The "Army Contract Fraud" Case. In the Supreme Court this morning, at ten o'clock, before Chief Justice Lowrig the case of Common wealth vs. Frowenfeld et. al . indicted for conspiracy to defraud the State in the manufacture of army clothing, will be called up. The Commonwealth will, we presume, ask for a further continuance, Sylvester W. THE WHEBLING TRAITORS. -The offi cers who took Burrows and Patch, arrested here on Thursday, to Wheeling, returned on Friday night. They state that the prisoners were at once sent by the authoria ties to Camp Carlile and placed, with other prisoners, under a strong guard. The charge against them is treason, and the specific act making large daggers for the use of the rebels. Burrows, a blacksmith, fashioned rude blades from old files, while Patch fitted handles to them. When financial is a constant of the same rude, but formidable wearons. One of them said they were to be used 'fing outling the handless'. used "in cutting the heads off atolitionists!" These men will probably be tried at the present term of the United States Court for the Wastern District of Virginia, and as the offence is a most aggravated one it may go hard with them.

A SAD CASE On Friday afternoon boy about thirteen years old, named Alford, was found on Grant street, insensibly drunk. He was taken to the Mayor's office, where he remained in a comatose state, until Saturday morning, when he recovered so as to be able to converse. It appears that Alford and a companion ed Hardy purchased a pint of whisky in Birmingham, where they reside, by representing it was wanted to make camphor; they drank the liquor and came to this side, when Alford separated from his companion. A warrant has been issued for the man who sold the liquor.

GRO. QUIGLEY & Co, 56 Fifth street A VIRGINIA SECRESIONISTS SHOT - A correspondent of the Wheeling Press, writing from Ceredo, gives the following: On the 8th inst., Henry Shelton, a violent secessionist, was shot dead by a son of Achilles Fuller, at Shelton's house, near Barboursville, Cabell county, Virginia -Achilles Fuller is a Union man, and one of his sons had been arrested by Shelton id his gang and carried off. Fuller and his other son pursued them to Shelton's house and demanded his release of Shelton, who came out of the house with three thers of his gang, all armed, and cursed Fuller and drew his gun to shoot, him — Fuller attempted to shoot but his gun inger, drew up his gun and shot Shelton. Shelton's men were too much paraly zed to interfere, and Fuller walked off with both his sons. Shelton had once represented Caball country in the Wassing Legislature Cabell county in the Virginia Legislature and was once Sheriff of the county. For some years he has been very intemperate, and recen'ly a violent, reckless seces sionist, a terror to the loyal citizens of the county.

ANOTHER NEW PLAY - 'The Patriot's new scenery has been prepared for it, and aban succeeding him a host of auxiliaries employed to assist in the battle scenes. Among the thrilling scenes it represents are the Signing of the Declaration, the Bombardment of Sumter, Death of Ellaworth, Battle of Bull Run, Fallant Charge of the 69th, &c , closing with the storming of a rebel masked battery at Manassas. The piece is well written, has a good plot and contains some good bits, including one at Russell of the London Times. The following delegates were chosen: Henry Phillips and Jacob Eckert.

Col. Kerr submitted the following, which was unanimously adopted: Resolved, That it is our duty to sustain the administration in its constitutional authority, to crush out rebellion, and the en-
