OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY. PITTSBURGH:

TUESDAY MORNING

THE DEMOCRATIC COUNTY COMMIT THE OF. CORRE PONDENCE, will meet at the St. Charles Hotel, on SATUBDAY, July 18th, 1861, at 10 a.m. A general attendance is ear nesily requested. By order BAMUEL HARPER, Secretary.

WE are obliged to surrender a large portion of our space to matters of importance, national import and to the news of the day, leaving us small space for editorial remarks. The extract of Secretary Cameron's Report will be read with interest by all, and the substance of the War Bill before Congress should be examined by all. Congress manifests a disposition to get through its work at once and effectually.

The war movements indicate that the rebels must either make a disastrous retreat before many days or risk a pitched battle. If the latter, Gen. Scott has his forces so arranged that victory cannot fail to perch upon the banners of the government.

THE REPORT OF THE SECRETA-RY OF WAR.

The report of Secretary Cameron is able, by their assault upon Fort Sumter forced the country into this war. Many persons have been disposed to think the Adminis, tration was moving too slow and that the measures which it was taking to suppress the rebellion were not commensurate with the exigences of the crisis in our national affairs, but Secretary' Cameron's report shows that even after the three months' volunteers time shall have expired there is still left in the field for available service, 188,000 volunteers and 42,000 regulars or a total of 280,000 officers and men and if it is necessary and Congress sees proper to authorize a still larger army it can be raised to 500,000 men. At the present time every fact and re-

Thata well disciplined omogenous, and efficient force should be forme t of such a scemingly heterogenous mass appear nost incredible. But what is the actual fact !-

out of such a scemingly heldrogenous mass happens almost incredible. But what is the actual fact --Experienced men, who have had ample opportu-nity to familiarize themselves with the condition of European armise; concede that, in point of persor-nel, this pairiot army is fully equal to the finest regular troops of the Old World. A more intelligent body of men, or one actuated by purer motives, was never before marshalled in the field. The calling forth of this large sind admirable force in vindication of the Constitution and the laws is in strict accordance with a wise prudence and economy, and at the same time in perfect harmony with the uniform practice of the Government. But three years ago, when the authority of the nst on was contemptionely defied by the Mormons in Utab, the only safe policy consistent with the dig-inity of such an overwhelming force for the sup-pression of the rebellion as removed all possibility of failure. It will hardly be credited, however, that the following language in relation to that period was penned by John B. Floyd, then Secretary of War, and now actively engaged in leading the rebel forces, who have even leas to justify their ac-tion than the Mormons: "When a small force was first sent to Utab, the rebel forces, who have even less to justify tubit at the more sensitive for the sense of the sense of the sense "When a small force was first sent to Utab, the Mormone attacked and destroyed their trains, and made ready for a general attack upon their co-tumn. When a sufficient power was put on foot to put success beyond all doubt their bluster and bra-vado sank into whispers of terror and submission. "This movement upon that territory was deman-ded by the moral sentiment of he country, was due to a vindication of its law and Constitution, and was easential to demonstrate the power of the Federal ded by the moral sentiment of he country, was due to a vindication of its laws and Constitution, and was essential to demonstrate the power of the Federal Government to chastise insubordination and quell robellion, however formidable from numbers or position it might seem to be Adequate prepara-tions and a prompt advance of the army was an act of mercy and humanity to those deluded people, for it prevented the effusion of blood." I would also recommend a special appropriation for the reconstruction of the Long Bridge across the Potomac, which is now a military necessity. The importance of enforcing the strictest disci-pline, where active army operations are carried on in the rebellious States, cannot be too strongly urged. Public confidence is, for the time being, destroyed, and the nice moral distuctions which obtain among men in well ordered communities destroyed, and the nice more distinctions which obtain among men in well ordered communities are apt to be lost sight of. The Federal courts be-

are apt to be lost sight of. The Federal courts be-ing suspended, grave offences may be committed over which our military courts, as now organized, have no anthorized jurisdiction. It would seen only consistent with a just regard to the interests of the Government and the people that some prop-erly organized military tribunal should be empow-ered to take cognizance of criminal offences and to punish, the offenders when found guilty. Such a tribunal should not have any jurisdiction when the functions of the Federal courts are uninterrupted. It therefore recommend that the subject be referred to the consideration of Courtes.

From statements made to the New York Post by a gentleman of honorable

They are without materials for clothing either soldiers or civilians, beyond few months' consumption. The usual channels of trade, and even of internal traffic, are closed, as for example the communication between Mobile and

 The subsistence of the troops now in the service is a matter of the highest importance. Rations, since of the dispession of discipline. It is desirable, therefore, that the quantity of rations distributed to the troops should, as far as possible, be adapted to their previous dis ary as valor or discipline. It is desirable, therefore, that the quantity of rations distributed to the troops should, as far as possible, be adapted to their previous die ary habits. While it cannot be expected that the lurities to which many have been accustomed should be provided by the commissariat, a just regard to comfort and health imposes upon the Government the duty of furnishing sound, healthful and palatable food. A larger proportion of vegetables and of fresh meats, when they can be procured, than can now be furnished under the army regulations, would undoubtedly diminish the danger of opidemics among the troops. I, therefore, south the question whether it would not be expedient for Congress to enlarge the powers of the commissariation whether it would not supplies, are inade u on the Quartermastic General's Department. It is highly essential that every facility should be supplied with water-proci capes and blankets to serve as a protection against the effects of the intershe of lob ting, and as no discretion has been lodged with the department to act in the matter, many of the troops for the lack of this essential out thave suffered much inconvenience. M'DEVITT, ESQ., The Secretary goes on to say : The Secretary goes on to say: But through the seal and activity of the Ordnance Bureau, the embarrasement thus created has been in a great measure overcome. As the capacity of the Government armories was not equal to the supply needed, even after having doubled the force at the Springfield Armory, the department found it absolutely necessary to procure arms to some extent from private manufacturers. It is believed that from these sources they can be obtained equal in quality and not much higher in cost than those made in the national workshops. It would, there-fore, appear a wise policy on the part of the Gov-ernment to encourage demestic industry, by sup-plying our troops in part from private factories of our own country, instead of making purchases from abroad. In making the selections of officers for the new regiments, teo courses only seemed to be open-vis to make the appointments from the regular service, by seniority or by selection. The first appeared lable to the gr-ve objection that old and, in some instances, inefficient men would be premoted to places which ought to be filled by younger and more vigorous afficers. The second was liable to the objection that favoritism might prejudice the claims of worthy officers.
