WILL CLOSE OUT HIS SUPERIOR that did not prove that there could not have been. He renewed his resolution.

Mr. Stevens raised the point that the resolution was not in order; that previous to entering on business an act of Congress requires that the oath shall be administered to the Speaker, and by him to the clerk and all the members, and no resolution of this body can repeal it. The proposition is therefore an absurdity. The cases referred to by Mr. Montgomery are ot applicable to his resolution. Here the matter rested.

Mr. Rengan of Texas, resumed his remarks from yesterday; insisting that the Republicans disregarded the obligations of the Constitution, and invaded not only the rights of the people, but the reserved rights of the States. Their candidate for Speaker had not said that the doctrines of the Helper book were treasonable. The fact that there are men who will not respect the Constitutional obligations, is one of the startling features of the times, and has All patriotic men should come together, rising above the ordinary prejudices on transient questions, and meet the common enemy whose success would increase the danger to the perpetuating of the Confederacy.
