Shortcomings and Needed Reforms. NUMBERTHO

THE POLICE-WHAT THEY DO AND WHAT THEY SHOULD DO-TREATMENT OF DRUNK. EN MEN-CORNER LOAFING-DISOR-DERLIES -CEOWDS -PLACES OF AMUSEMENTS, AC.

In our last we urged the necessity of an inforce, and it is our design in the present artia change, in as brief terms as possible. As long as the force is so small as at present, and the police are either engaged in the search about the office, rossting about the stove in winter, sleeping in the summer, this cannot be done, and a change is most desirable. With ice, and the mere presence of an officer in a is doubtful whether the company will get any to her for reinf. particular locality would frequently prevent the perpetration of outrages and the infringe, ment of ordinances. If it is deemed advisacially at night) upon the street corners, and and would naturally suppose that there was no ordinance against corner loafing; yet there is an ordinance (see City Code, ch. XIII. sec. which makes it the duty of police officers u apprehend all persons "whom they may find gathered together at the corners of the streets, and take them before the Mayor, who may fine them from $3 to $25 for each offence. True, an effort has recently been made to keep he corner of Fifth and Smithfield clear, but there are other localities where the evil is jusas great. Now, we do not say that this pro vision could be enforced by our eight day-policemen, and therefore we should have more. The same remarks will apply to crowds on the sidewalk, in front of lager beer halls, places of public amusement &c. We have seen Fifth street, and other thoroughfares, almost impassible, from crowds of monand boy congregating, obliging ladies and gentlemen to make a long detour to avoid them, and no effort made to remove the crowd. This should ALWAYS ON not be so: these crowds should be dispersed at the streets, without the unpleasant necessity

g justled by the rude idlers who now ar frequently throng the streets. Again, it should be the duty of the police (without the dollar a night the proprietors are now obliged to pay, at the risk of being STATIONER, JOB PRINTER & BOOK BINDER. indicted for public nuisances in permitting disorderly assemblages upon their premises) to be present at all legitimate places of amuse ment, to be on the look out fer pickpockets, who frequent such places, and for the purpose of quieting all disorder and keeping down disurbances, which may occur in a moment. In no city is this matter so much neglected as here. It ent for and paid a police officer is detailed for the purpose named, but if any thing is transcer elsewhere, he is called away and the people who pay taxes and have a right to expect protection from the police, are obliged to look out for themselves in any emergency that may oc

There is another strong reason why the perquisites now enjoyed by police efficers, in the shape of fees for the arrest of drunken and disorderly persons, whom they may take "on view" should be cut off. It is generally conceded that drunkenness is not a crime of itself and only becomes so from the excesses it is duces. In nearly every other city, when a man is found on the streets in a state of intoxication, by day or night, he is, provided he is not noisy, and can tell where his residence is, directed, and frequently, when incapable of le comotion, conveyed home by the police are instructed not to arrest such persons unless they become violent. Here this is not the case, as the temptation to make a fee is so strong that any slightly inebriated person, however well disposed, may be conveyed to the tombs and locked up until he shall become duly sober. This, of course, is a risk that persous who drink to excess must incur, but police officers were so situated that there would be no inducement to arrest in such cases, the individual would more frequently be conducted to his home, and the city and county thus saved the expense these indiscriminate arrests of drunken persons entail. It would be better for all concerned if the course adopted in other cities, even larger than this, should be

Then, too, the term "disorderly persons. whom the police are also empowered to ar rest on view, is very much abused. We have known perfectly sober men, who whiled away by singing a song, to be arrested by the night watch and taken before the Mayor on a charge of disorderly conduct. Abuses of this kind should not be tolerated. They doubtless arise from the loose construction placed upon "dis orderly conduct." The duties of police officers in this particular, whether the force is constituted as at present or re organized, should be clearly defined, and any infraction of the person rules punished by suspension or dismissal from the service.

There are other abuses which might be re to all who reflect upon the subject that the present staff of officers employed by the city cannot properly discharge the duties which belong to their position, some of which appear to have been entirely forgotten.

SENTENCED .- On Saturday morning, in th Court of Quarter Sessions, Judge Mellon delivered an opinion in the case of Alexander McConnell, convicted of wilfully and malia ciously attempting to fire the machine shops of the Cleveland and Pittsburgh Railroad Com-pany, in Manchester, argued on Saturday the 9th. It was to the effect that the case had been properly tried in the Quarter Sessions; and this being the only ground of the application, the motion was overruled. McConnell's counsel, Hon. P. C. Shannon, made a touching appeal to the court for leniency. The prisoner, who is very youthful in appearance, was then directed to stand up: and Judge Mellon sentenced in to pay a fine of $100, and undergo RICHMOND, March 16.—In the Convention o-day, Mr. Conrad advocated the majority report of the Committee on Federal Relaions. He maintained the legal right of secession, though he thought it would have been the proper policy of the Southern States to have made a proper demand for amendments to the Constitution, which he pelieved the North would have acceded to NEW BONNETS AND BATS, them. He said that in a future report the Committee would propose such action on the part of the Border States, and he had no And doubt it would be acceptable to the Con- at vention.
