

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY. PITTSBURGH:

THURSDAY MORNING,::::JULY IS, THE THREE MONTHS VOLUN

The regiments which left Pittsburgh for three months' service at the breaking out of the war in prompt and patriotic response to the call of the President; for seventy five thousand men t defend Washington city, will many o them return home within a week. To a man; they have honorably fulfilled their contract. Many of them have already signified their intention of re-entering the service for three years or during the war. Others will follow this patriotic example; and of the regiments that will disband at the close of three months' term, a large number of individual members will rejoin the army. The War Department has wisely thrown out in ducements to these experienced soldiers. Regiments which re-enter the service will be entitled to fifty dollars bounty per man Companies will be entitled to forty dollars per man bounty, and individul soldiers to thirty dollars bounty. These three months' men have become veterans, and many of them are now fully equal to regulars. The Government has done a sagacious thing in offering them inducements to retain their places in the field, which cannot be se well filled by raw recruits.

Recruiting for the regiments whose terms are about expiring, is now going on briskly here and elsewhere. Gov Curtin and the Military Department of the State are making every necessary provision for the prompt and proper equipments of the new recruits. It is probable that the old regiments will soon be filled up with three years' men. who will re-enlist, for after the soldiers have paid a visit to their friends at home and received their warm congratulations, they will soon ascertain what we at home know, that the only chance of putting an end to this war, and restoring business activity, so that employment may be obtained, is for the trained men of the State to finish the work they have | tered into the military service of the so bravely begun.

The dispatches from Washington announce that within the last day or two the Eleventh Mas-achusetts Regiment has proceeded to Alexandria; also the Fourth Michigan; the Ninth Massachusetts with rifled guns, 12 pounders, has crossed the river; the Seventh New York the Twenty-first New York; the Garibaldi Guards; Lieutenant Green's battery of rifled cannon; Col. Miles' whole brigade; the New Jersey Third, Col. McLean's N. J. R giment and Col. Enstein's Pennsylvania Twenty Seventh, have all gone into Virginia.

The regiments have had orders pack everything except their guns, uniforms, canteens and one blanket each. Seventy-five navy government wagons have been sent over the long bridge to move the camp equipage of the r giments now encan ped near the ridge, and about to advance toward Manassas Junction. A thousand axes have been distributed to the troops, who act as sappers and miners. All these movements betoken that Gen. Scott is prepared for army in Virginia: a forward march and with Patterson on the North, and M Clellan in the West, is about to enfold the rebels with his military anacondu. The rebels seeing that the Federal Government is in dead earnest, may may e a stand at some point, but it would not be surpaising it Richmond itself hould be abandoned to the armies of the Republic.

THE PRISONERS.

The question is an interesting one what our government is going to do with the prisoners taken by Gen McClellan. It will be a very expensive arrangement to feed and watch so large a body of men, and as the campaign goes on it is impossible to say how large the number of prisoners may become. Exchange of near the line of Virginia. prisoners to any extent is impossible for the rebels have very few to offer. One plan is to administer the oath of allegiance and let the whole crowd go loose. It is contended that their late sad experience will prevent them from again takarmy and cause them to desert the traitor flag, and thus the whole army of Davis and Beauregard might be weak-

Many of our readers may recollect the brilliancy of the Drummond Light, as appointed in provisional and regular exhibited by Dr. Lardner in the Theatre, armies of the Confederate States. during his lectures in this city, in 1841 It was used by its inventor, Drummond, as a signal light, instead of rockets, while surveying the coast of Great Britain. There have always been difficulties in making it a constant, continuous, or portable light for practical uses. It owes all its success to the efficiency produced by the compound blow-pipe invented by a Pennsylvanian, the celebrated Professor Hare, of Philadelphia, and it may be described as a white light produced by an intense heat, evolved from emerging streams of oxygen and hydrogen gas on limestone.

A lamp, however, far excelling all the properties of the above has been invented by a citizen of Rochester, New York, and has been fully tested and approved, as just the thing required for railroad

It was tried during an intensely dark night a week ago, and spread out an immense blaze of light, by which, at the distance of a quarter of a mile, newspaper print, of the usual small size, could be read with great facility, and at half mile the same print could be readily made out by the naked eye without any great trouble. The light is represented to be so clear and white, as to give a sharp and distinct outline to a great preadth of landscape, for two housand feet, at least, in advance of the locomo-

The light of the lamps for locomoives now generally in use, will only ilumine for the distance of five or six nundred feet, just barely enough to let the lookout see the danger, and not enough of time to spare, to stop the noounters the obstructions on the track at night. The last number of the Scientific American announces that the government have employed Professor Grant to erect a Drummond light at Fortress Monroe, the same in capacity as the one already supplied to Fort Pickens.

at Richmond has laid before the British Minister, Lord Lyons, official documents respecting recent cases where the blockade of the Chesapeake had been broken by private individuals by permission of the Government. It appears, from the alleged facts communicated by the British Consul, that passes have been issued by General Butler, permit ting private individuals and vessels to pass through the blockade. Copies of these passes, purporting to bear General Butler's signature, were taken from the thundering train in its speed, before it parties, and are among the documents communicated.

Lord Lyons, it is understood, has called the attention of the government to these facts, and requests an explanation. The questions involved are of the highest importance. It appears that the British agents at the several ports of the South are keeping a most a vigilant watch respecting the blockaded ports, and it is quite probable they may give us trouble whenever any pretext or opportunity may occur.

IT is estimated that Gen. McDowell must now have about fifty-five regiments, numbering nearly fifty thousand men. Over the Confederates he has a marked advantage, namely, in regulars, and in s entitled to the untrammeled services of many regiments like Einstein's, D'Utas-Mr. Baker in the Senate, he should sy's, Blenker's, Vangilsa's, and others, not put himself at the disposal of the whose officers and men, having been in President, the Secretary of War, and actual service, will be almost as good as
