A correspondent at Freeport gives us "an idea of the recent tornado or rain, accompanied with great destruction of property, bridges, acqueduct, &c." He says: "Last night, the 12th, Buffalo creek was cleared out from the head waters down to its mouth, bringing down mill dams with velocity, sweeping away the bridge across the creek, together with the piers, tearing every thing away in their course, down against the litthe acqueduct at the mouth of the creek, through which the canal runs, and sweeping it away, piers, superstructure and all, leaving nothing but the abutments. The devastation was general and communication with Allegheny and Butler counties was cut off by obstructions on the Allegheny Valley Bailroad." The writer had der, residing about a mile up Buffalo creek, had been swept away, with his family, in live children at home and

PULL REPORT OF THE LATE BATTLE AT SPRINGFIELD.

Federal Army Safe.

Sr Louis, August 14 -The following s a verbatim report of the special messens ger to Gen. Fremont : - Early on Saturday norning Gen. Lyon marched out of Springfield and came up with the enemy on Davis' Creek, on Green's Prairie, four miles south-west of Springfield, where they had taken a strong position. Gen. Lyon fired the first gun at twenty minutes past six o'clock, when the battle immediately comnerced. A severe cannonading was kept up for two or three hours, when the fire of otten's artillery, proving too severe for the enemy, they gradually fell back towards their encampment on Wilson's Creek — Lyon's cavalry on the left flank, and Sei gel's artillery on the right, they began a terriflic attack, and spread disaster and dismay in the ranks of the rebels, pursuing ttem to the camp.

The shells from Totten's artillery set ire to their tents and baggage wagons, which were all destroyed. A Louisiana and a Mississippi regiment seemed to suffer most, and were almost annihilated. Some time in the afternoon, while Gen. Lyon was leading his column, his horse was shot from under him. He immediately mounted another, and as he turned round to his men, waving his bat and cheering them on to victory, he was struck field on Saturday morning, and came in the small of the back, and fell dead to the ground. The command then devolved army marched out of Springfield on Fri encampment. On Sunday morning, General Beigel fearing that the enemy might recover and attempt to cut off his command from Springfield, fell back on that city, where the Home Guards were stationed; then fearing that the great numbers of the enemy might induce them to get between him and Rolla, General Seigel concluded to fall back on Rolla with his prisoners and baggage trains to meet reinforcements. At the time of the departure of the mesenger the enemy had not been seen, and t is probable that General Seigel had not been disturbed on his march. Ninety wounded in the leg and had a horse shot rebels were captured, including a Colonel from under him. The Colonel of one of of distinction, the messenger not remembering his name. The sword and horse of General Mc-Culloch were among the trophies of the field of battle. Reinforcements for Genthe army may be considered as safe. Washington, August 14.—It is under-possible, to the restriction rule now applied telegraphic correspondence in relation military movements. This morning six persons who were made prisoners after the battle of Bull Run reached here. They left Richmond the day before yesterday, and were sent to our lines near Fortress Monroe. The following is the obligation required of them, viz: "We, the undersigned, officers and non-commissioned officers and citizens of the United States, do make our unqualified parole of honor that we will not, by arms, information or otherwise, during the existing hostilities between the United States and Confederate States of America, aid or abet the enemies of the said Confederate States, or any of them, in any form or manner whatsoever until released or exchanged."

Captain Saxton, Assistant Quartermaster U. S. Army, has tendered to the War Department the services of a body of 2,400 men, now ready at St. Louis, to take the field, who asks that he shall be detached temporarily from the regular service in order that he may be their Colonel. It is directed by the Provost Marshal that no soldiers be permitted to leave this city by the railroad who are unable to show that they have been properly discharged from the service of the United States. Also, that no negroes, without sufficient evider co of their being free, or of their right to travel, are permitted to leave the city upon the cars. The enforcement of Price was not killed. There were rumors this order has resulted in taking from some on the field that Ben McCulloch was killed of the New York Fire Zouaves fourteen but the rebels denied it. On Saturday in FIGHT AT BERLIN!!

