PITTSBURGH POST Fresh Air in Railroad Cars. The Court of Massachusetts have been called upon to decide a case arising out of a passenger per-isting in letting a draught of near equal in all diseases requiring an EXTERNAL APfresh air into a railroad car, against the wishes of the passengers. The conductor remonstrated, and put the window down; the passenger broke the glass, and got ejected from the car. He brought suit for damages, and got $5, the price of the ticket, the Court ruling that the railroad company had a remedy by law against large, as the the passenger for destruction of property, and could not put him out except for persistent violation of the rules of the company. The New York Journal of Commerce reports a case nearly similar, in which a lady refused to close s window, though requested by an elderly gentleman, who sat on the next seat to her. "Now, which was right—legally, we mean -or according to railroad regulations? Most gentlemen can easily determine what they would have done—they would have left their seat and found one elsewhere, or remain standing rather than quarrel with a lady. But what were the rights of the parties? The comforts of railway passengers depend more on the courtesy and politoness of the parties than upon mere abstract legal rights. A proper regard for their convenience and of others will prompt either gentleman or lady to conform to their wishes in all ordinary circumstances, but if any are so rude as to refuse this, it is far better to allow them the enjoyment of their perverseness than quarrel over it. And when there is a lady in the case, the only prudent course A better expedient than any mentioned by the Journal is for Railroad Companies to oblige their employees to pay proper attention to the heating and ventilation of cars, after having provided the best facilities therefor At present these important matters are left almost to chance, and cars are frequently at an oven heat a portion of the time, and during hold, and causing the expulsion of deprayed humors, in the rest the atmosphere is of an Arctic frigidity. Boils -- We read that one of the sorest afthat of Boils, and they have been found to be, from that time to the present, the most troublesome and painful visitors. We have known instances where individuals were sure to have these cruptions break out upon them once a month at least. They show an impure state of ne blood, and that humor of some kind is lurking there and the overplus of corruption is actually forced to the urface of the body, making its appearance in the form of boils. Now, is it not best to at once purify the sysem? Do you ask what will do this? We answer Ken nedy's Medical Discovery; it is curing humors in every orm, and there is not a State in the Union where it has no accomplished the most astonishing cures.

TO THE MEDICAL FACULTY.

PROF. DEGRATH, Philadelphia.—Sir:—At intervals, during thirty years past, my wife has been subject to Rheumatism of the most violent cast—say four times a year—sometimes so severe as to make it necessary to administer, large doses of the Theture of times and Morphis, and to rock her like an infant in a large rocking chair, to induce any repose. Having frequent correspondence with my son, (No. 103 Chestmit streat, of your city.) I informed him of an attack she had about the middle of last mouth, (January.) which was of such severity as to completely paralyze the system. He, in his anxiety for his mother's welfere, sent me a bottle of your Celebrated ELECTRIC OIL; but as I am one of the practitioners of medicine, I did hem tate to give it a trial. However, on reflection, I concluded try it, which I did, a persona directly up to the letter, and after the third or fourth application she became rather passeive, and before one-third of the bottle was used, not a single vestige of the disease remained in the system, and she still continues well, although she rode out a distance of fourteen miles without a renewal of any of the symptoms. I therefore feel it my duty, for the aske of sudrering humanity, and also fully believing that merit, under all circumstances, should be rewarded, to forward this testimonial.
