Washington Territory Treasurer of the United States; Lieut. Talbot, for promotion to occupy the rank of Assistant Adjutant General.

The resolution introduced by Mr. Douglas, was designed, by obtaining a reply thereto, to officially declare the fact that there is inadequate power, under the existing laws, to retake and hold the Southern forts now in possession of the seceded States, to show that proceedings to that end would involve a large additional military force and great expenditure of the public money, and therefore the question of war should be postponed till the next session.