FOREIGN NEWS.

St. Louis, Aug. 14.—The following ac count of the battle of Springfield was fur nished by an eye-witness, who left Spring through to this place on herseback: -Our on General Slegel, and the pursuit was day evening, 5500 strong, the Home continued until nightfall, when our little Guards remaining in Springfield. Our army rested for the night in the enemies forces slept on the prairie a portion of the night, and at about sunrise on Saturday morning, drove in the outposts of the enemy, and soon siter, the attack became general: The attack was made in two columns by Generals Lyon and Sturges, and Gen. Siegel leading a flanking force of about 1000 men and 4 guns on the north of the enemy's camp. The fight raged from sunrise until one or two o'clock in the afternoon. The rebels, in overwhelming force, charged on Capt. Totten's battery three distinct times, but were repulsed with great slaughter. with great slaughter. General Lyon fell Lard flat at 47s 61. Cotton: The market the day; he had been previously the Kansas regiments having become dis-abled, the toys cried out, "General, you come and lead us on," he did so and at once put himself in front, and while cheering the mon, received a bullet in the right eral Seigel were on the way to Rolla, and breast and fell from his horse. He was asked if he was hurt and replied, "no not much," but in a few moments afterwards he expired without a struggle. General stood that the Washington newspapers will Siegol had a very severe struggle and lost hereafter be required to conform, as far as three of his guns; his artillery horses were ger to subscribers as well as to the friendly shot in their harness and the pieces disabled. He endeavered to haul them off, with a number of prisoners he had taken, but was finally compelled to abandon them, abling the carriages. At about one o'clock the enemy seemed to be in great disorder, ilrst, however, spiking the guns and dis and retreating. Their train of baggage wagons were on fire. Our forces were too much fatigued and cut up to pursue, so that the battle may be considered a draw. The following is a partial list of the killed and wounded on our side:—Captain Gratz, of the 1st Missourt, was killed Gen. Sweeny was wounded in the leg; Col. Mitchell, of the Kansas Volunteers, was seriously wounded; Capt Plummer, of the Regulars, wounded; Capt. Miller, of the lst, seriously wounded; Capt. Cavender was wounded in the shoulder, but rode back on a horse from the battle field to Springfield; Uapt. Burke was slightly wounded; Col. Detzeler was wounded in the left leg, the ball passing through; Capt. McFarlan, of the Kansas 1st Regiment, was wounded, it is supposed mortally, his skull being fractured. The following Lieutenants belonging to the Kansas 1st Regiment, were killed:—Lieut. B. C. Agnall, Company K; Lieut, L. L. Joull, of Capt. Walker's Co.; Lieut. Duer and Lieut. McGanagon, of Captain McCook's Co.; Lieut. B. A. Barker was shot in the left hand. The Miscowii Let. shot in the left hand. The Missouri 1st and Iowa lat suffered the most. General negroes whom they were attempting to night Dr. Marcher and others of our army went back with ambulances to the battle field, from Springfield, to see about the dead and wounded. They found the enemy at the field and were considerately treated Gen. Lyon's body has been treated with great respect and was brought back with some of the wounded to Springfield. Maj. Sturges took command of the battle field after the death of Gen. Lyon: General Siegel took command after the battle. Our loss is variously estimated at from 150 to 300 killed and several hundred wounded. The enemy's loss is placed at 2000 killed and wounded. Our boys captured about 100 horses of the enemy. The enemy carried two flags, the Confederate and the Stars and Stripes. Gen. Siegel marched back to Springfield in good order, after perfecting his arrangements and gathering the baggage, blowing up what powder he could not carry, and the enemy not pursuing.

The only hostility observed during the day was the firing of muskets at the rear guard. General Siegel is confident that he could have held Springfield against the force they had engaged, but he was fearful of reinorcements reaching the enemy from the Southwest, and that his line of communication tion to Rolla would be cut off.
