THE RECEIPTION OF THE NEW PRESIDENT.
Mr. Lincoln's Address to the People.
Procession to the Depot, and
Departure for Cleveland.

At half past eight o'clock on Friday morning, the hour appointed for Mr. Lincoln's reception, the streets in front of the Monongahela House were lined with citizens, anxious to see and hear the President, and to witness a scene which was to be a grand and memorable one.

At the appointed hour, Mr. Lincoln and Mrs. Lincoln, accompanied by several members of the Executive Council, were introduced to the city. The Mayor, William Wilson, stepped out upon the balcony of the Monongahela House, and in a few moments he had the honor to shake hands with the President.

The President's arrival in Pittsburgh was a grand event, and the streets were thronged with people who came to see and hear him. The Mayor, William Wilson, stepped out upon the balcony of the Monongahela House, and in a few moments he had the honor to shake hands with the President.
