.

John Reynolds, a journeyman tailor, went on Tuesday to a tailor shop on Market street, and said he would buy a suit of clothes.

John Reynolds, a journeyman tailor, went on Tuesday to a tailor shop on Market street, and said he would buy a suit of clothes.

John Reynolds, a journeyman tailor, went on Tuesday to a tailor shop on Market street, and said he would buy a suit of clothes.

John Reynolds, a journeyman tailor, went on Tuesday to a tailor shop on Market street, and said he would buy a suit of clothes.

John Reynolds, a journeyman tailor, went on Tuesday to a tailor shop on Market street, and said he would buy a suit of clothes.

John Reynolds, a journeyman tailor, went on Tuesday to a tailor shop on Market street, and said he would buy a suit of clothes.

John Reynolds, a journeyman tailor, went on Tuesday to a tailor shop on Market street, and said he would buy a suit of clothes.

John Reynolds, a journeyman tailor, went on Tuesday to a tailor shop on Market street, and said he would buy a suit of clothes.

John Reynolds, a journeyman tailor, went on Tuesday to a tailor shop on Market street, and said he would buy a suit of clothes.

John Reynolds, a journeyman tailor, went on Tuesday to a tailor shop on Market street, and said he would buy a suit of clothes.

John Reynolds, a journeyman tailor, went on Tuesday to a tailor shop on Market street, and said he would buy a suit of clothes.

John Reynolds, a journeyman tailor, went on Tuesday to a tailor shop on Market street, and said he would buy a suit of clothes.

John Reynolds, a journeyman tailor, went on Tuesday to a tailor shop on Market street, and said he would buy a suit of clothes.

John Reynolds, a journeyman tailor, went on Tuesday to a tailor shop on Market street, and said he would buy a suit of clothes.

John Reynolds, a journeyman tailor, went on Tuesday to a tailor shop on Market street, and said he would buy a suit of clothes.

John Reynolds, a journeyman tailor, went on Tuesday to a tailor shop on Market street, and said he would buy a suit of clothes.

John Reynolds, a journeyman tailor, went on Tuesday to a tailor shop on Market street, and said he would buy a suit of clothes.

John Reynolds, a journeyman tailor, went on Tuesday to a tailor shop on Market street, and said he would buy a suit of clothes.

John Reynolds, a journeyman tailor, went on Tuesday to a tailor shop on Market street, and said he would buy a suit of clothes.

John Reynolds, a journeyman tailor, went on Tuesday to a tailor shop on Market street, and said he would buy a suit of clothes.

John Reynolds, a journeyman tailor, went on Tuesday to a tailor shop on Market street, and said he would buy a suit of clothes.

John Reynolds, a journeyman tailor, went on Tuesday to a tailor shop on Market street, and said he would buy a suit of clothes.

John Reynolds, a journeyman tailor, went on Tuesday to a tailor shop on Market street, and said he would buy a suit of clothes.

John Reynolds, a journeyman tailor, went on Tuesday to a tailor shop on Market street, and said he would buy a suit of clothes.

John Reynolds, a journeyman tailor, went on Tuesday to a tailor shop on Market street, and said he would buy a suit of clothes.

Assault and Battery—John Reynolds.

A journeyman tailor, went on Tuesday to a tailor shop on Market street, and said he would buy a suit of clothes.

John Reynolds, a journeyman tailor, went on Tuesday to a tailor shop on Market street, and said he would buy a suit of clothes.

John Reynolds, a journeyman tailor, went on Tuesday to a tailor shop on Market street, and said he would buy a suit of clothes.

John Reynolds, a journeyman tailor, went on Tuesday to a tailor shop on Market street, and said he would buy a suit of clothes.

John Reynolds, a journeyman tailor, went on Tuesday to a tailor shop on Market street, and said he would buy a suit of clothes.

John Reynolds, a journeyman tailor, went on Tuesday to a tailor shop on Market street, and said he would buy a suit of clothes.

John Reynolds, a journeyman tailor, went on Tuesday to a tailor shop on Market street, and said he would buy a suit of clothes.

John Reynolds, a journeyman tailor, went on Tuesday to a tailor shop on Market street, and said he would buy a suit of clothes.

John Reynolds, a journeyman tailor, went on Tuesday to a tailor shop on Market street, and said he would buy a suit of clothes.

John Reynolds, a journeyman tailor, went on Tuesday to a tailor shop on Market street, and said he would buy a suit of clothes.

John Reynolds, a journeyman tailor, went on Tuesday to a tailor shop on Market street, and said he would buy a suit of clothes.

John Reynolds, a journeyman tailor, went on Tuesday to a tailor shop on Market street, and said he would buy a suit of clothes.

John Reynolds, a journeyman tailor, went on Tuesday to a tailor shop on Market street, and said he would buy a suit of clothes.