AN IMPOSTOR .- The Cincinnatti Commer, cial publishes a letter to the Mayor of that city, from J. F. Diffenbocher, of Pittsburgh, describing a young man who, he says recently left here after swindling a namber of young men out of sums varying from $10 to $20, by advertising for a salesman, with the object of catablishing an agency for a patent blotter, snanufactured by B. Hays & Co., Philadelphia, with which firm he professed to be connected. The money was obtained as a guarantee that the parties would return. The description is night, under the following circumstances. follows: He is a Scotchman by birth, about six feet in height, speaks somewhat slowly, but very correctly. He wore a brown Gallatin not perceiving the skiff, the boat run frock coat, and light cloth pants, both cut in over it. One man was saved, but though the low heels. He had whiskers on the chin only, ot a sandy complexion; his hair was of the not been recovered when the Bayard came same color and very thin. He is a polished down on Monday night. Special Meeting of Councils. Councils held a special meeting on Tuesday evening, for the purpose of correcting an informality in the ordinance for the construction of a sewer on Fifth and Wood streets, passed at last meeting, the names of the appraises having been omitted.

In S. C. the object of the meeting was stated by President McAuley.

On motion the vote on the final passage of the ordinance was reconsidered.

Mr. Kincaid moved the blank be filled by inserting the names of J. C. Bindley, Rowan serting the names of J. C. Bindley, Rowan McClure and Aaron Floyd, which was adopted. Mr. Brown moved to amend by inserting:
