OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY. CITY MATTERS.

The Mayor's Proclamation. Elsewhere we publish the proclamation of Mayor Wilson, ordering the proprie. tors of all salvons, beer halls and taverns Virginia, Wheeling and Branche to close their bars from this morning until next Monday. This is called forth by the South Carolina... frequent disturbances which have occurred Alabama on our streets during the present and last Lou siana. Kenticky. week, created in a great measure by returned volunteers, who, just let loose from the privations of camp life and the discipline of their officers, are disposed to run into all sorts of excesses and settle their disputes and old grudges by the law of the strongest arm, which military discipline prevented previous to their being mustered out. We hope this messure may prove salutary in checking these excesses and we believe it will; at all events the experiment is worth trying and we hope all good citizens will aid the Mayor by obeying his proclamation to the letter.

The late Bishop Bowman. The Philadelphia Bulletin has the fol lowing sketch of the late Bishop Bowman. The intelligence of the sudden decesse of the Rt. Bev. Samuel Bowman, D D, Assistant Bishop of the Episcopal Church, in the Diocese of Pennsylvania, has been re ceived with profound sorrow, not only in his own church, but among all in the com munity who were acquainted with him.

Bishop Bowman was a native of Wilkesbarre, and born in 1800. He was educated for the bar, but, soon after admission, turned his attention to the study of divinity. and was ordained a deacon, by Bishon White, in the year 1823 In the following year he was ordained a priest. Immediate ly after he was ordnined a descen he took charge of St. John's Church, Pique, Lan caster county. In October, 1825, he became rector or Trinity Church, Easton, devoting also a portion of his time to an infant congregation at Allentown. In 1828, he was called to St. James' Church Lancaster, and continued there for thirty years, only giving it up when he was elected Assistant Bishop of Pennsylvania, in 1858. Probably no minister was ever mor beloved by a congregation than he was. In 1848 Dr. Bowman was elected Bishop of the Diocese of Indiana, but he declined it, preferring to remain with his congregation. The failing health of Bishop-Potter preventing him from attending to all the arduous labors of his diocese, the convention of the church, in May, 1858 determined to elect an Assistant Bishop. On the 28th of the month, on the sixteenth ballot, Dr. Bowman was elected, his prin-25th, 1858, so that he filled his sacred office

Your than three years. Fire on Penn Street-Another Oil re-elected. Warehouse Destroyed.

About two o'clock on Wednesday morning the oil warehouse of Kier & Mitchell, a one story brick building, about sixty feet front on Penn street, just above the canal bridge and running back to the canal, was discovered to be on fire. It was burned and equipped, and in the interim will be down in a short time. Fortunately the fire did not communicate to any of the adjoining buildings. The warehouse condered by the government of the State, but tained 110 barrels crude rock oil, 200 or was tendered by Col. The oil destroyed was valued at $6,50 per barrel, or $715, and the empty barrels at about $500. The building was not worth much: | day. The men were all well armed and Wilson for larceny. The pocket-book was equipped and in excellent spirits. They are in command of Col. Meredith, a magnificent specimen of a man, six feet nine inches in height, and like Saul amid the Philistines, he towered far above his men, who are themselves of no mean stature, the average height being five feet nine inches. At the dining room for the troops fifty ladies were in attendance, who served out coffee and other refreshments with great liberality. More than twenty of the soldiers poured the whisky out of their canteens and permitted the ladies to fill them up with coffee. After satisfying the crasting of the inner man, the regiment was trasferred to cars on the Pennsylvania Railroad and resumed their journey to inches in height, and like Saul amid the Washington City, giving three cheers for the ladies of Pittsburgh as they moved off.

To Collectors for the Relief Fund. The Finance Committee appointed by the Committee of Public Safety of Allegheny county, for the relief of the families of our volunteers, would make this appeal to all who were appointed as collectors to this fund: In consequence of the diminished amount in the Treasury, and the great number of persons who look to this Committee for partial relief during the absence of their natural protectors, who are new in he service of our country, we respectfully request a speedy return of all contributions received, and also that the books furnished by this Committee to such Collectors be eturned, to enable us to make a correct statement to the General Committee We are anxious to keep a supply in the Treasury, for the families of absent volunteers, until such time as they can be relieved from the fund raised by the tax authorized for their relief, and now levied by our County Commissioners. feared the effect of the payment of our returned volunteers was any thing but a happy one upon our usually quiet city.— It afforded them the means of indulgence and this produced more disturbances upor our streets than have occured on any day during the past week. The Diamond was the scene of a dozen disgraceful fights and several were commended on Fifth street, but nearly all were "nipped in the bud" by an extra force of policemen. Nobody was much hurt, and few arrests were made.

We trust the Mayor's proclamation may have the effect of checking this riotous disposition, disgraceful alike to those who indulge in it and the good name of our city.
