

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY.

PITTSBURGH: WEDNESDAY MORNING, JULY 31

A WORD TO THE DISCHARGED VOLUNTEERS.

The three months' men have been discharged from the service just at a time when their country most needs their services. The services of these men and of others are still required. The War Department has issued orders for several regiments which are now recruiting in our midst. Let not these men who are now discharged and have their pockets well filled with the earnings so well deserved and hardly earned, demoralize themselves and others around them with the money paid them by the government. take warning by the fate of those who some few short weeks since organized and offered their services to the government at a time when they were rejected; such may again be the result.

The country still needs their services the channels of remunerative occupation are all full at home without them. Let well provide for their families and them- through the cities. selves and when they are needed in the field. It will be a poor recommendation for these men, should they apply here after for assistance and for employment that they remained at home when their pockets were filled, although their country still needed their exertions.

The War Department calls for men Some three or four regiments are now recruiting in our midst, but the rapidity with which other States respond to the demands of the Government may close the doors against these regiments as was the case before. A word to the wise is sufficient.

MR. CRITTENDEN'S RESOLUTION. On Monday last the House of Representatives adopted with great unanimity a resolution previously introduced by Mr. Crittenden, which places on record, not only for to-day but for all time, the parliamentary judgment of this nation with regard to the origin and objects of a war confessed to be "deplorable," but "forced upon the country."

The following is the resolution, which deserves, at this juncture of our national history, to be especially signalized to the attention of every American citizen:

Resolved by the House of Representatives the present deplorable civil war has been forced upon the country by the disunionists of the Southern States, now in arms against the constitutional Government, and in arms around the Capital; that in this national emergency, Congress, banishing all feeling of mere passion or resentment, will recollect only its duty to the whole country; that this war is not waged on their part in any spirit of oppression or for any purpose of conquest or subjugation, or purpose of overthrowing or interfering with the rights or established institutions of those States, but to defend and maintain the supremacy of the Constitution, and to preserve the Union, with all the dignity, equality and rights of the several States unimpaired; and that as soon as these objects are accomplished the war ought to Let the citizens of the loyal States consider well this declaration of the nation, and live up to its spirit. Let those of the disloyal States ponder it well, and it may tend to dispel many of the illusions under which they are labor-

In the future of this war let no influ ences arise which shall divert this people from the great and patriotic purposes thus declared by the will of Congress and the voice of the nation.

THE TWELFTH REGIMENT AT ALTOONA.

The Twelth Pennsylvania Reserve, Col. Hays, passed through Altoona on Sunday week on their way to Harrisburg, where all the reserve regiments are to centre. The patriotism which they have displayed met a happy compliment while they were there. While the officers were taking supper at the "Logau House," Mrs. Aspinwall, a lady who has been boarding at that house for some two or three years past, and who is possessed of considerable means and an extra amount of patriotism. presented to the regiment, through Major John W. Dincan, a beautiful silk regimental flag. After the presentation, the regimental band played the "Star Spangled Banner," and three good cheers were given by the large growd assembled to see the

MOVEMENT OF TROOPS TO WASH-INGTON CITY.

During the past week over 20,000 troops have arrived at Washington. Of these eighteregiments belong to the Pennsylvania Reserve Corps, five were from New York, two from Massachusetts, one from Wisconsin, two from Ohio and one from Vermont. In addition to these, other regiments continue daily to reach. Washington, and what-ever fears may lisve been enjoriained of an attack on it, the capital is now safe from assault. The Potomac river above Washington cannot be crossed by the rebels, as Secretary Wells has ordered a powerful naval force to guard the river. The river above Washington to Harper's Ferry is equally secured by Union forces that line the banks of the Potomac.

THE POLDIERS. In Washington City there are great complainis of disorderly conduct and riotous behavior on the part of the soldiers stationed there. The papers are urging the establishment of a police force to consist of a regiment of one that no soldier or officer shall be perlimits of Washington or Georgetown except while on duty. At Harrisburg, some ten or twelve thousand returning volunteers have kept that city in an uproar, and placed the lives and property of the citizens in danger, for nearly a week past. These things are greatly to be regretted, and some means should be taken to enforce the first duty of a soldier-obedience to

For some time to come it is probable that a large number of soldiers will remain in and about our own city. A large city is not a fit place for large bodies of soldiery to remain for any great length which still needs men. Let these men of time. We suggest that arrangements that for thirty-six hours after the battle be made promptly for the establishment of camps near the city for the use of the regiments now recruiting for the war .--Camp Wright and Camp Wilkins will undoubtedly be used for this purpose; and when the camps are formed the officers should at once commence the enforcement of strict military discipline,

COL. RIPPEY'S REGIMENT. Col. Oliver H. Rippey is proceeding with the organization of his regiment, and the companies to be attached thereto are fast filling up. Colonel Rippey is a veteran officer in service, in the prime of manhood and universally beloved and esteemed by all who have been his companions in serving their country. His regiment has been accepted as one of the ten for which the General Government has made a requisition upon the Governor of Pennsylvania, as will be seen by the following official docu-

A letter from Cincinnati from a cred ble source, to a gentleman in this city, states that Col. James Guthrie has discovered a female spy among the soldiers of his regiment, now in Western Virginia. The woman came to the Colonel few days ago and acknowledged her sex. She says she enlisted at Camp Dennison, at Cincinnati, and has borne a musket and knapsack and performed all the duties of a common soldier thus far during the campaign. She save she has all along been acting as a spy of the Secessionists, and letters and papers found upon her person confirm this statement. Her story was not believed at first, and she was sent to the surgeon for examination, who reported that the sunnesed soldier was indeed a woman-Col. Guthrie sent her to Gen. Cox as a spy, to be disposed of as he might deem story. He says: On Sunday last we discovered a female soldier in our camp—she enlisted in Com-pany D., on the 10th of May last and has been doing soldier duty ever since. On all the long marches we have made, she has carried her musket and knapsack the whole time, and has never complained or lagged behind. It is astonishing to every one how she ever stood up under it. On being closely questioned, she confess ed that she was a spy, and constant com-munication with the rebels—that she is a member of the Knights of the Golden Circle, and through that order, members of which she finds every where, she has found the means of forwarding her letters to the rebels. She says she knew full well that the penalty for being a spy was death, and that she is ready whenever they wish to shoot her. She has been kept a prisoner ever since, and will be forwarded to Columbus for safe keeping.

EVACUATION OF HARPER'S

It is not altogether certain that Gen. Banks has retired from the right to the left bank of the Potomac, at Harper's Ferry, as reported, although in a military point of view the Maryland Heights offer the best offensive and defensive position, and will doubtless be occupied by him. He has, however, been so strongly reinforced within the last few days, that he will probably be able to will not be led into an incautious chase being asked what kind of coal was used
