CAMP SCOTT, STATEN ISLAND, N.Y.,) HOSPITAL DEPARTMENT, July 14th, 1861.

DEAR POST:—It is a gloomy Sunday in comp to day—a drizzling rain falling all day, and our parade, as a consequence, is postponed. We are also minus our ususl influx of visitors. But I am glad on one account, as it gives us one Sunday since our arrival to ourselves, to think of things pertaining to another and a bet-ter sphere. I attended church this morning—at the Ohapel (a large tent capable of seating over 100 persons,) which was erected by the Young Men's Christian Association of New York, and heard a beautiful sermon delivered to us by our Chapain, Rev. Mr. Tritchell. To night we have a prayer meeting, and if it is attended as usual, we shall have a large congrega-tion, and an attentive audience. Our camp has now but four regiments within it limits, the fourth having moved a short distance from here to a more elevated position, and better adapted to the health of the men. However, the health of our boys is unusually good. The Hospital containing but one—complaint, measles (from the Zouave Cadets, Company B, but he is doing finely, and will be up in a day or two. Aspects brighten in regard to our moving. We received our muskets, and the knapsacks are now stored in the Commissary's Department. The muskets are from Springfield, and are old fint lock ones altered to percussion. But as I stated before in my last letter, our boys are not to be brow beaten now, "but will fight with anything they get," not disguising the fact that they would be much better satisfied with rifles, and those of s good pattern. Our Hospital now contains some fourteen cases, but none of a more erious nature than coup d'soleil. Guard House, (I am sorry to say,) does a far more brisk basiness than we; but since the departure of the 4th Regiment, the occupants of the aforesaid domicil are dwindling away; but good for Pittsburgh, she has not had the dishonor of having one of her boys confined within its walls (or rather slabe) that is to my knowledge, and I can state that it is true of the Friend Rifies, beyond doubt. The Guard 2d Relief are just passing the office, and I notice some of our boys, who were out all last night on duty; but the rain does not seem to effect their ardour, for they seem, as brisk as ever-barring an enormous ap petite, a disease that is prevalent here at the present time. One of the Rifle Guard as he passes, sings our camp chorus: Tune, Gay and Happy. Bread and coffee, come with a will, I love bread and coffee still; Bread and coffee, bread and coffee, I love bread and coffee still.

They now have somewhat more in the way of rations. One losf of bread, (18 nces) to do for three meals, and a slice of meat at dinner and supper—with rice every other day, and potatoes once in two weeks. But vegetables are an unknown article, as this luxury has to be purchased at your own expense, and once in a while I see the boys buy a bunch of onions or radishes, they are cheap, the cost being only one or two cents each, and it is considered benefitwo cents each, and it is considered beneficial to change your diet once in a while, and all you have to do is, eat your loaf of bread at breakfast—and what are you going FURNITURE & CHAIRS. to do the rest of the day, echo answers aye In regard to our postal arrangements the letters are dropped in the office here without attaching a stamp, they are then taking over to the City Hall, N. Y, and franked by an agent of the Hon. D. E. Sickles, and cause of delay in the destination of some of them is easily explained, as they are allowed to accumulate there until they amount somewhere in the neighborhood of a bushel or two, and then they are franked. The safest and surest mode is to put a stamp upon them here prior to their being mailed. This is my plan and I have experienced no delay in my correspondence, whatever. News and items are as scarce as secessionists in a routed camp, and the only matter worthy of note, is the finding of a dead body at the beach, who it was supposed belonged to our camp—the Corois now holding an inquest on it-I tra quality or capacity, but shall learn in time for my next letter. I forgot to mention that my friend of early days, Lieut. John McClintock, of Pittsburgh, visited our camp last week as he was on his way our camp last week as he was on his way

Meanwhile two pieces of the Cleveland Artillery came up and opened on the rebels, and the with Indiana advanced to the support of the 14th Ohio's left, while the 7th Indiana crossed the river between two fires and came in on the enemy's right flank. The rebels then fled in great disorder, leaving their finest pieces of artillery at the next ford, a quarter of a mile further on. Gen. Garnett attempted to rally his forces, when the 7th Indiana came up in hot pursuit, and another brisk engagement ensued. Gen. Garnett was finally shot dead, when his army fled in wild confusion toward St. George; the 7th Indiana pursued them for a mile or two; but our forces being so exhausted with their forced SODA WATER march of 20 miles with but little rest from vesterday's march, Gen. Morris refused to let them pursue further. Results of the whole affair are the capture of the rebel camp, Laurel Hill, large amount of tents, them that of the Georgia regiment; four Georgia Captains and Lieutenants, large number of Virginia officers, death of Gen. Garnett and twenty of his men, and wounding a much larger number. Our loss is wholly in the 14th Ohio—two killed and two wounded. Our forces are now engaged in burying the dead.

Along the line of retreat the woods are filled with deserted rebels, and our men are ordered to stop arresting prisoners, because we can't take care of them.

There were over four thousand rebels on the bluff commanding our position, who opened fire on the 14th Ohio at the distance of a little over two hundred yards.
Their artillery was rapidly served, but was simed about two feet too bigh, cutting off the trees above the heads of our boys.
Our advance, which alone entered the engagement, numbered less than two thousand. It is thought that our forces at Rowlessurg will cut off the retreat of the remainder, and secure the few baggage was gons left.
